STATE CANVASS GIVES COWHERD LEAD OF 9,838

FOLK WON BY 30,100

Many Writers in Their Reports Speak of Folk's Advantage Over Stone.

CHANGE IS POSSIBLE

Contest So Close That Slight Waver in Sentiment Would Affect Result.

A canvass of the State of Missouri by counties made by the Post-Dispatch, indicates that Cowherd will be elected Governor by 9838 votes. Gov. Folk's plurality in 1904 was 30,100. The canvass was made by the Post-Dispatch correspondents in every county in the State and is believed to be entirely free from the bias and distortion of prejudice any partisan poll could show.

So close is the race, according to this canvass, that any decided change in favor of the Republican nominee would wipe out the narrow margin of advantage possessed by Mr. Cowherd and result in the defeat of the head of the Democratic State ticket.

While the primary object of the canvass was to get an estimate of the vote for Governor alone, interesting sidelights are cast on races for other offices.

Correspondents of the Post-Dispatch in the 114 counties of the State were instructed to get from the chairmen of the respective Republican county committees and from chairmen of the respective Democratic county committees estimates of the vote of their counties for the two candidates for Governor. Care was taken to impress on the chairmen that they were not to be quoted over their names, and that any "boost" they might give their nominee could in no way work to his advantage.

The correspondent was instructed to take two estimates and with the assistance of whatever information he might have of his own bearing of the situation arrive at a forecast of the vote as nearly accurate as could be made two weeks before the election.

Explanations Were Sought.

It is these final forecasts of the vote which have been used in making the Post-Dispatch estimate.

The correspondent, in his capacity of Post-Dispatch reporter, has no politics. All phases of every question must be given with equal fairness. Possibly half of the men working on this poll will vote the Republican ticket in November. In a matter of figures all partisanship can be eliminated, but in the comments made the faint thread of political belief can be seen.

Summary of Correspondents' Ideas.

If a composite photograph of the replies from correspondents with Republican leanings could be made, and the photograph rendered into English, it probably would read:

"Bryan will get some Republican votes in this county, but Hadley will get more Democratic votes. Democrats are dissatisfied with the manner in which Cowherd got the nomination and they fear he is too closely associated with the corporation element in St. Louis and Kansas City."

The correspondent who is a Democrat outside of working hours writes in effect:

"Hadley will run ahead of his ticket in this county, but Bryan will poll a record Democratic vote. Taft is unpopular, while Bryan is stronger than ever."

COMMENTS ON GUBERNATORIAL CAMPAIGN FROM COUNTIES

CAPE GIRARDEAU.

"From the open assertions of Democrats, both townsmen and farmers in all parts of the county, that they would support Hadley because of Cowherd's presumed connection with the 'old gang,' it seems a certainty that Hadley will poll a large number of votes usually Democratic.

"On the other hand there are a few saloonkeepers in this city who are opposing Hadley for his Joe Folk ideas. That loss to Hadley will not amount to much, it is believed. There will be a heavy vote polled, according to the county chairmen."

CEDAR.

"It seems that party lines will be tightly drawn in the vote for Governor, but there are many Republicans in the county who have indicated to me that they are going to vote for Bryan for President. I have heard of no Democrats who are going to vote for Hadley, or for Taft."

GRUNDY.

"Cowherd will probably run 150 votes behind his ticket on account of the reform sentiment in Hadley's favor and,

STRAUS CALLS LABOR SITUATION "GREATLY MIXED"

Oscar S. Straus, Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor, arrived in St. Louis at 1:45 p. m. Wednesday and walked up and down the Union Station midway for several minutes before the Reception Committee appointed to welcome him reached the station.

They had expected him to come from Terre Haute on a train due to arrive at 1:53 and scheduled as 27 minutes late, but he had come on another line.

When asked by a Post-Dispatch reporter how the labor vote would go in the coming election, he said:

"The labor situation is greatly mixed. Gompers has done much to mix it up. But I believe Taft will be elected, by a plurality larger than those of McKinley, though not so large as Roosevelt's."

Wife His Protector.

He left the station in company with Charles A. Stix, dry goods merchant and Republican candidate for the City Council, and was taken in Mr. Stix's automobile to the Planters Hotel. Robert C. Day, B. J. Taussig and J. H. Dieckman accompanied them to the hotel. They were members of the Reception Committee.

Mrs. Straus, a very pretty young woman, urged the committee to see that the Secretary was allowed time for a brief rest before his speech Wednesday night.

"For if you let him," she said, "he will talk politics all the afternoon and never take a rest at all. And I came along just to see that he should get plenty of sleep and three square meals a day."

The committee assured Mrs. Straus that they would at least look after the square meals.

SAFE BLOWERS FLEE AS RUBES ARREST SLEUTH

Accused Because He Sat With His Prisoner Near Scene of Explosion.

SHOCK WAKES VILLAGE

Citizens of Crystal City (Mo.) Learn Error When Detective Shows Star.

While Detective Frank McKenna of St. Louis and James McKee, a prisoner whom he was bringing to this city to answer a larceny charge, were sitting on the depot platform at Crystal City, Mo., at 2 a. m. Wednesday, awaiting a train, there was a loud explosion in the general store of Johnson Bros., across the street from the depot.

An instant later a window went up over an adjacent store and a man, leaning out, began firing a revolver. An answering volley came from another window, and in a few minutes most of the men of the town were on the street, clad in night clothes and looking for safe blowers.

"There they be!" cried one excited man, pointing to McKenna and his prisoner, seated under a dim lamp on the station platform. And the angry men at once surrounded the pair.

Detective Is Captured.

"Surrender!" shouted one man, thrusting a six-shooter under McKenna's nose. Another man "covered" the detective's frightened companion.

"Anything you like, gentlemen," said McKenna. "But while you're fooling with us, your safeblowers, if there are any, are getting away."

Then, his every movement under careful and trigger-finger guard, he was allowed to show his detective's star. The other man assured the crowd that their relations were those of prisoner and captor. But the citizens of Crystal City would not be convinced, until McKenna showed Police Department correspondence.

Told Not to Return.

When the Frisco train reached the station, some of the citizens were in favor of holding McKenna and the other man, but the majority decided to let them go. "And don't you come back," was the shout as the two boarded the train.

There have been several robberies by safeblowers in and about the towns of Crystal City and Festus. McKenna did not learn, in the tumult attending his departure, whether anything was taken from the Johnson store, or what the nature of the explosion there was.

TROLLEY LEAPS TRACK, WOMEN PATIENTS HURT

Twenty passengers, the greater number being patients on their way to physicians' offices for treatment, were badly shaken, and a few were slightly injured, when a northbound Bellefontaine car jumped the track because of a broken and sunken rail joint, at Eleventh and Angelica streets at noon Wednesday. The car struck a telephone pole and the front vestibule was splintered. The motorman, Frank Breece, escaped injury by jumping.

At almost the moment the car left the track it struck the automobile of Dr. W. F. Martin, 4042 North Eleventh street, which was standing on the track and damaged it $300. Dr. Martin was unhurt.

The car then ran across the street until it came to a stop with a crash against a telephone pole. The pole was broken in two.

Persons in the neighborhood, attracted by the noise and the cries of the women passengers, helped them from the car and directed them to the office of Dr. Martin, where they were given temporary treatment.

Many Women Injured.

Among those who suffered severe nervous shocks or were slightly injured are:

Mrs. Estelle Graham, 2248 L street, Granite City.

Mrs. Annie Byrnes, 3619 North Eleventh street.

Mrs. Eva Bernard, 1115 North Compton avenue.

Mrs. Emma Taylor, 1313 Gold street, Belleville.

Mrs. Clara Richter, 2406 Klein street.

Mrs. Frances Dowling, 2520 Glasgow avenue.

Mrs. Lena Balthaser, 1207 West Main street, Belleville.

Physicians who treated the women say Mrs. Graham was the most seriously hurt. She was operated on a week ago and an incision in her side was opened by the jar of the car and the telephone pole. After temporary treatment by Dr. Martin she was sent to the home of Mrs. Mamie Dates, 2045 Obear street.

Residents of the neighborhood say the track has been in a very bad condition at the place where the accident occurred for many months. The rail has long been broken and one portion was at least two inches below the other.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO WEAR A DRESS SUIT AT HORSE SHOW; THAT'S OFFICIAL

You can go as far as you like at the Horse Show, whether you have on a dress suit or not. Evening garb will be a la mode, but not de rigeur. This goes for every one of the six nights, Oct. 26-31, says Max R. Orthwein, president of the show.

The directors of the show have been deluged, Mr. Orthwein says, with requests that men not wearing dress suits be kept off the promenade in the New Coliseum. But those who have been doing the deluging have not offered any guarantee that the dress suit contingent will fill the promenade. And, besides, the Horse Show is for the people—not merely the pee-pul that politicians talk about, but the real people, and it is not going to have any rules that will shut out any part of the people who can pay the price of admission.

Someone signing himself "Commoner" wrote to the Post-Dispatch, protesting against the plan which, he understood, was to be followed. Mr. Orthwein says "Commoner" was mistaken in thinking he will not be welcome on the promenade, or in any other part of the show if he wears a sack coat.

IMMORAL LABEL ON GIN BOTTLES CAUSES ARREST

Adolph Asher and Lee Levy Are Held by Federal Grand Jury.

A CAMPAIGN ISSUE

Charge Made in Tennessee Contest That Liquor Picture Incited Negroes.

Adolph Asher of the firm of Lee Levy & Co., wholesale liquor dealers, at 200 Market street, was arrested Wednesday morning by United States Deputy Marshal Williams, on two indictments returned by the Federal grand jury against Asher and Levy, charging them with sending improper matter through the mails and by express in violation of the insterstate commerce and postal laws.

When seen at his office, Asher told a Post-Dispatch reporter that the specific offense charged in the indictments against Levy and himself is the mailing of advertising blotters, bearing a label, which, he said, the firm discontinued last June, after the agitation in Tennessee.

Levy was not in his office and could not be seen. He has not been arrested, though Marshal Williams has a warrant for him.

Politics the Cause.

The indictment follows disclosures of the Carmack-Patterson campaign in Tennessee, in which the Patterson faction accused the Carmack men of putting into the hands of negroes a gin sent out by the Levy company, which placed on its bottles a label which aroused the negroes to commit crime.

Levy and Asher were indicted by a State grand jury in Chattanooga several months ago, but they were never arrested on the indictments.

Collier's Weekly recently devoted considerable attention to the Levy company and its brand of gin, and severely scored Ditsrict Attorney Blodgett in St. Louis for failure to proceed against the company. At the first grand jury after the evidence was brought to his attention the District Attorney obtained an indictment.

The case was called to the attention of Collier's by the arrest of a negro charged with a heinous offense. In his possession was found a bottle of Levy's gin. It bore a label of a woman and wording which, Collier's said, was calculated to arouse the negroes to crime.

The indictments found by the grand jury charge Levy and Asher with sending through the express the bottles bearing objectionable labels and objectionable advertising matter, and with sending through the mails objectionable letters telling where such objectionable matter could be obtained.

Judge Dyer placed the bond on each indictment at $6000 for each defendant.

"The firm discontinued the use of the old label last June, when such a fuss was raised down in Tennessee," Asher said. "As soon as that trouble came up we adopted a new label, and have used it ever since."

DAUGHTER OF SENATOR BRIDE OF A DESERTER

Arrest of Navy Musician Discloses Wedding to Miss Ada Gorman.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 21.—In the Jefferson County Jail here is Joseph Magnus, charged with being a deserter from the United States navy, and who claims to be the husband of Miss Ada Gorman, second daughter of the late United States Senator Arthur Pue Gorman of Maryland.

Magnus admits that he is a deserter and asserts that he married Senator Gorman's daughter in Louisville Sept. 5.

When Magnus, or Hartlove, as he was known in the navy, was taken from his room at the Seelbach Hotel, he denied strenuously that he was either Magnus, Hartlove or the husband of Miss Gorman. Later he admitted all.

Had $6000 in Pockets.

When searched it was found that Magnus had eighteen $1000 Government bonds and about $6000 in cash in his possession. Mrs. Magnus was at the Seelbach last night, but could not be found today.

Magnus, who enlisted under the name of Hartlove, was a first-class musician in the navy and on board the United States steamship Dolphin.

On Sept. 13, it is stated, there appeared in a Washington (D. C.) paper a story of the rumored marriage of Miss Ada Gorman to J. C. Hartlove at Louisville, Ky., and this clew, it is stated, was used by Lieutenant-Commander Washington of the Dolphin to learn the whereabouts of Magnus.

HOW WILL WE PAY THREE CENTS AS WE ENTER?
OCT 21st 08

"Well," said the policeman, "it was a great parade we had yesterday."

"Yes, it was fine," said the letter carrier, "but who was protecting the people's money, and property while you were marching?"

"Sure, and don't you know the old saying, 'Take care of the coppers and the dollars will take care of themselves?'"

Here is that forecast again: "Showers tonight and Thursday, cooler Thursday; south winds becoming variable."

There have been rains in West and North Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. An area of low pressure is moving up from Texas and it is expected to break the local drouth.

The river stage at St. Louis is 2.4, a fall of .1.

Missouri—Showers tonight and possibly Thursday; cooler Thursday and in northwestern portion tonight.

SEES HIS FRIEND LYNCHED; ESCAPES AS MOB QUARRELS

LEAPED INTO LAKE; MOB EMPTIED GUNS AT HIM

Wandered in Forest Until Hunger Drove Him to Farmhouse---Says Assailants Were Fishermen Who Wanted "Concessions"---Governor Orders Militia Out.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 21.—While a mob of masked men who had just lynched his law partner were quarreling over his own fate, Col. R. Z. Taylor broke away from his guards, threw himself into a lake and swam to safety, while his enemies emptied their rifles at him. He wandered in a forest from midnight Monday until today, when he applied to a farmer for food and was taken to Tiptonville, under a pledge of protection by the Governor.

Col. Taylor and Capt. Quinton Rankin were taken from a hotel at Walnut Log Monday night by a mob of fishermen, who demanded concessions for free fishing on Reelfoot Lake. Capt. Rankin was hanged to an oak tree and then shot to death. Col. Taylor was powerless to help him. After the lynching the mob members quarreled, some advocating Col. Taylor's death and others insisting that he be held for ransom. While they were disputing the prisoner escaped.

Taylor Describes Experience.

This is Col. Taylor's story of his experience:

"Of course," he said, "the outrage was perpetrated because we are stockholders in and represent the Reelfoot Fishing Co., which has sole fishing rights on Reelfoot Lake and has enjoined fishing by private parties, unless the catch is sold to the Reelfoot Fishing Co. It has always been a source of trouble, but Capt. Rankin and I thought feeling had died down and we went to Walnut Log to see about some repairs.

"We reached Walnut Log late Monday afternoon, had supper and retired early. The next we knew was when someone knocked at the door. Before we could open it, the door was battered down, and masked men filed in, pushing in front of them an unmasked man—Ed Powell, a farmer of that neighborhood. He had been yanked out of bed and forced to accompany the mob. They used him as a shield.

Made Them Dress Fully.

"The masked men with drawn revolvers told us to dress. We did. When we had on our coats, trousers and shoes we announced we were ready, but they made us put on collars and ties and one of them brushed some dust off our coats.

"After that we were taken downstairs and bound. Then we were put on horseback and taken to the lake, a mile or so distant. It was then long after midnight.

"We were lifted off the horse and untied. Two men held me, and two men held my unfortunate law partner.

"The mob seemed to have arranged just what to do, for one of them produced a noosed rope and placed it around Rankin's neck. He struggled some, but was choked and struck on the head. It must have rendered him unconscious, for he ceased to struggle and the noose was then adjusted and he was hanged to a nearby oak. It was horrible for me to be there and unable to do anything to help my best friend.

Hanged, Then Shot.

"After he had been swinging for four or five minutes, two or three of the brutes drew revolvers and fired into his body. After they were satisfied he was dead, they turned their attention to me.

"Some favored hanging and others held out that Capt. Rankin's death would be a horrible example to other stockholders in the Reelfoot Fishing Co. and that they would be glad to buy my freedom by conceding free fishing on the lake.

"But those who favored hanging argued that they could not keep me captive without my having a good idea where my prison was located and that once free the law, thus supplied with a good clew would run them down and punish them for Rankin's murder.

"That argument seemed to be winning, and I realized that I must make a dash for liberty. Dawn was just beginning to break and I knew I would make a good target, but when the discussion waxed hottest I broke from my two captors and dashed through the forest as fast as my legs would carry me.

"I heard one of them say: 'Take your time, boys; he is old and can't run far.'

"So they did not try very hard. I fooled them by plunging into a bayou leading from the lake. I suppose they thought I could not swim, but I used to be a crack swimmer and stayed under water as long as I could stand it.

"When I came up they fired at me, but my head was all I showed up above the surface. I was growing weak and had to get out. As soon as I stepped on the opposite bank the masked men fired a volley. I was not hit, but I threw up both hands, reeled, straightened, reeled again and fell face downward, partly behind a small log. I thought my ruse had failed, for they fired again at me, but again I escaped.

"Then they must have feared that their shots had aroused neighbors, for they departed, leaving me for dead. Fortunately none of them crossed the bayou. I lay inert until the sun was shining and then rose cautiously, fearing they might have left a guard. No one bothered me and I painfully made my way through the woods.

"My wet clothes had brought on a touch of rheumatism, but I dared not go on the road, but stuck to the forest all day. I did not know the country and did not know which way I was wandering. Last night I slept in the woods, and this morning again started my painful trip and finally ventured onto a public road.

"I had not eaten since Monday night, but kept right by farmhouses, not daring to ask for food for fear of encountering enemies. The ravages of hunger became too much and I entered a farmhouse a little after 8 o'clock and begged for food.

"The farmer had heard of the lynching and guessed who I was. I told him the particulars, and after my bruises had been dressed I was driven to Tiptonville, where I phoned my loved ones that I was safe."

Two companies of the State Guard are marching overland from Union City to Walnut Log and Reelfoot Lake. Gov. Patterson is on the way to Tiptonville to hear Judge Taylor's story.

Gov. Patterson has issued the following statement:

"I have offered the largest reward the law will permit for the arrest and conviction of the assassins and have ordered out troops. I have believed that the military should be the last resort of a State governed by law, but the time has now come when it is my duty as Governor to use all the power at my command to restore order in the region where the assassination occurred, and to assist the courts in the apprehension and the punishment of the perpetrators.

Both Had Been Warned.

The mob is supposed to have been composed of fishermen living along Reelfoot Lake. Their rights recently had been curtailed by the Western Tennessee Land Co., which acquired the title to the lake and exacted a large fee for fishing privileges. Col. Taylor and Capt. Rankin were heavy stockholders in the land company and had been warned that their lives were in danger.

Reelfoot Lake was formed by the earthquake of 1811, and since has been one of the most famous fishing lakes in the country. Several years ago individuals set up claims to exclusive rights in fishing there and from that time on the courts have been clogged with lawsuits.

Finally the Reelfoot Fishing Club, composed of sportsmen from Chicago, New York, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Louisville and other cities, was organized and leased fishing privileges from the West Tennessee Land Co.

This lease was declared valid by Circuit Judge Harris, who held that fishermen must sell their catches to the Reelfoot Lake Fishing Co. This aroused bitter feelings, and efforts have been made to drain the lake. Judge Harris has been shot at twice, and, it is declared, never sleeps under his own roof at night, fearing assassination.

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives or publishes news gathered by the Associated Press.

HE IS NOT A WITNESS

Unofficially Explained That His Testimony Might Injure Republican Candidate.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The Post-Dispatch is in a position to state positively that George R. Sheldon, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, was associated with Charles W. Morse in at least one of his ice pools and moreover, got out of it with large profits.

The Post-Dispatch is also in a position to state positively that the documents which show Mr. Sheldon to have been a member of Morse's ice pool and which also show his profits, are in possession of the United States officials who are prosecuting Morse and Curtis.

Why Mr. Sheldon was not called to tell on the witness stand of his connection with one of the ice pools, characterized by Judge Hough as "an association of adventurers" and placed on the same level with John F. Carroll, Isaac Guggenheim, John W. Gates and Charles M. Schwab, has not been explained.

Unofficial explanations are to the effect that it would do the candidacy of Mr. Taft no good if it came out at this juncture of the presidential contest that his collector of campaign funds was associated with Morse in the ice pools and emerged a winner, whereas others came out losers.

Other Republicans Implicated.

How many other eminent Republicans lined up with Morse in his great stock speculations whose identity is being kept hidden as a matter of political expediency is not known, but it is said there are others behind Mr. Sheldon.

The Roosevelt administration is known to be keeping the closest possible watch on the prosecution of Morse, the whole thing being directed by Attorney General Bonaparte, head of the Department of Justice. It is also no secret that it was planned to have the trial completed and a conviction made, if possible, before election, because of its supposed vote-getting effect on the administration's candidate, Mr. Taft.

The original plan was to have the trial of three industrial "kings" completed before election to show the vigor of the Roosevelt policies. Morse, the "ice king," was the first slated for trial; F. Augustus Heinze, the "copper king," is the second, and Theodore Price, the "cotton king," the third.

Heinze and Price, however, cannot now be tried until after election, notwithstanding the tremendous efforts of United States District Attorney Stimson, former law partner of Secretary of State Elihu Root, to get the cases prepared.

Mr. Stimson succeeded Mr. Root as counsel for the National Bank of North America, the Morse Bank.

Bank Lawyers Know Things.

Counsel for a bank usually knows all that goes on within such an institution, and is supposed to advise its officers if any transgressions of law are committed or contemplated.

In preparing the present case against Morse, the Federal attorney forced the brokers to open their books and reveal every transaction he had with them in this ice deal. They showed that Morse worked the price of ice stock from 25½ up to 96, trading in more than a million and a half of shares, but rarely having more than 130,000 on hand all the time.

The big pool was originally limited to 100,000 shares. By carefully distributing buying and selling orders, sometimes at the identical price, Morse gradually worked the price of the stock up. He would take profits at times as he went along, and at other times he would have breaking because of the pressure exerted by other sellers.

The trial will probably continue for a week or more.

Moxey Defends Sheldon.

Coincident with the opening of the case before Judge Hough this morning, Edward P. Moxey, chief investigator for the Government, issued an unqualified denial of the report that George R. Shelden had been a party to one of Morse's pools in "frozen water."

"There is absolutely no evidence upon which such a report could be based," said Moxey. "Take that from me, and I certainly would know it if there was a scrap of evidence to indicate his involvement."

John E. Fensler, assistant examiner for the Government, was the first witness called. His testimony had to do with the technical tracing of alleged "kited loans."

The astonishing parallel of the raid on Ice stock was the gradual assimilation of the shares of the National Bank of North America through alleged "dummy" loans to Katherine A. Wilson, secretary to Charles W. Morse, Wesley Oler and other "straw" clients.

Bank Lost the Interest.

Through the tracing of these loans, said to aggregate more than $1,500,000, the Government expects to prove that Morse, through the manipulation of these demand loans to employes and assistants, realized approximately the face value in cash, which was subsequently invested in the stock of the National Bank of North America.

Tracing of these loans by Feinsler tends to prove that no interest accrued to the bank. In almost every instance, according to Feinsler's testimony, the notes of one employe were wiped out on maturity by similar loans to other employes or associates—sometimes Mrs. Katherine Gelshenen.

Loans to Katherine Wilson amounting to $63,430.37, secured by "ice stock," are shown by Feinsler's testimony thus far to have been wiped out by an identical loan of $63,406.25 to Katherine Gelshenen. The total loss to the National Bank of North America from April 1 to Oct. 1, 1907, in unpaid interest and discounts is shown by Feinsler's testimony to have been $183,289.08.

Frank Williams, discount clerk of the defunct Morse bank, followed the Government examiner. The introduction of the name of John A. Sleicher, editor of Leslie's Weekly, as a borrower from the Morse institution occasioned no little surprise. His name was introduced in connection with a loan of $27,000.

Heavy Losses by Millionaires.

Among the prominent men who have testified that they were in the Morse ice pools were John W. Gates, Charles M. Schwab and John F. Carroll. Gates and Schwab admitted having suffered losses but they said Morse had reasons for believing that the stock would go higher and in their testimony they tried to shield him.

Carroll, who has been prominently identified with Tammany Hall and was close to Richard Croker in the old days, showed some bitterness against Morse though the Ice King's friendship made the politician a multimillionaire. Carroll admitted that many of the transactions were carried on without his putting up a dollar, the money for the deals being advanced by Morse.

All of the pool members lost enormous sums, including Morse himself. The stock cost an average of $67.08. Since the recent panic it has sold down to $8 and is now selling at $26. Most of them carried 20,000 shares each. At today's prices each of the 20,000-share members, if he still holds his shares, has a loss of $821,000, and if he sold at the low price of the panic his loss was nearly $1,200 000.

MRS. LAMBERT TELLS OF ROSES LEFT BY SPIRITS

St. Louis Woman Is Not a Spiritualist But She Has Been Puzzled By Many Incidents In Her Own Home.

Mrs. Helen Lambert, wife of Jordan W. Lambert, one of the rich men of St. Louis, says that she is not a Spiritualist and she denies that spooks haunt her beautiful home in the Westminster Apartments at 4401 McPherson avenue. But she says she has experienced many phenomena which she does not understand and for which she can make no explanation.

These experiences include apparent messages from the deal, the materialization of roses in her own home, occult interference to protect her young son from danger and annoyance and various other occurrences.

"I have been for many years a member of the American Society for Psychical Research and the London society, but I am not a spiritualist, as the term is popuarly known," said Mrs. Lambert to a Post-Dispatch reporter Wednesday. "The report of the warning given us of the visit of a burglar to our apartment, as published in the Post-Dispatch last night, is true. It is the report of the occurrence I sent to Prof. Hyslop of New York for embodiment in the proceedings of the society and was not intended for general publicity.

"I have been a searcher for psychic truth for several years and I do not understand the phenomena which have come under my observation any more than you or any other person. I know Prof. Hyslop, and at his request I have sent him reports.

Hannegan Not a Medium.

"The reports which have just been given publicity by Prof. Hyslop of psychic phenomena which have occurred in my house were the result of experiments made through the mediumship of Will Hannegan, a young man employed as a trained nurse to look after our son 'Junior.'

"Mr. Hannegan is not a 'spiritualistic medium,' as the term is generally used, and has never received any remuneration for what he has done for me. Whenever I have asked him to exercise his peculiar faculty as a medium between his guide, Joe Wentworth, an Englishman who died 300 years ago, and the material world, he has always done so, and sometimes he has unconsciously manifested his relation pyschically in the most marvelous way."

Mr. Lambert returned to the city Wednesday morning and was present at the interview, which is the first that Mrs. Lambert has consented to give to a newspaper.

Can Write in the Dark.

"Let me tell you about Will Hannegan," said Mr. Lambert, interrupting his wife. "Hannegan is a boy, although he is 26 years old. He is adverse to displaying his ability which he discovered in a purely accidental way. He does not know how he does it, but he can write messages from his guide, Joe Wentworth, in the dark with a pencil and faster than an expert can on a typewriter. He was formerly employed in my office and when he had qualified himself as a trained nurse he took charge of my son as companion.

"Hannegan has never been permitted to read any of the numerous works on psychology and knows nothing of psychic research. He really dislikes to exercise his powers.

"One night he was in my office with me. It was a dark and stormy night and as he laid his hand on a table it moved away from him. He was terrified at the supernatural manifestation. Some time later he was at a meeting where several people were trying to get tests of writing and left the table in disgust and went to a corner of the room, where he sat reading a book. Suddenly the table left its place where the others were and moved to where he was and he began to write without his volition.

"He is positively sincere and has never received a dollar for what he has done in this line and he says he never will."

"We have had many experiences which we have sent to Prof. Hyslop to be embodied in the proceedings of the society," continued Mrs. Lambert, taking up the thread of the story where her husband left off. "The story of the two white roses is true in every particular. We have a friend, R. H. Dreyer, who lives now in San Diego, Cal.

"Formerly he lived in St. Louis, where he had an office in the Rialto Building. When his wife died he went to California to live.

"One night when I had asked Will Hannegan to try to communicate with the dead wife for Mr. Dreyer. Will's guide commanded that the room be made dark, which was done. In a few moments the command came to turn up the lights. When they were turned on two beautiful, dazzling white roses lay on the table.

"There was not a flower in the house when the lights were turned down. One of the roses was sent to Mr. Dreyer.

"I could not identify the roses with any grown in St. Louis. The time they came was in the cold spring when only crocuses and tulips were growing outside. A florist to whom I took them said that they were remarkable for their purity and whiteness and that he had never seen their like before.

Ball Stuck to Bare Wall.

"Last summer at Narragansett Will and Junior were together on the lawn in front of the house. The boy was throwing a ball against the wall of the house. I was sitting in an upstairs window. Suddenly I heard my son call to me to see what had become of the ball. I went downstairs and saw the ball sticking against the wall a foot below my window.

"I went up and picked the ball from the wall and thew it down to them. It was not sticking to a nail or splinter or anything artificial to hold it there. How do I explain its adhesion to the wall with no apparent reason? I don't try to account for it. I simply relate it as a remarkable circumstance.

Son Saved Many Times.

"No seances, as they are known, have been held in my house for the purpose of holding communication with spirits by people in society. I am not a society woman and I belong to no cult. I am simply doing all I can in the line of psychical research. My son is clairvoyant and he and Will Hannegan are in accord.

"I might relate many instances of how my boy has been saved and served. He started away from home one day without his ball. It was locked in the boathouse. A few minutes later he felt his pocket and it was there, and several pears which he had had there were gone.

"He escaped being hit on the head by a foul ball at a game he was watching by hearing a voice and turning swiftly. The ball passed over the place where his head had been a moment before with force enough to have brained him.

"No doubt these manifestations happen to other people, but either they do not observe them or they are too cowardly of publicity to tell about them. Publicity is the penalty one pays for original research along any line."

LEFT ON HER DOOR STEP FOR THIS MOTHER

Mrs. A. G. Tuson, of Livermore, Cal., writes: I picked up from my doorstep one day a little book in which I soon became very much interested. My little girl of five years of age had been troubled for a long time with loss of appetite, extreme nervousness and undue fatigue. She was all rundown and in a very delicate condition.

"This little book was very comprehensively written, and told of the new method of extracting the medicinal elements of the cod's liver from the oil, eliminating the obnoxious oil which is so hard for children to take.

"'Just the thing,' said I, 'for my little daughter,' and I immediately went for a bottle of Vinol. It helped her wonderfully. She has gained rapidly in flesh and strength, and she does not take cold half so easily.

"I am extremely grateful for the good it has done her, and I hope other mothers who have weak, delicate or ailing children will be benefited by my experience and just give Vinol a trial."

VINOL is sold in St. Louis by Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., Cor. 6th and Washington av.

TWIN BOYS ILL BEG TO WORK TO SUPPORT MOTHER

On Adjoining Cots in City Hospital They Fear for Her.

Hobart and Tammas Paterson, twins, 14 years old, both in the City Hospital suffering from diphtheria, could not be comforted Wednesday when they thought of their widowed mother at home alone at 5711 Kennerly avenue, deprived of their earnings as messenger boys.

Tammas, who was put to bed Wednesday morning when he went to visit his twin brother, struggled and protested.

"You must let me go," he cried. "My mother hasn't anything but what we earn. Hobart is sick and I'll have to stay at work."

Hospital physicians and nurses told him not to worry, that they would see the mother did not come to grief. But Tammas would not dry his tears. He did not want to leave to others the task he and his twin brother had been shouldering so bravely.

The mother, Mrs. C. E. Paterson, did not know Hobart had diphtheria when she took him to the hospital Monday. She told the physicians that he had tonsilitis, that she had applied home remedies and that he was "about well." The doctors quickly saw, however, that he had diphtheria and rushed him off to bed.

Wednesday morning Tammas was sent by his mother to inquire as to Hobart's condition. Dr. Kirchner looked at Tammas' throat. Then he ordered him, too, put to bed.

Tammas was given a cot alongside that occupied by Hobart. The two brothers were grief-stricken when Tammas informed Hobart that their mother was now deprived of the companship and earnings of them both.

The boys, before their illness, were employed together as messengers for an optical company. Hobart's condition is critical.

PETTIS.

"Both parties claim the county. It will be close. Roosevelt and Folk carried it in 1904. Democrats claim 200 votes remained away from the polls that year, but all will be in line Nov. 3. Republicans claim more than 100 Democrats will vote for Hadley. I believe he will carry the county by 200 or more."

DICKEY: "FIGURES ARE JOKE;" M'DAVID: "THEY'RE TOO LOW"

Chairman Dickey of the Republican State Committee said: "The figures showing Cowherd's election by 9938 are a joke. The statement that Cowherd will carry Kanasas City by 1000 is also a joke. We have the figures, but we do not care to give out our information."

Senator McDavid, speaking for the Democratic State Committee, said: "The figures are away too low. We do not expect Cowherd to run very far behind Bryan. We have accurate information from all parts of the State, but do not care to make it public."

SOLDIER AND HIS ROBBER REACH POLICE AT THE SAME TIME

"He Stole My Watch," Says Victim and It Is Found in Negro's Sock.

Private Thomas Quinlan of Company 15, in command of Capt. Turner at Jefferson Barracks, was telling Lieut. Hess of Central Police District how he had been robbed of a gold watch and chain Tuesday night when Policeman Beccard walked into the station leading Edward Pope, a negro.

"That's the robber," exclaimed Quinlan, pointing to Pope, "he's the fellow that got my watch and chain."

Pope was searched and a watch and chain were taken from one of his socks. As they answered in detail a description which Quinlan had previously furnished the property was handed over to him and Pope was locked up on a charge of robbery.

Quinlan says Pope stopped him at Seventh and Spruce streets and asked what time it was. When Quinlan drew his watch from his pocket, he said, Pope snatched it and ran. Policeman Beccard saw Pope at Eighth street and Clark avenue a short time later carrying a suitcase with the name "Edward Meyer" on it. Pope could not explain his possession of the case and Beccard took him to the station.

STARVES IN CALIFORNIA DESERT; LEAVES GRAPHIC NOTE IN HUT

Old Time Miner Chronicles Dying Agonies 30 Miles From Other Humans.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 21.—Writing down the story of his long suffering before the end approached, B. T. Pratt, an old-time miner, has died of starvation on the Inyo County Desert, according to G. W. Lewis, who arrived here from a prospecting trip today. The man died in a hut 30 miles from a human habitation.

Lewis found the man's emaciated body in the hut and beside it a notebook containing a graphic account of Pratt's suffering and dying agonies, scribbled by himself.

A paragraph in the book stated that Pratt has three brothers now living. They are C. H. Pratt of Banner Springs, Kan. E. B. Pratt of St. Louis, and W. R. Pratt of Custer County, Wyoming.

FABULOUS GOLD MINE REPORTED

Town of 700 Miners Springs Up in Single Night.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 21.—A new gold field, alleged to be of fabulous richness, has been discovered on the prairie in New Mexico 200 miles west of El Paso, Tex., and hundreds of miners are now rushing to the scene, according to advices received here today. On a spot where not a soul lived a week ago a thriving town has sprung up. It has been named Sylvanite, and already has a population of 700.

The vein of gold there is so rich, says the reports, that pure nuggets have been found on the surface of the ground.

WOMEN PRAYING FOR ACTRESS

Blanche Deyo, Salome Dancer, Gets W. C. T. U. Attention.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 21.—Prayers for the salvation of Blanche Deyo, who did the Salome dance at the Duquesne Theater last week, will be offered up by every member of the East End W. C. T. U.

The organization so decided at a meeting after a vote of thanks had been tendered Public Safety Director Edward G. Lanag for his suppression of the dance in cobweb costume.

WOMAN SCATTERS BAD CHECKS

In Carriage She Makes Purchases, Then Disappears.

The police are looking for an elderly woman, who, giving her name as "Mrs. M. L. Marrion," hired a carriage from the Keyes & Marshall Livery Co., 1100 St. Ange avenue, drove to the A. Moll grocery store and ordered $9 worth of goods, and then ordered $52 worth of furniture from the Union House Furnishing Co., paying for both purchases with worthless checks.

Harry Taylor, foreman of the livery company, told the police the woman was staying on Chouteau avenue near Twelfth street, when she hired the carriage, but she has since moved away. No one in the neighborhood of Twelfth street and Chouteau avenue knows the woman. She lived there only a few days, they said.

OLEOMARGARINE DEALER FINED

Texan Pays Evaded Tax of $1476 and Penalty of $100.

E. D. Hinton, whose supply of 15,000 pounds of oleomargarine was seized in Galveston, Tex., in February by United States revenue officers, was fined $100 by Judge Dyer in the United States District Court Wednesday on an indictment charging him with failing to pay the proper tax.

Hinton entered a plea of guilty through his attorney, Horace L. Dyer, and District Attorney Blodgett recommended the fine. Hinton paid the tax, amounting to $1476, and the fine and costs.

BRYAN MAKES A PREDICTION

Expects to Carry Ohio and Indiana and Hopes for New York.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—John E. Lamb, vice-chairman of the Democratic campaign committee, said today: "Mr. Bryan told me Monday night he would carry Nebraska to a certainty and Colorado and Montana were also certain to go Democratic. He said all of his information from Ohio and Indiana tended to indicate that he would carry those two States without a doubt and his reports from New York are extremely encouraging.

"'Colorado will go Democratic,' Mr. Bryan said, 'by a majority of 15,000 to 20,000.' We did not take up any other states than those I have mentioned."

A Post-Dispatch Cartoonist's Suggestion for Taking Care of Hats at Women's Conventions

Nominations of officers to be voted on at the election Thursday were made Wednesday morning by the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, in session at East St. Louis. The nominations were:

For president, Mrs. Francis D. Everett of Chicago.

For corresponding secretary, Mrs. Edward L. Mursey of Chicago, Mrs. Moses Weinberg of Monmouth, and Mrs. J. W. Rendleman of East St. Louis.

For treasurer, Mrs. Howard Wilson of Virden, Mrs. Olive J. Lackland of Harrisburg, Miss Kate O'Connor of Rockford, Mrs. Richard A. Young of Casey, and Mrs. Copeland of Lebanon.

For general federation State secretary, Mrs. Katherine S. Westfall of Chicago.

For secretary, Mrs. Finis P. Ernest of East St. Louis.

Women Eschew Politics.

Although the delegates were exceedingly busy with the political affairs of their own, and greatly interested in the selection of the federation officers, they would not discuss national politics or give any definite answers concerning their preferences for President, when requested to do so by a Post-Dispatch reporter.

"O, I guess we'd all vote like our husbands do," said one woman smiling.

Another suggested that the best looking candidate would get a majority of the women's votes. But nobody would commit herself specifically.

The proposition to hold biennial instead of annual conventions provoked a lively discussion, and, though a majority favored the change in the bylaws, the proposition lost because it failed of the necessary two-thirds to amend the laws. A majority of seven voted for the change.

Attend a "Civic Luncheon."

At 12:30 p. m. Wednesday the delegates were entertained by the Civics Committee at a "civic luncheon" at the Hotel Royal. Informal discussions of a number of civic topcs were on the program, as follows:

Problems of the street, neighborhood improvement clubs, protective leagues, the smoke nuisance, patriotic observance of a sane Fourth of July, and the Chicago Woman's Outdoor Art League. The last-named topic included a discussion of Arbor Day, vacant lots, playgrounds and billboards.

At 3 p. m. a trolley ride to Monks' Mound had been arranged, a lecturer to be on hand to give such history of the mound as has been formulated.

The federation Wednesday pledged itself to advocate and work for the passage of a State law prohibiting fraternities and sororities in the high schools and public schools of Illinois.

The question was brought up by club women from Chicago, who declared that such organizations had created much trouble in Chicago, where 50 boys were expelled from the high school because they refused to disband a fraternity.

The speakers Wednesday declared that the boys meeting in their fraternity houses learned improper things, and that the girls became undemocratic and "stuck up," and thought themselves society women when they were only school girls.

Only Nine Pockets Now.

"The Woman With the Eleven Pockets" is the name good-naturedly given to Miss Kate F. O'Connor by some of those attending the meeting in East St. Louis of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs.

Miss O'Connor is one of the most successful business women of Illinois and is one of the cleverest practical women among the several hundred at the meeting. She is in the real estate and loan business in Rockford.

Miss O'Connor has only nine pockets in the garments she is wearing at this meeting, but she had 11 pockets in the clothing she wore last summer to the National Convention of Women's Clubs in Boston and she declared that she had use for them all.

Clubs as "Gossip Killers."

"Women's clubs are the greatest gossip killers in the world," said Miss O'Connor. "You never hear a club woman speak an ill word of another woman; that is one of our doctrines. They are great intellectual emancipators for women, too.

"Home is a good place for woman and her highest mission is the care and regulation of home, but men do not understand how irksome the daily grind of homework can become. A woman can get into a rut the same as a man and it broadens and betters her to leave home cares behind occasionally and get out to the club. This is about all the recreation many women have. Women don't play enough.

"These clubs spread throughout the land are an education to thousands of women. While the club women are working for the good of others they are doing good to themselves. I drop all my business cares to come to these meetings and I go home broader-minded and better in every way because of it."

Woman Fights for Forest.

Mrs. Horace G. Kauffman of Oregon, Ill., chairman of the Forestry Committee of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, has won distinction by the fight she has made to have the State of Illinois save a 500 acre forest of white pine trees on Pine Creek in Ogle County. This is the only white pine grove in the State. It is the last remnant in Illinois of the vast primeval forest of white pine that covered all the territory about the great lakes. The largest trees in it are 30 inches through and 90 feet high.

Mrs. Kauffman, backed by the club women of the State, won the passage by the State Legislature in 1903 of a bill appropriating $30,000 to buy this forest and set it apart as a State forest preserve, but Gov. Yates vetoed it. The club women are working for its passage again.

Friend of the Birds.

Mrs. Kauffman is a great lover of birds and all winter she feeds them and the squirrels and rabbits. In a tree near her home she places four pounds of suet each two weeks and it is all eaten by the birds.

"I feed about 200 birds all winter and besides I feed bushels of hickory nuts to the squirrels, which abound at our place," she says.

One of the most interesting women at the meeting is the Rev. Caroline Bartlett Crane, pastor of a church in Kalamazoo, Mich. She lectured Tuesday night to the club women, her subject being "The White Woman's Burden."

The burden of the white woman is her duty to herself, her family, and the nation, as exemplified by the women in their club work, she said.

Woman Teacher of Law.

Mrs. John D. Sherman, who is attending the meeting, is the teacher of parliamentary law in the John Marshall Law School of Chicago. Her husband is one of the editors of a Chicago newspaper. She is the official parliamentarian of the State Federation. Her co-workers in the club movement declare that no man-lawyer is more able than she.

Mrs. A. W. Bryant is general chairman of the Chicago Vacation School Committee.

"A large number of the public schools in the crowded districts of Chicago are kept open during the summer vacations, and the Board of Education appropriates $15,000 with which to pay teachers," said Mrs. Bryant. "The object is to keep the children off the streets and teach them something useful in place of what they might learn in the gutters. The work has been remarkably successful."

Mrs. Bryant has at the meeting an exhibit of basket, hammered brass and pottery work done by the pupils in these vacation schools.

Woman, Transportation Manager.

Mrs. Henry S. Jaffray of the Woodlawn Woman's Club is champion of the Transportation Committee of the State Federation. She did all the planning for the special train which carried the delegates from Illinois to the Boston convention last summer and she managed the train so successfully that there was not a complaint. She managed the special train which brought the 170 women delegates to the meeting in East St. Louis.

Mrs. Frank L. Bills of Urbana tells a story of a club woman from Wisconsin who was a delegate to the Boston convention and while there took her first trip upon the ocean.

Ocean Smelled Fishy.

As the steamer sailed out into Boston Bay she sniffed the air and exclaimed: "Well, the ocean smells like fish doesn't it."

Mrs. Horace Kauffman tells another story of a woman who told her husband that in a glass of preserves he had brought her from the store she found a splinter of wood.

"That must have been one of these forest preserves we read so much about," he said.

NOT A MIRACLE

Just Plain Cause and Effect.

There are some quite remarkable things happening every day, which seem almost miraculous.

Some persons would not believe that a man could suffer from coffee drinking so severely as to cause spells of unconsciousness. And to find complete relief in changing from coffee to Postum is well worth recording.

"I used to be a great coffee drinker, so much so that it was killing me by inches. My heart became so weak I would fall and lie unconscious for an hour at a time. The spells caught me sometimes two or three times a day.

"My friends, and even the doctor, told me it was drinking coffee that caused the trouble. I would not believe it, and still drank coffee until I could not leave my room.

"Then my doctor, who drinks Postum himself, persuaded me to stop coffee and try Postum. After much hesitation I concluded to try it. That was eight months ago. Since then I have had but few of those spells, none for more than four months.

"I feel better, sleep better and am better every way. I now drink nothing but Postum and touch no coffee, and as I am seventy years of age all my friends think the improvement quite remarkable."

"There's a Reason."

HUSBAND FEARS MISSING WIFE WHO HAD $500 WAS KILLED

Police Requested to Search for Three Persons Who Have Disappeared.

The police were requested Wednesday to make a search for three missing persons. Herman Schoo, aged 75, of 1945 Sullivan avenue, visited the North Market Street Police Station and asked for aid in finding his wife, Mary, aged 54, who left home Oct. 11.

Mr. Schoo said she had $500 in money, a gold watch and chain, and three valuable rings when she left. She is paralyzed in both arms. The husband fears that she was murdered for her money and jewelry.

Mary Duepner, aged 17, of 1923 Destrehan street, has been missing since Oct. 18. She left home, saying that she was going to a nickelodeon at Nineteenth and Hebert streets, and has not since been seen by her relatives.

Max Better, former steward for the Suburban Garden, took his trousers to a tailor Monday to have them pressed, and has not returned to his home, at 5188 Morgan street. He is 68 years old, five feet seven inches tall, weighs 200 pounds, has a ruddy face, brown hair, mixed with gray, blue eyes and a conspicuous nose.

This Recipe for Home-Made Cough Cure Is Worth Saving

Most of the suffering and most of the serious diseases that result from colds and coughs could be entirely prevented if the proper medicine were on hand and could be taken conveniently when the first signs of trouble appeared.

By saving the recipe given below you will always have an excellent prescription for colds and coughs. Or better yet, by making up the remedy you will always have it handy. A teaspoonful dose, taken when the first symptoms arise, will ward off a vast amount of suffering and possible danger.

This is the recipe:

Granulated Sugar Syrup	13½ oz.
Pinex	2½ oz.

Put the Pinex (50 cents' worth) in a pint bottle and fill up the bottle with the Granulated Sugar Syrup, made as follows: Take a pint of Granulated Sugar, add one-half cup of water, stir and let boil just a moment. If kept well corked it will never spoil, so that this pint of cough medicine will last a family a long time. It can be made in five minutes at a total cost of about 54 cents, and is very pleasant to take. Dose: A teaspoonful every one, two or three hours as required.

Simple as it is, it is in every way superior to the ready-made syrups that cost five or six times as much. Obstinate deep-seated coughs usually yield to it inside of twenty-four hours. It is also an excellent remedy for whooping cough, pains in the chest, bronchial troubles, hoarseness, etc.

In using this recipe get the real Pinex, which is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway White Pine Extract, and is vastly superior to the weaker pine oil or pine tar preparations. Your druggist has it or will gladly get it for you if you ask him. * * *

PRIEST'S ESTATE IS TAKEN FROM HIS OLD SERVANT

The will of Father Michael Busch, pastor of St. Joseph's Church at Clayton, who bequeathed the bulk of his estate to Miss Lizzie Behrns, his housekeeper, was set aside by Judge Wurdemann of the St. Louis County Probate Court Wednesday.

This action followed an affidavit by James Moran, attendant at the Mullanphy Hospital, where Father Busch died, that the priest was not of sound mind when he made the will. Moran was one of the witnesses to the will. The other, Edward M. Lanigan of 4459 Easton avenue, made affidavit that Father Busch was of sound mind, though too ill to sign his name to the will, which bore his mark.

Though she was told of the proceedings in court Miss Behrns did not go there to protest against the will being set aside. She is 60 years old and had been housekeeper for Father Busch 26 years. He was 80 years old when he died two weeks ago.

Estate Worth About $1000.

"The estate, so far as I can learn, consisted only of $1000 life insurance and a few personal effects," said Miss Behrns Wednesday. "I understood that Father Busch's brothers and sisters were satisfied with the will, which left them $5 each. I do not know whether I shall fight for the estate. Father Busch frequently told me he would leave most of his property to me because I had been a faithful servant in his old age."

The estate is now in the hands of Public Administrator Taylor of St. Louis County.

You May Enjoy Your Meals

If You Will But Equip Your Stomach With The Right Means To Handle The Food.

If you go into a restaurant, cafe or hotel, where all your environments, the lights, dazzling linen, silver, cut glass, music, chatting and laughing women, seem to fortell of a pleasant meal, your stomach should not revolt when you read the menu card.

Heavy steaks, soups, oysters, entrees, salads, etc., should hold no terrors for the healthy stomach and they do not.

A small box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets placed in your vest pocket will be sufficient guard against the mad revels of a worn-out stomach.

A tablet taken a few moments after a copious meal will remove any ill effects of food from your stomach and you may eat as generously as those about you.

One of these little tablets will of itself settle all questions of indigestion for that meal and will place your stomach and digestive organs in a better condition for the next.

Your blood will be enriched, and the depleted gastric fluids will be rebuilt.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are natural, active, digestive agents who give to the gastric juices the elements they lack, which ease the stomach, remove irritation and enrich and stimulate the blood.

All of these statements may be verified if you will take but a little of your time to prove them.

Every druggist carries Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in stock and will tell you of their merit. These tablets sell for 50c per box, or send us your name and address and we will send you at once by mail a trial package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

REPUBLICANS COERCING LABOR, BRYAN CHARGES

Declares Ward Heelers Are "Moral Characters" Beside Some Employers.

"WHO'S TAFT, ANYWAY?"

Asks Candidate How He Will Prevent "Panic" He Talks So Much About.

MOUNT VERNON, O., Oct. 21.—W. J. Bryan, in his initial Ohio speech at Newark, O., this morning bitterly denounced General Manager Van Winkle, Vice-President Charles Schaff and Assistant General Superintendent Ingalls of the Vanderbilt railway system for their alleged coercion of the shop and other employes of the Big Four, the Lake Shore and the New York Central Railway systems.

Bryan called the attention of his audience to their speeches to the shopmen at Bellefontaine last night, in which they declared that his election meant business depression and would result in a cut of 10 per cent in wages. Ingalls is Charles P. Taft's son-in-law.

Coercion, He Says.

Bryan said that the action of these railway managers is "coercion pure and simple, and should be punished by law, it being a crime against the franchise.

"I say to you that the little ward heeler who goes around and bribes a man for $5 is a moral character beside the man who attempts to use his power to threaten those who work for him and to buy them by a promise of increase or threaten them by a promise to decrease wages.

"Who has anointed these men and given them the power to rend the veil of the future and to prophecy what will happen if I am elected? Shall they compel you men to vote as they want you to do, and no one raise a voice in protest? Shorn and bereft of every issue in this campaign, confronted with the sure wrath of the aroused people, whose earnings they have taken for their own use, the predatory corporations now come and threaten a panic if you elect me and turn their creatures out of the offices.

Does Taft Believe It?

"Who is the Republican candidate that he should also declare that my election will result in hard times? If he believes this statement, let him give bond that the present panic will be ended and good times restored under his administration. Was he not in the cabinet of the President when the existing panic started? If he and the strenuous President could not together prevent that panic and keep business sound, how little chance will there be for him to do so when he is left alone in the White House and Roosevelt goes to Africa to shoot lions?

"I see young boys here. They have to go to school. Some of them may be presidential candidates themselves some day and it is for them and millions like them that I am making my fight, a fight to restore to this nation business competition, to ensure a true measure of rewards and to make it possible for the worker to sell his labor where he will receive the best returns. This attempt of the Republican party to defeat me for election will fail. And they will not be able to purchase this election, either.

"In 12 years of complete power, the Republicans have been able to pass every law they wanted, to repeal every law they wanted to repeal, and yet what is their condition? They face defeat for their betrayal of the American people.

"They have disappointed the laboring man; they have refused to listen to his plea; they have denied him remedies that he deserves; and, now, when embittered by disappointment and mistreatment, the laboring man attempts to show his citizenship, declare his independence and register his protest at the polls, they proceed with their attempts at coercion."

HUNTERS MUST NOT SMOKE ON "WILLOW BEN'S" ISLAND

If the leaves don't leave Willow Ben's island he will have to leave it himself, he fears, and that's why he refuses to grant leave for anybody to smoke there or leave cigar stumps lying around in the leaves, his reason being that he believes the leaves which the shedding tres leave on the island might catch fire, and he'd just as lief stay there awhile longer.

Willow Ben, whose other name is Sawyer, owns all of Mobile island, which has an area of 1800 acres. Much of it is under cultivation.

He exacts no toll from hunters, but Wednesday he put up "No Smoking" signs all over the island.

"The leaves are so thick on the ground that I'm afraid of prairie fires," he said to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "I've been driven off the island by fires twice. If it happens again I'll stay away, as I am getting too old to start all over again."

Missouri Pacific Earnings Drop.

The annual report of the Missouri Pacific Railway Co., issued Wednesday, shows a decrease in gross receipts for the year of $4,464,639 from the record of the previous year. The surplus for the year's operation is $1,050,506. The revenues from the passenger traffic during the year decreased $1,025,730. The freight earnings were $31,423,577.

CHILDREN WHO ARE CRYING FOR LOST PET DOG

(STANDING)-ESTHER ZEIGLER
(SEATED)- PAULINE ZEIGLER.

IF YOU HAVE "TEDDY," BRING HIM BACK TO THESE CHILDREN

He's a Pet Dog and Esther and Pauline Can't Do Without Him.

Esther Ziegler, 10 years old, and her sister, Pauline, 8, children of Harry Ziegler of 5204 Cabanne avenue, are ill from weeping because their little black-and-tan dog, Teddy, has gone away.

If anybody has him please bring him back so Esther and Pauline can dry their eyes and go to school gain.

He's a cute little dog, but the person who now has him could get along without him. Esther and Pauline can't.

Teddy is only 10 inches high and only a year old, but he can sit up and "ask" for something to eat.

The dogcatchers surely didn't get him because he wore a license tag. He had bells on his collar, too.

Esther's mamma gave him to her for a birthday present a year ago, but he has been a pet of Pauline as well.

He went away Friday and the children have looked everywhere for him. They want everybody to help them in the search.

JAXON STANDS FOR PARLIAMENT

Man Who Figured in "Undesirable Citizen" Letter in Canada.

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, Oct. 21.—Honore Joseph Jaxon, who was prominent in the United States last year because of his correspondence with President Roosevelt upon the Haywood-Moyer-Pettibone "undesirable citizen" question, has caused much comment in the country west of Winnipeg by appearing as a candidate for the Ottawa Parliament. He has been put forward as the candidate of an independent element that has arisen among the farmers and working men. Jaxon's candidacy probably will bring up the question whether he is a Canadian or belongs under the United States flag by birth.

COUNCILMEN AND MAYOR AGAINST 3-CENT FARES

Legislators Believe Low Rate Would Mean Poor Car Service.

Mayor Wells' suggestion, first made public in Tuesday's Post-Dispatch, of a 3-cent street car fare, in case the United Railways Co. further resists the payment of the 1 mill tax to the city, has aroused new interest in the bill, now in the House of Delegates committee, reducing single-trip fares to 3 cents.

The bill was introduced by Delegate Fay, and is now in the Legislation Committee. It provides for 3-cent fares for continuous rides on one car, or 5 cents where transfers are issued.

Legislators Disagree.

A similar bill was introduced into the Council, at the session previous to the present one, by President Forman. It died in committee.

Members of the Council and House, interviewed on the 3-cent proposal by a Post-Dispatch reporter Wednesday, were not unanimous in favoring the lower fare, but said the company should be made to pay its obligations, and that further resistance might cause it to fare badly in legislation.

Councilman Crunden said: "It is opposition to such fair measures as the one-mill tax that causes public sentiment in favor of lower rates of fare. If the company will give good service and pay the city its just and legal revenues, I will favor keeping the fare at 5 cents."

Councilman Moellman said: "The people have no kick coming on the present street car service. But the one-mill tax is fair and should be collected. I don't favor lower fares."

Councilman Cramer said: "Good service is above everything else. I don't believe good service would continue under the 3-cent fare. But I believe the company ought to pay up its just dues to the city, and I don't understand why it is not made to."

Delegate Tirre said: "I am for 3-cent fares if we can get it with the present service."

Delegate Paule said: "Mayor Wells' suggestion is a good one. If the company keeps up its present policy, it will be up against 3-cent fare legislation the first thing it knows."

Mayor Opposes 3-Cent Fare.

Mayor Wells said Wednesday: "I am not personally in favor of 3-cent fare. I believe it would check the extension of car lines and the growth of the city. In saying that the one-mill tax was preferable to 3-cent fares, I spoke from the viewpoint of the street railroad owners. I believe that if they had to choose between the two, it would not take them long to decide to pay the one-mill tax."

City Register Regan wrote Wednesday to General Manager McCulloch, demanding not only the quarterly reports of trips and passengers, now in arrears for six months, but the daily reports required under the new law.

The company is now some $1,132,000 in arrears in revenue due the city under the 1-mill tax, which requires the payment to the city of one-tenth of a cent on every 5-cent fare collected. It has also incurred possible heavy fines by its failure to make the reports required by this and an older law.

PREPARE THIS PRESCRIPTION FOR RHEUMATISM AND KIDNEY TROUBLE.

Says This Easily Prepared Mixture Will Cure Before You Realize It.

Cut this out and put in some safe place, for it is valuable and worth more than anything else in the world if you should have an attack of rheumatism or bladder trouble or any derangement of the kidneys whatever.

The prescription is simple and can be made up by anyone at home. The ingredients can be had at any good prescription pharmacy and all that is necessary is to shake them well in a bottle.

Here it is: Fluid extract dandelion, one-half ounce; compound Kargon, one ounce; compound syrup of sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime. A few doses is said to relieve almost any case of bladder trouble, weakness and backache, pain about the kidneys, etc. It is now claimed to be the method of curing chronic rheumatism, because of its direct and positive action upon the climinative tissues of the kidneys. It gives them life and power to sift and strain the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood, relieving the worst forms of Rheumatism and kidney and bladder troubles. The extract dandelion acts upon the stomach and liver and is used also extensively for relieving constipation and indigestion. Compound sarsaparilla cleans and enriches the blood. There is nothing better than Kargon Compound for the kidneys.

This prescription is safe to use at any time. * * *

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF PIANOS
—FOR—
S. C. CAMPBELL & BROS. PIANO CO.,

Disposing of all stock, new and secondhand.

Prices put on Pianos to move them at once; costs and freight if possible; if not, what they'll bring in a hurry.

Here is your chance to get just the Piano you want and not pay the price, either.

MONEY WE MUST HAVE. WE'LL PAY FOR IT, TOO

The Pianos to be sold are:

GROUP ONE—Pianos taken in exchange, rented pianos, etc. One small English upright, in a fine Circassian walnut case, for $35. Chickering upright, large size, in rosewood case, good order; was $550, now $115. A fine large Pease upright Piano, in handsome light case, full size, with a big body of tone, as good as new; was $375, now $170. One Sterling upright Piano, in perfect condition, inside and out, was $350, now $125; another of the same make at $85. Steger & Sons handsome upright Piano, in mission style of case, with bench to match, "an art piece" and good as new; now $297. A Steinhauer upright, in golden oak case, for $140. A Steger & Sons small Grand—not secondhand, but it has been out and is very slightly hurt on a part of the case that does not show, but it can not be sold as perfect in condition. A Star Baby Grand Piano, in handsome burl walnut case, first-class condition, $270.

GROUP TWO—Comprises new, but not most expensive Pianos, made by Reed & Sons, Singer, Davis & Sons, Bradford-Steinhauer. Pianos that sold for $325, in handsome mahogany, burl walnut, golden oak cases, etc.; handsome new instrument, direct from the factory.

One style (a small Piano, to be sure), but only $97. Others reduced from $225 to $139; from $275 to $163; others still from $325 to $196; some very good Pianos around $150.

GROUP THREE—Includes "fine art style" Pianos, seldom seen out of the makers' own private display rooms. One, a massive mahogany from Steger & Sons, Chicago. No one need tell you it's an art case, you will see it for yourself. Another fine, large mahogany upright Piano, "dragon design." A large number of Baby Grand Pianos, ALL NEW, all as fine as money can buy; ALL GREATLY REDUCED in price, because we must sell, and fine Pianos do not, as a rule, appeal to the bargain-getting, but the Steger & Sons Pianos appeals to the most discriminating people—those to whom REAL MUSIC APPEALS.

When you hear a Steger Piano there's no need to ask its name—the music tells. The voice of the Steger is unmistakable. Whether in concert or in the home, the richness and purity of its tone are equally apparent. The bass is full and mellow; the treble is clear and bell-like.

When you hear the Steger you will find it eloquent. It speaks a language you can understand. Let your ear decide whether the Steger Piano is good enough for your home.

The Steger Piano is the most satisfactory to own and the safest to buy. Made complete in the largest piano factory in the world, it is sold direct to you at no profit. No charge for the name, no charge for testimonials; no charge for the services of professional musicians; no prize schemes. You pay for the piano only, and you get the best that can be made when "It's a Steger."

Steger Natural Player-Piano

The Steger Piano with the wonderful "Natural" interior playing mechanism that enables you to play artistically even if you do not know one note from another. The only player-piano built completely in one factory; the only player that enables you to give an artistic performance in a simple, natural way without previous practice.

WE WANT MONEY IN A HURRY TO SATISFY CREDITORS. WE MUST BUY IT AT BIG PRICES—THE QUICKER IT'S DONE, EVEN AT THIS BIG LOSS, THE LESS WILL BE THE LOSS.

If you can not come at once, write for list of used instruments or about any Piano or group of Pianos. Only do it now. Push this work to a finish—"quick"—the advantage is all yours. "See it" and "see the goods."

HERE ARE VARIED RECORDS OF ST. LOUIS LEGISLATIVE NOMINEES

Voters of City Must Select Nineteen Men to Represent Them at Jefferson City and These Are Candidates of Two Leading Parties.

TWENTY-NINTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT.

Wards 9, 10 and 11; precincts 12, 13, 14, 17 and 18 of Twelfth Ward and precincts 1, 2, 3, 4, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18 and 19 of Twenty-fourth Ward.

ARTHUR STOEHR, Democratic nominee for State Senator in the Twenty-ninth District, is 33 years old and a son of Max Stoehr, a veteran German newspaper writer of St. Louis. The senior Stoehr has been a reporter and editor for the Westliche Post for many years.

He is a traveling auditor for the Frisco Railroad system and lives at 4444 Pennsylvania avenue. He is married.

Stoehr is running in a Republican district. The previous senator there was Edward Baumann, a Republican, defeated for renomination. He was classed as friendly to the brewery interests. Politically, Stoehr is classed as a "friend of Ed O'Neill." Mr. O'Neill is a member of the Board of Education and an official of the Rock Island-Frisco system. He is the "boss" of the Eleventh (Carondelet) Ward and a lieutenant of Charles A. Lemp. Stoehr never ran for office before.

Mr. Stoehr makes no secret of his friendliness to the liquor interests. If elected to the Legislature he says he will do everything in his power to bring about the repeal of the Sunday closing law. He thinks the saloons have been badly treated in the past by the Missouri Legislature.

CHARLES F. KRONE, Republican nominee for State Senator in the Twenty-ninth District, is a well-known attorney. He is about 45 years old. Mr. Krone is an unusually well-educated man. He is a linguist and a student of literature. His father was a prominent German actor in the last generation of St. Louisans. Mr. Krone has a large practice. He is the personal attorney of members of the Lemp family. He lives at 3816 Juniata street.

In the recent primaries Krone defeated E. H. Baumann, who previously represented the district. Krone was on the Howe slate, while Baumann was not. Mr. Krone is a graduate of the University of Missouri. At a meeting of the university alumni several months ago he protested against an effort to have the alumni indorse Cowherd for Governor.

THIRTY-FIRST SENATORIAL DISTRICT.

Wards 3, 4 and 5; precincts 6, 7, 13 and 14 of Sixth Ward; precincts 1, 2, 3, 4, 6 and 7 of Fourteenth Ward; all of Ward 15 and precincts 1, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13 of Sixteenth Ward.

THOMAS E. KINNEY is seeking re-election as Senator from the Thirty-first District. He is recognized as the Democratic master of the Fourth Ward.

Prior to his election to the State Senate, Kinney was twice elected to the House of Delegates. His record there was clean.

Kinney took an active part in legislative affairs at Jefferson City. He procured the enactment of the present child labor law and other meritorious measures.

Incidentally, he fathered a bill to compel all bachelors to marry or pay a fine of $25 to the State.

When the measure to prohibit saloons within five miles of the State University was under consideration the liquor interests found they needed but one vote to defeat it.

"We haven't asked Kinney, but of course he is all right," said a brewer-lobbyist as he ran over the list of Senators, checking the probable ayes and noes.

But Kinney wasn't all right. To the amazement of the liquor lobby Kinney cast the deciding vote in favor of the University anti-liquor bill.

"I am a saloon man all right," explained Kinney afterwards, "but nobody owns my vote.

"When I found those saloonkeepers up at Columbia were selling drinks to the college boys, I made up my mind to vote out the saloons there. And I would do the same thing again, breweries or no breweries, saloons or no saloons."

Senator Kinney is a member of the Democratic State Committee from the Twelfth District. He is credited with having absolute political control of the Fourth and Fifteenth Wards. He is the proprietor of a saloon at 716 Pine street and lives at 1413 Carr street. He is 37 years old.

HENRY HORCHLER, the Republican nominee for State Senator in the Thirty-first District, who is running against Senator Thomas E. Kinney, is a foreman for the August Kern Barber Supply Co. He has been in the service of this company for several years. He lives at 1326 Clark avenue. He is married.

Politically he is regarded as a friend of "Joe" Schuler, Republican boss of the Fifth Ward, and a saloon keeper across the street from the Four Courts. Horchler was a candidate for Justice of the Peace in 1906 and was defeated by Justice "Marty" Moore.

THIRTY-THIRD SENATORIAL DISTRICT.

Precincts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14 of Ward Two; precincts 2, 3 and 4 of Ward Sixteen and all of Wards 17, 18, 20 and 21.

JOSEPH H. BROGAN, Democratic nominee in the Thirty-third District, is the youngest candidate for the State Senate. He is 30 years old. He is an employe of the Post-Dispatch mailing room. Brogan lives at 1456 Warren street, in the Eighteenth Ward. He is now Democratic City Central Committeeman from that ward, having won the committeeship after a close contest with Joseph H. Weber, the former committeeman.

Politically Brogan is credited with having the friendship of "Jimmie" Miles' friends in North St. Louis, although he has never been actively connected with the crowd publicly. He is the leader of a young North St. Louis element that is trying to establish an organization of its own.

Brogan was nominated for the State Senate, after a hard fight, over Dr. Edward F. Brady, an alienist and brother of "the other Bradys" in local politics. His opponent is the present incumbent, Arthur Kammerer.

ARTHUR E. KAMMERER, Republican nominee for Senator in the Thirty-third District, is a lawyer. He was born Feb. 18, 1873. He is unmarried and lives at 2724 Dayton street. He is a nephew of Judge Leo Rassieur of St. Louis and is a member of the firm of Rassieur, Schnurmacher & Rassieur.

He was elected a State Senator in December, 1906, to fill out the unexpired term of George Riechmann, who resigned when elected a Justice of the Peace. Kammerer had not previously been prominent in politics.

FIRST DISTRICT.

Wards 9, 10, 11 and 24; precincts 13, 14, 17 and 18 of Twelfth Ward; precincts 1, 14 and 15 of Twenty-fifth and precincts 1 and 2 of Twenty-eighth Ward.

(Three Representatives.)

RICHARD DURNEY, Democrat, was formerly a policeman and detective. He was attached to the Health Department when Dr. Simon was Health Commissioner, and was classed as a political lieutenant of the Twenty-fifth Ward leader. Durney resigned from the detective force following the mention of his name in connection with a shooting. Afterwards he conducted a saloon at the southwest corner of Thirteenth and Market streets.

JOHN L. ROSS, Democrat is a bartender for Walter Griffin, a saloon keeper at Twelfth and Chestnut streets, who is himself running for the Legislature as a Democrat in another district. Ross lives at 3736 LaSalle street.

JOSEPH J. SOMMERS, Democrat, is an official of a labor union. He is a pattern maker and lives at 3452 Utah street, in the Tenth Ward.

MERREAN BOGARD, Republican, is a salesman for the John J. Bogard Real Estate Co., 813 Chestnut street, and lives at 3519A South Jefferson avenue. He is not prominent politically.

EDWARD W. FORISTEL, Republican, is a young attorney. He lives at 6827 Michigan avenue, Carondelet. He is a member of Committeeman Ed Koeln's Republican precinct organization in the Eleventh Ward. He is a good talker and was chosen by Jeptha D. Howe to explain the fine points about getting out the voters on election day at a recent banquet of precinct committeeman.

JOHN F. MILLER, Republican, is a former member of the Legislature from this district. In the recent primaries he was opposed on the ground that he has been a bartender and saloon keeper. Miller met the opposition by declaring that his previous legislative record was good and was renominated.

Miller, however, was one of the St. Louis representatives in the Legislature who opposed giving St. Louis the right to create a public utilities commission to regulate the rates charged by public service corporations.

The Union Electric Light Co., United Railways Co., and other wealthy public corporations sent a big lobby to Jefferson City to defeat public utility legislation.

SECOND DISTRICT.

Wards 7, 8 and 13; precincts 1, 3, 4, 5, 8, 9, 10 and 11 of Ward Six; precincts 1 to 12 and 15 and 16 of Ward Twelve and precincts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 10 and 11 of Twenty-third Ward.

(Three Representatives.)

CHARLES F. JERABEK, Democrat, is a former deputy sheriff. He served at the Four Courts under Sheriff Dickmann and was well liked there. He is a Bohemian and prominent in the Bohemian colony in South St. Louis. He now conducts a saloon at 2001 South Seventh street.

FREDERICK W. LEHMANN JR., Democrat, is the son of the president of the American Bar Association and lives with his father at the family home, 10 Benton place. Young Mr. Lehmann is a graduate of Harvard and of the St. Louis Law School. This is his first entry in the political field. While at college and law school he was noted as an athlete, having won distinction as a football player and tennis expert. He was fullback and captain of the Washington University eleven. Mr. Lehmann led all the Democratic aspirants in the recent primaries in his district.

JOHN SCHENKEMEYER, Democrat, is a lawyer, living at 1116 South Eighth street. He is about 27 years old and has resided in St. Louis only a few years. He is not well known as a practitioner, although he has appeared occasionally at the Fourt Courts. He is connected with the office of John I. Martin, opposite the Four Courts, according to persons who know him.

THEODORE HAGENOW, Republican, is a druggist at 1500 Chouteau avenue. He has been in business at that location for many years and stands well among his neighbors. He is a middle-aged man and has never before run for office.

CHARLES SCHUEDDIG, Republican, has served two terms as a member of the Legislature from this district. He is a member of a firm founded by his father, which is engaged in the manufacturing of tools at 525 West Jefferson avenue.

HENRY G. TRIESLER, Republican candidate for the Legislature in the Second District, is a well-known young lawyer with an office in the Wainwright Building. He lives at 1448 Dolman street. He has never sought public office before.

THIRD DISTRICT.

Wards 3, 4, 5, 14, 15 and 16 and precincts 1, 2 and 3 of Twenty-second and precincts 2, 6, 7, 12, 13 and 14 of Sixth Ward.

(Three Representatives.)

FELIX McADAMS, Democrat, is better known as "Fish" McAdams. Formerly he was a deputy constable when Justice "Jimmy" Miles was a constable. He lives in the Third Ward and is a faithful Miles lieutenant. He has been at Legislature sessions at Jefferson City in past years as a clerk. He has also been a saloon keeper. The city directory does not give his present address or occupation.

JOHN McQUADE, Democrat, is a deputy in the office of Collector James Hagerman Jr. He has been a political job holder for some time. He lives at 1904 O'Fallon street and owns property in that neighborhood. He has frequently furnished bond for political friends and acquaintances.

JOHN MORONEY, Democratic candidate for the Legislature in the Third District, was a leader in the fight at Jefferson City two years ago to prevent the passage of a law empowering the St. Louis Municipal Assembly to create a public utilities commission for the regulation of public service corporation rates.

Moroney was known as a lieutenant of Former State Senator Frank Farris, who represented Crawford County at the 1907 session.

Moroney was known also as a champion of legislation favorable to the liquor interests. He conducted a saloon at Sixth and Market streets two years ago.

Excise Commissioner Mulvihill revoked Moroney's license on the ground that Moroney's saloon had been conducted improperly.

Moroney is affiliated in politics with Paddy O'Connell's Fifth Ward Democratic "gang." He lives at 312 South Fourth street.

AUGUST GIESSLER, Republican, is a retired baker, residing at 2610 Market street. He is well-to-do, having made money in the bakery business before retiring. He has taken an active interest in politics for several years and is a member of the Twelfth District Republican Congressional Committee.

OTTO PRIESS, Republican candidate for the Legislature in the Third District, is a decorator and lives at 1529 Olive street. This is his first venture in the political field.

JOHN G. MALONE, Republican, is a printer, living at 2335 Biddle street, in the Sixteenth Ward. He was a deputy sheriff under Sheriff Patrick H. Clarke.

FOURTH DISTRICT.

Wards 2, 17, 18 and 20; precincts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 12 of Nineteenth Ward; precincts 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 13 of Twenty-first and precincts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 of Twenty-sixth Ward.

(Three Representatives.)

CHRIS VON DER AHE, Democrat, is the former wealthy baseball magnate. He still lives where he lived in the days of his national renown—3613 St. Louis avenue. Since his fortunes have dwindled Mr. Von der Ahe has taken a practical interest in politics, whereas in former years he was merely a large contributor to campaign funds. He was the Democratic candidate for the House of Delegates from the Nineteenth Ward in 1907, but was defeated by Sam Stannard. He cut down the majority Stannard had two years previously, however.

Since retiring from baseball Von der Ahe has been a saloon keeper. The last saloon above which his name appeared was on the east side of Jefferson avenue, just south of Olive street. For many years he conducted a saloon and grocery at Grand and St. Louis avenues.

Von der Ahe is almost 60 years old. Reverses have not changed his cheerful temperament and he still is popular with a large following. He is making an active campaign for election, although his district is normally Republican.

Von Der Ahe, according to the police, formerly conducted a lid-lifting club at Grand and St. Louis avenues.

JAMES T. O'BRIEN, Democrat, is an electrician and lives at 4124 Kennerly avenue. He is not known politically outside the Twenty-sixth Ward, where he lives.

JAMES M. RILEY, Democrat, is a traveling man, residing at 1522 Prairie avenue. He is 36 years old. This is the first time he has sought public office.

CHARLES O. A. BRUNK, Republican is vice-president of the Construction and Supply Co. of St. Louis. Other Republican politicians are reported to be interested in the company. Mr. Brunk has taken an active interest for years in Republican politics in North St. Louis. He held a City Hall position during the Ziegenhein regime. He lives at 3815 Labadie avenue.

HENRY F. DROSTE, Republican, is a young attorney, who resides at 1826 North Jefferson avenue. He is a member of the last Legislature and has announced he will be a candidate for Speaker in the event that the Republicans control the next House of Representatives. Droste is a Howe lieutenant. He is one of the two Republican presidential electors in the Eleventh Congressional District. His legislative record is good.

WILLIAM WAHLBRINK, Republican, is a painter, who lives at 2248 Benton street. He has never been prominent politically. His home is in the Seventeenth Ward, where Republican politics are controlled by "Hank" Weeke, former member of the House of Delegates.

FIFTH DISTRICT.

Wards 1 and 27; precincts 4, 10, 11, 13 and 14 of Nineteenth Ward; precincts 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17 of Twenty-sixth Ward.

(Two Representatives.)

JOHN P. CROWLEY, Democrat, is an employe of the Post-Dispatch circulation department. He is a captain of newsboys. Crowley is an industrious, hard-working young man who obtained the nomination on personal popularity in his district over other contenders. He is 32 years old, and lives at 4277 Lee avenue. He is a political protege of Andrew Shendon, Democratic leader of the First Ward.

WALTER D. GRIFFIN, Democrat, is a saloon keeper at Twelfth and Chestnut streets. He lives at 2229A Clarence avenue. Griffin is about 40 years old. He served one term in the House of Delegates, from 1903 to 1905, as a representative of the First Ward. At the time he became a delegate he was an insurance agent and had previously worked for a mercantile house. Since retiring from the House of Delegates he has been a saloon keeper.

FRED BUSCHE, Republican, is a baker, whose store is at 3207 Natural Bridge road, and who lives at 4027 Pleasant street. Mr. Busche is about 55 years old and served in the Legislature during the last revising session, 10 years ago. He is a brother of former State Senator Charles F. Busche.

ALFRED A. EICKS, Republican, is a patent lawyer. He is a member of the firm of Hopkins & Eicks. He is about 36 years old. This is his first appearance as a candidate for office. Mr. Eicks lives at 2132 Alice avenue.

SIXTH DISTRICT.

Precincts 1, 2, 3, 9, 10, 11 and 12 of Twenty-first Ward; precincts 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13 of Twenty-second Ward; precinct 7 of Twenty-third Ward; precincts 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13 of Twenty-fifth Ward and precincts 20 to 28 inclusive.

(Two Representatives.)

THOMAS S. McPHEETERS JR. Democrat, is about 26 years old. His father is a prominent St. Louisan. The elder McPheeters is president of the St. Louis Refrigerator and Cold Storage Co. and has been prominent in Y. M. C. A., church and society circles as well as in business. He is a prominent Presbyterian layman.

T. S. McPheeters Jr. is a lawyer and a Princeton alumnus. He is a member of the law firm of McPheeters and Burkham. McPheeters and his elderly running mate led a large field of candidates in the recent primaries, winning a notable victory over opponents representing every type of politics.

HIRAM LLOYD, Republican, although not an old man, is a veteran politician. A dozen years ago he was Speaker of the House of Delegates. He then represented the Twenty-second Ward, where he still lives—at 3111 Laclede avenue.

Mr. Lloyd is a contractor and has had some large contracts for local buildings, both public and private. He is a brother of Dr. Henry Lloyd, Deputy Coroner. He was a delegate to the last National Republican Convention from the Twelfth District.

JOHN O'DONNELL, Democrat, is known to many as "Honest John." O'Donnell is a prosperous contractor and property owner. He is nearly 60 years old and lives with his family at 4321 Cook avenue. He served in the Legislature once before from the Third district and made an excellent record. He has always taken a lively interest in Democratic politics.

CHARLES V. ANDERSON, Republican, is a new name in St. Louis politics. Mr. Anderson made the race in the recent primaries as a "representative business man." He issued circulars asking support on the ground that he is not a professional politician and that the business interests need representation in the State Legislature.

Anderson was successful in a field of candidates, defeating such prominent contenders as Daniel N. Kirby, law partner of Charles Nagel, National Republican Committeeman, and Charles D. Comfort, former Councilman. Mr. Anderson is president of the Tradesman Publishing Co., 1627 Washington avenue. It publishes the Drygoodsman. Mr. Anderson lives at 5594 Bartmer avenue. He is about 40 years old.

Exercise Your Liver.

Many Ills and Much Pain Can Be Avoided by a Little Care.

The value of proper exercise as a means to health has become generally well known. There are various ways of exercising various muscles and parts of the body. Of the outer muscles and parts which may be reached by the hand or mechanical exercisers the method is simple. As to the inner organism, it is more difficult. The inner organism being a sort of automatic machine, the principal thing necessary to its proper performance and exercise of its parts is to keep it clean and well oiled, so that it doesn't clog and run irregularly.

The liver is one of the most important parts of the human machine. When it stops the machine stops. If it works badly, the whole machine works badly—and you—if it's your machine—suffer thereby. Now, if the liver is kept properly at work so it can't clog the machine so far as it is concerned works all right and you do not suffer.

You can keep your liver going in a very simple way and avoid all the ills due to that organ getting clogged, such as constipation, biliousness, sick headache, jaundice, that tired feeling, giddiness, sour stomach, splotches known as liver spots, rising bile and other disorders arising from a disordered liver, by taking Lane's Pills and keeping your liver exercised to doing its work right.

Lane's Pills act directly on the liver, they never gripe, they are gentle, mild and safe for the most delicate women and children, one pill is a dose, they never leave any after effects and there are twenty-five doses in each bottle, sold by druggists at 25 cents.

These Pills are made by Chas. E Lane & Co., Chemists, St. Louis, Mo., who will send you a generous sample on request if your druggist hasn't got them. A postal will do. The Pills will be sent by return mail and you will be convinced of their goodness. Sold in St. Louis by Johnson Bros., Broadway and Franklin; Wolff-Wilson, Sixth and Washington; Raboteau & Co., Broadway and Lucas; Enderle Drug Co. (3 stores), Sixth and Chestnut Sts., Eighth and Pine Sts., Broadway and Market Sts.

SUCCESS WITH SPAGHETTI

Many women fail to have success with Spaghetti simply because they do not cook it properly. Spaghetti can be used in numberless ways, but the final success of the dish depends mainly upon properly boiling. If you are one of those who have never had good luck with Spaghetti—just try again and see how good it really is when properly cooked. The best Spaghetti is Faust Brand—made from the very best of American Durum wheat. It is sold by all grocers in a dainty package, which keeps the contents fresh and pure. Buy a package from your grocer and try one of the appetizing recipes in our booklet—"Spaghetti and Some of Its Uses"—we will send you a free copy on request.

Faust Spaghetti should always be boiled full twenty minutes, or until tender—never put it in cold water or add cold water while cooking. By following instructions carefully, and using Faust Spaghetti, you will invariably have the best success.

Try the 5-cent package today—you will buy a 10-cent package tomorrow.

A BAD BACK IS A BAD HANDICAP

Few of us can afford to be idle, and to those who work, a sound, strong back is a necessity. A bad back prevents rest or sleep, and aches all day with a dull, tired throb.

Don't think because sharp twinges strike you when you lift, or twist about, or reach, that your work is too hard for you. Bad backs are common in every occupation. Those aches and twinges are only Nature's warning that the kidneys need help.

It is easy to tell if the kidneys are sick, and are not thoroughly doing their work of filtering the blood. Backache is an early warning. Headache, dizzy spells, puffy swellings under the eyes or in the ankles and legs, nervousness, irritability, rheumatic pain and tired feelings also tell of kidney ills.

Examine the urine. If it is extremely pale and light, the kidneys are not getting out all of that uric poison. If it is dark colored and thick, if there is any sediment deposited when it stands, that is proof enough that the kidneys need attention.

For Daily Work, One Needs a Strong Back and Well Kidneys.

EVERY PICTURE TELLS A STORY

"My back is my weak spot"

Doan's Kidney Pills have given strong, sound backs to thousands. This remedy cures backache and urinary troubles by removing the cause, by curing the kidneys.

Seventy-five years ago Doan's Kidney Pills were curing kidney troubles in a settlement of Quaker farmers. Now the remedy is used in all the civilized world. It is praised abroad in many tongues. It is recommended at home by people you know.

ST. LOUIS TESTIMONY

Mrs. Amelia Hiderman, living at 1923 Sullivan Av., St. Louis, Mo., says: "It is over 7 years since I first used Doan's Kidney Pills and was permanently cured of a severe case of kidney complaint and backache, which had bothered me for five or six years. Prior to that time I suffered severely from pains in my back. My kidneys also did not do their work properly. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended, I used them and was completely cured. When I hear anyone complaining of kidney trouble, I urge them to get Doan's Kidney Pills as I have great faith in their efficiency to cure any case of this complaint."

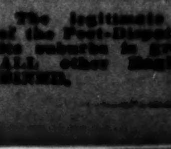
Liver Trouble Remedy Free

Any intelligent person can be his own doctor in the ordinary case of liver trouble, for the symptoms cannot be mistaken. If the white of the eye becomes yellowish, if the skin becomes sallow, if pimples and blotches appear, if the bowels do not move, if you have sick headache, if you are bilious, you may be sure that your liver is torpid or inactive.

The quickest and surest remedy yet found for the cure of liver trouble or any of its symptoms is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the great herb laxative compound. This wonderful remedy is not only a laxative, but a tonic as well. It will start the flow of gastric juice, thereby soon enabling the liver to do its work naturally. A bottle of this great liver remedy can be bought of any druggist for 50 cents or $1, and in many cases a single bottle has cured a chronic case.

For example, John W. Lee, 610 S. Pennsylvania avenue, Indianapolis, Ind., had a stubborn and very long-standing case of liver trouble, with pimples, blotches, jaundice, etc., and it cured him. Mrs. B. Flinchum, Jackson, Ky., says the same of it. Thousands of families keep it in the house against just such an emergency, as you can never tell when some member of the family will need a good laxative.

In order to have you or any other sufferer from the liver make a test of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin without personal expense, Dr. Caldwell will send you a free test bottle if you will send your name and address. The sample will show you how pleasant it is to take, how gently it works. It will start you on the cure of your trouble and convince you that you have found a cure. That is the object of the sample, and the doctor urges you to send for it today.



If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, [illegible] Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.

WOMAN KNOCKED DOWN AND ROBBED ON OWN DOORSTEP

Highwaymen Searched Her Stocking, Finally Found $30 in Waist of Dress.

Mrs. Catherine Lenhardt, 51 years old, wife of John M. Lenhardt, a crossing watchman for the Missouri Pacific Railroad, was knocked down and robbed in the rear of her home, Tuesday night.

The robber threw a cloth over her head to prevent her from seeing him and to muffle her cries.

Mrs. Lenhardt left her home shortly after 5 p. m., carrying in her bosom her husband's $40 pay check. After having the check cashed at a grocery store, she went to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Groth, of 2937 Caroline street, and left $10 there.

The remaining $30 she carried in her waist.

As she stepped onto the rear porch of her home, she was seized from behind and a cloth was thrown over her head. The robber pulled her over backwards and searched her stocking. Not finding the money there, he tore off her waist.

He snatched the money and escaped while Mrs. Lenhardt was trying to remove the cloth from her head. She could not see the robber, but she heard him say:

"If you holler I'll shoot you."

When she believed the robber was gone, Mrs. Lenhardt screamed.

Miss Birdie Roe and Robert Dennis, who live at 3517 Scott avenue, carried her into the house, where she fainted.

Mrs. Lenhardt is ill from the nervous shock of her experience.

Legislator Shoots a Farmer.

DADEVILLE, Ala., Oct. 21.—Jack Henderson, a farmer of Tallapoosa County, was shot and killed on the public square here last night by J. Fletcher Turner, representative in the lower house of the Legislature from this county. The shooting is believed to have been the result of an old feud between the two men.

SUICIDE FOLLOWS FIGHT ON BOARD OF STEAMSHIP

Passengers See Man Stab Another Then Jump Into the Sea.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Passengers aboard the Kroonland, from Antwerp and Dover, were witnesses of a stabbing fray, ending in the wounding of one man and the dramatic suicide of his assailant, who leaped overboard and refused to be saved.

When the vessel was not far out from Dover Heinrich Miller of Steinford, Luxemburg, and Nicholas Trausch of Stolzenburg, Luxemburg, quarreled, and Miller drew a knife. Trausch grabbed his arm and the two men, both big fellows, fought all over the deck.

Several of the cabin passengers from the promenade deck could see the struggle. The steerage was in a riot of noise and disorder.

Miller wrenched his arm free and plunged the knife into Trausch's body near the heart. Trausch fell to the deck and Miller climbed on the starboard rail and leaped into the sea.

He was for some time obscured in the wake of the steamer, but presently reappeared, and deliberately turned away from a rescue party. He disregarded the life rings tossed to him, held up one arm, waved adieu and allowed himself to drown.

Trausch's wound was not mortal. He says he never saw Miller before, but passengers on the ship say the two young men quarreled over a woman aboard, who did not know they were fighting about her.

The Value of Good Digestion

Is easy to figure if you know what your stomach is worth. Kodol keeps the stomach at par value, by insuring good digestion. Kodol cures Dyspepsia.

Kodol insures good digestion by absolutely duplicating Nature's normal process, in perfectly digesting all food taken into the stomach.

While Kodol is doing this, the stomach is resting—and becoming strong and healthy. A strong and healthy stomach guarantees a sound and active brain.

The man with a sound stomach—a stomach that is doing for the body just what Nature intended it to do—is the man who is always prepared for any emergency. He is "there with the goods."

The man with a sick stomach, is a man sick all over. When the stomach is irritated by undigested food, the blood and heart are directly affected. Then dullness, unnatural sleepiness, sick-headaches, vertigo and fainting spells, and even serious brain trouble develop. Kodol will prevent these.

[illegible] the stomach and brain to special effort by "tonics" and "stimulants" doesn't cure anything, or accomplish any good. Neither does dieting. Indigestion and the serious ailments which it induces can be averted and corrected only by natural means.

Kodol supplies this natural means. It performs the stomach's work for it—just as the stomach should perform it—while the stomach takes a little rest, "for the stomach's sake."

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today and get a dollar bottle. Then after you have used the entire contents of the bottle if you can honestly say, that it has not done you any good, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money without question or delay. We will then pay the druggist for the bottle. Don't hesitate, all druggists know that our guarantee is good. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family. The large bottle contains 2½ times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

TO "HONEYMOON TRAIL" OLYMPIC IS HEADED NOW

New Hough-Adams-Howard Musical Comedy Manager Short's Next Offering.

DOCKSTADER, CENTURY

"The Wolf" Remains at Garrick—New Bills at Other Playhouses.

"Honeymoon Trail" comes to the Olympic for the week beginning next Sunday evening. It is a musical comedy by Hough, Adams and Howard, authors of "The Time, the Place and the Girl," "The Girl Question," and "A Stubborn Cinderella," and is claimed to be their best work, running for 200 nights in Chicago. Dorothy Brenner is the chief comedienne and her singing of "When I Feel Like Loving" is one of the big hits of the piece.

Rose Stahl in "The Chorus Lady" is the current Olympic bill.

Neil O'Brien has a new act this season with Lew Dockstader's Minstrels, which opens a week's engagement at the Century with next Sunday's matinee. He appears as proprietor of a sanitarium called "The House of Rest," and his troubles with the inmates lead up to a side-splitting climax. In the first half of the program he sings his latest song, Everybody Turned Round and Looked at Me," Lew Dockstader also has a new feature, and other good things are promised.

"The Alaskan" is this week's Century offering.

"The Wolf," Eugene Walter's successful melodrama, enters upon the second week of its present Garrick engagement next Sunday. It is playing to crowded houses this week, the orchestra having been removed to the gallery to increase the seating capacity of the lower house. William Courtenay and Frances Ring lead the excellent company.

Gus Edwards' new and successful musical play, "School Days," comes to the Grand next Sunday afternoon direct from the Circle Theater, New York, where it has enjoyed a long run at high prices. It is promised that company, scenery and costumes will be the same as in the New York production. The company of 55 includes Herman Timberg, Janet Priest, Keno and Lynn and other clever people. There is a large singing and dancing chorus, twenty successful songs and the Eight Dancing Devils are an added feature for the St. Louis engagement. Ladies and children in the audience on matinee days other than Sundays will be invited to a stage reception.

"The Wizard of Oz" is this week's bill.

Beulah Poynter in her own dramatization of Mary J. Holmes' famous novel, entitled "Lena Rivers," will be the Imperial's offering for the week beginning with next Sunday's matinee. The play has been very successful for several seasons, and the present company is said to be exceptionally strong.

"In at the Finish" is now at this house.

Lillian Mortimer, in a new play from her own pen, entitled "A Girl's Best Friend," opens a week's engagement at Havlin's next Sunday afternoon. The play's scenes are laid in Southern Virginia, and it is said to tell a thrilling story, introducing the star's thoroughbred mare, "Queen," in the second act. Souvenirs will be given ladies attending the Wednesday and Friday matinees. Manager Garen will give prizes to the best buck-and-wing amateur dancers Friday night. Beginning with this engagement, on Friday afternoons and evenings each week, Manager Garen will present an amateur company in the second act of the play then at Havlin's.

"The Little Organ Grinder" is the present bill.

The headliner at the American Theater with the change of bill next Monday afternoon and evening will be Harrison Hunter in a one-act sketch entitled "The Van Dyke." Merian's trained dogs, 30 in number, will star in "The Elopement of Salome." A third feature will be Mlle. De Dio, fire dancer, in four electrical pictures and pantomime. Other features are a sketch entitled "Love a la Mode;" G. Herbert Mitchell, baritone; Mathews and Reese, English specialty artists; Mitchell and Cain, minstrels; Sue Smith, prima donna, and the kinodrome pictures.

The big turn this week is the Gibson Girls.

Ezra Kendall, last season's star in "The Land of Dollars," will be the New Columbia's headliner next week, appearing in an amusing monologue. Henry Keane and Olive Briscoe will present a bright little playlet entitled "A Trial Marriage." Other features are Clifford and Burke, in blackface comedy; Hymen Meyer, "the man at the piano," in one of the most novel acts in vaudeville; Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Colby, in a black-art act called "Kimo;" Van Cleve, Denton and Pete the Mule, showing a lady's and a negro's adventures with a real circus mule; Joe La Fleur, assisted by his prize Mexican Chihuahua, in a combination of agility and strength, and Pollard, the European comedy juggler.

May Boley, singing comedienne, heads this week's bill.

One of the newest German farce successes, "Die Hochzeit des Reservisten" (The Wedding of the Reserve Guardsman), by Zell and Fuchs, music by Julius Kern, will be presented by the German stock company at the Odeon next Sunday evening. It created a furore abroad because of the vivacity of its action and the charming quality of its musical score. That delightful soubrette, Frieda Loeber, will play the leading part of Hedwig Chiari, a prima donna. Hans Loebel, Errst Naumann, Fritz Kidaisch, Ferdinand Welb, Louise Pellmann and others will have good comedy parts.

The newest burlesque attraction of the season, Charles Falke's Fashion Plates, will open a week's engagement at the Standard with next Sunday's matinee. The curtain raiser is a rapid-fire comedy entitled "The Three Skins," there will be an exceptionally bright vaudeville bill, the feature of which is the thrilling "slide for life" by the Kishi Hashimoto troupe, and the bill closes with the original Oriental farce, "Buying a Harem."

The Tiger Lilies are now at the Standard.

Fred Irwin's Big Show comes to the Gayety for the week beginning next Sunday afternoon. Two new catchy burlettas, entitled "The Great White Way" and "Ladies' Day at the Actor's Club," will be presented, introducing the company's comedy stars, and the vaudeville bill comprises four novel numbers, Walsh Lynch and company in "Huckins' Run," Brady and Mahoney in "The Hebrew Fireman and His Foreman," the charming Gertie De Nutt and the Watson Sisters.

The Transatlantic Burlesquers are this week's offering.

PLAYGOERS' GUIDE.

CENTURY — "The Alaskan." Musical play with lines so dull as fatally to handicap a rather pleasing score.

OLYMPIC—Rose Stahl in "The Chorus Lady." Splendid production by star and strong company of a modern classic in slang.

GARRICK—"The Wolf." Exciting melodrama, well played by clever company.

GRAND—"The Wizard of Oz." Fantastic spectacular musical play, well presented.

IMPERIAL—"In at the Finish." Lincoln J. Carter melodrama. Full of thrills.

HAVLIN'S — "The Little Organ Grinder." Heart-interest melodrama with long-suffering heroine, happy at last.

AMERICAN—Bright vaudeville bill, with Gibson Girls as topliners.

COLUMBIA — Good vaudeville, with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clay Blaney as topliners.

STANDARD—Tiger Lilies. Burlesque and vaudeville.

GAYETY — New Transatlantic Burlesquers. Burlesque and vaudeville.

Our Lines of Tailored Suits at $19.75 and $24.75 Are Unexampled Values at the Prices—Third Floor

We have distributed them this season by the thousands, and still the lines today present an unbroken front. The truth is, they are more comprehensive than ever before, because many new models are added from day to day.

The supreme values and magnificent styles we show are the result of a selling campaign planned months and months ahead, when our purpose was explained to every one of the most prominent makers in the country. We expressed a willingness to pay a much higher price than usual for Suits to retail at those figures; in fact, we had to pay it in order to secure the workmanship, lining, interlining and materials we stipulated, and even then the manufacturers had to meet us half way in order to provide such splendid values.

Compared with the usual line of Tailored Suits offered at those prices, we might justifiably pronounce these of greater value, but we do not. We are simply establishing a higher standard of Tailored Suits at these popular prices.

In the main these garments are reproductions of high-priced models, many of them have been greatly modified to meet the requirements of the majority.

The materials used are pure wool broadcloths, chevron stripes, cheviots, serges and fancy mixtures, in all the new shades, including wistaria, taupe, tan, catawba, navy, brown, canard, blue and rose; also Broadcloth Suits in pastel shades.

Come in a great variety of styles; 27, 30, 36 and 42 inch coats. Directoire coats, variously trimmed; semi-fitted, plain tailored, with large pocket and buttons; tight fitting; strictly tailored; skirts in the newest full gored flare styles; the range of models is practically without a limit; you will find nowhere such values at $19.75 and $24.75.

A Startling Statement

New York Medical Authorities Claim Dyspepsia Causes Consumption.

The post mortem statistics of the big New York hospitals show that some cases of consumption are due to unchecked dyspepsia, especially when the victim was predisposed to tuberculosis.

Dyspepsia wears out the body and brain, the weakened, irritable stomach is unable to digest food, the body does not receive the required nourishment, constipation ensues and the victim becomes thin, weak and haggard. As a result, the body becomes a fertile field for the germs of disease to lodge and flourish.

Therefore, the person who permits dyspepsia to progress unhindered is guility of contributing toward the development of one of the most insidious and fatal diseases known to mankind.

Dyspepsia is curable if properly treated. Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. sell a remedy which they positively guarantee will cure indigestion or dyspepsia or they will pay for all the medicine used during the trial. This remedy is an absolutely new medical discovery and has been named Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Certainly no offer could be more fair, and the offer of the Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. is proof positive that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are a dependable and infallible remedy. Inasmuch as the medicine will cost you nothing if it does not benefit you we urge you who are sufering with indigestion or dyspepsia to try this remedy. A twenty-five cent box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets contains enough medicine for fifteen days' treatment. Remember, Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are only sold in St. Louis by the Wolff-Wilson Drug Co.

GET THAT ODOR OF PINES? IT'S A FOREST FIRE

Possibly It's Wafted From Michigan; Bowie Blames the Ozarks.

CHRISTMAS TREES BURN

Price in St. Louis Will Be Higher Than in Years, Dealers Say.

There's a smell of pine in the air.

Not the pleasant aroma that comes from the living, fourishing lord of the forest, but the pungent tang of burning Christmas trees. That's what it is.

When the south breeze died Tuesday night and the air was calm for several hours, smoke from the forest fires drifted into St. Louis. Forecaster Bowie thinks it came from the Pine forests of the Ozarks.

It was so all-pervading and so odorour that many St. Louisans thought their houses were on fire and searched for the blaze.

Smoke Enshrouds Keokuk.

The condition here was different only in degree from that which prevails further north.

Press dispatches say that the harbor of Keokuk, Io., is so enshrouded in forest fire smoke from Wisconsin and Michigan that steamboats cannot navigate. Pilots refuse to venture into the stream fearing that they will run their boats aground because of their inability to see the bars and the danger lights along the bank.

Dispatches from New York say incoming ocean vessels report clouds of smoke from Michigan and Wisconsin off the Atlantic Coast and the World of Tuesday contained an editorial commenting on the heavy smoke blanket that has settled over New York from the same source.

Christmas Trees to Be High.

The price of Christmas trees will be higher than for years, St. Louis commission dealers say. Most of the trees sold here come from Wisconsin, where there have been extensive fires in the pine and spruce forests, from which the supply is drawn.

A prairie fire which swept over a quarter of a mile of meadow land at Archer avenue and the Watson road, near the southwestern city limits, last night, caused excitement among residents living east of there.

Volunteers, working with wet sacks and shovels, had the fire under control when city firemen arrived. Property belonging to Charles Schoenfeld and valued at $190 was burned in his field. It consisted mainly of oats, millet seed and pumpkins.

YOUNG WOMAN FOUND DEAD AFTER TELLING OF OPERATION

While Ill She Was Visited in Her Room by a Street Department Superintendent.

Alone in the second floor back room at 3223 Lucas avenue, where she had lived for 10 months, Blanche Graham, lace saleswoman for a downtown department store, died Wednesday, taking with her to the grave the secret of the identity of the woman who performed the operation which caused her death.

Miss Graham was 26 years old and came to St. Louis three years ago from Little Rock, Ark. Tuesday afternoon she went home from her work and told Mrs. Firmine that she was ill.

Later she asked that William Ward, a street department superintendent, of 1156 North Leonard avenue, be sent for. Ward responded to the summons and remained at her bedside until 11 p. m.

At 2 a. m. Miss Graham told Mrs. Firmine that an operation had been performed on her Sunday. She refused to divulge the name of the woman to whom she said she went.

She was found dead in bed at 5:30 a. m. Mackey went to Ward's home to notify him, but Ward was not there. He then notified the police.

RIVER INSPECTION IS BEGUN

Members of Commission Start on Semiannual Tour.

The Mississippi River Commission started Wednesday on its semi-annual tour of inspection of river improvement work between Cairo and New Orleans.

Col. William H. Bixby, president of the board, is in charge of the investigation. He is accompanied by Col. John A. Ockerson, Lieut. Col. William T. Roessel, Maj. James G. Warren, Robert S. Taylor, Henry B. Richardson, Homer P. Ritter and Capt. G. R. Lukesh, all members of the commission.

TRANSOM THIEF GETS 5 YEARS

Harry Clayton Considered Leader of a Band.

When Harry Clayton was sentenced Tuesday afternoon by Judge Foster to serve five years in the Penitentiary there was rejoicing in the Detective Bureau.

"There'll not be any more transom jobs for a while," declared Assistant Chief of Detectives McCarthy.

Clayton, who is accredited with being the leader of the gang of burglars who have been entering stores through transoms, pleaded guilty to entering the store of Oliver J. Fritch, jeweler, at 6105 Horton place. Jewelry valued at $1000 was stolen.

ACTRESS AND CLUBWOMAN DISAGREE ABOUT BALLOT

Clubwoman Says Women's Suffrage Will Result in Many Needed Reforms.

The Rev. Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane, of Kalamazoo, Mich., gave the eight hundred delegates to the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs a shock in East St. Louis Tuesday night when she entered upon an earnest appeal for woman's suffrage. Three years ago a suffrage speech would have met with open disapproval by the clubwomen but on this occasion there was a murmur of approval when the speaker said "Women's rights are coming and you are coming with them."

"They tell us," she added, "that a woman does not need her vote, that she can influence her husband to vote for her interest. I would be ashamed of my husband if he permitted me to influence his vote. He has only one and I want him to cast it as his manhood tells him to, without fear or favor or influence from the outside.

"The woman should have a vote so that she could help to obtain better schools for the children, better playgrounds, more parks, cleaner houses, pure food, clean conditions generally.

"My answer to the man who says woman should stay at home and mind her own business is that a woman's sphere is sometimes outside the home and inside the baby. When women have votes there will be no impure milk sold that means death to infants. The ballot for woman is sure to come and it should come"'

One Killed 18 Hurt in Tornado.

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 21.—One person was killed, 18 were injured and much property was destroyed by a tornado at Tucumcari, N. M., last night. J. S. Owens' residence was blown over and his 8-year-old daughter was crushed to death.

Grace Van Studdiford Would Put Her Vote in a Safety Deposit Vault.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—It is fashionable in theatrical circles these days for actresses to profess a burning desire to vote and help regulate things. Many of them are becoming suffragettes, or joining the more peaceful suffragists.

But Grace Van Studdiford of St. Louis is not one of them. To a Post-Dispatch reporter today she declared that the home is the only place for a woman who is not obliged to go out into the world. Fame is very well in its way, and the winning of a fortune is not to be despised, but to her better than those dazzling prizes of the world of work are a clear fire, a well-swept hearth, a singing teakettle and sweet domesticity.

As a matter of fact, Miss Van Studdiford doesn't own an open fireplace, or even a teakettle and her hearthstone is the hotel radiator which forms the hearthstone of any other singing bird of passage, but she believes in all these things.

"I don't want to vote," she said. "If I had a vote I should probably put it away in my safe deposit vault. Think of standing in line on a cold and rainy day while you are waiting your turn to cast your silly little ballot.

"The power of the ballot! Why the gentle, domestic home woman has more power over man in her little finger than the most strenuous suffragette who ever stood in line for hours to vote and acquired a bad temper and a weather-beaten complexion in the process."

For workingwomen Miss Van Studdiford admits the case is different, and if the ballot can help the factory girl and the sweatshop slave and the little girl who stands all day in the department shops to better hours and better wages, the singer, in common with all other women of feeling and intelligence, hopes that they may get it.

YALE WILL YET PROVE BEST OF THE BIG THREE Expert Cochems, in Analysis of Football Teams, Places Harvard Second.

EDDIE COCHEMS.

IN the following article Mr. Cochems undertakes to analyze the status of the various elevens of the country, basing his opinion on the work of the clubs done so far in competition.

In so far as posible, he has studied the accounts of the various games and weighed the value of the various players of the different teams before giving his opinion.

Contrary to the general belief Mr. Cochems does not rate Harvard the best of the Big Three elevens of the East, nor does he esteem Princeton as weak as do the majority of followers of the college sport. His reasons for both opinions will be found in the ensuing article.

In the West, where Chicago is supposed to be the leader, Cochems shows why Wisconsin has the superior team and why it will demonstrate its superiority during the coming season.

EDWARD B. COCHEMS,

Coach of St. Louis University Eleven.

THE coming games to be played Saturday will more than any others show the relative strength of the big teams of the country. This is true, even though most of the teams play minor or secondary colleges. The big contest of the East is the Pennsylvania-Carlisle conflict.

These two teams, while outlaws as far as the "Big Four" are concerned, nevertheless always are dangerous opponents and seem to afford ground for comparison of the other big games. They are bitter rivals, and both have an immense backing in Philadelphia. At the present writing, provided both teams are, on Saturday, reasonably free from injuries to players, I believe Pennsylvania will win.

In Manier, the old Vanderbilt fullback, Pennsy has a wonderful ground-gainer, and Capt. Hollenbach is the equal of any man behind the line in the East. Pennsylvania's back field is well fortified, and, while her line is not so powerful, it is, on the other hand, active enough to repel a line-plunging march toward goal.

The Indians may win, should Thorpe keep up his kicking record. However, this is scarcely to be expected. Should the Indians defeat Pennsy, they will become the strongest contenders of the East for the coveted championship.

Harvard Not Best of the Big Three Elevens of Present Year

The Harvard-Navy game is the next important contest. Harvard will win, but the size of its score is the only factor of meaning, since it bears on the Yale-Army game of last Saturday, 6 to 0. The Army and Navy are usually of about equal strength, and find their class in the second division. Harvard's score would be meaningless, but for the fact that it seems apparently to be her policy this year to let the team score as often as possible, rather than hold back and waste points in the effort to perfect special features of team-work.

At the present time critics pick Harvard as the premier team of the East, Yale second, Pennsylvania third and Princeton a poor fourth. However, I would favor Yale to defeat Harvard and Pennsylvania to be a contender for third place. It must be remembered that while Princeton so far has made an extremely poor showing, it is due largely to the fact that Dillon, her captain and star quarterback, and two others of the regulars have been out of the game.

One reason why Harvard will not win the Yale game is that she has been using too many players in each game. The elimination process should be at its mile-end by now. Yale has but few places that are doubtful on her team.

Dartmouth seems to be weak this year as represented by her showing against Williams. It really is tradition at the Hanover institution to beat Williams by 18 to 0 at this stage of the season. Dartmouth will not defeat Harvard as she did, 11 to 0, when in 1903 their game dedicated the new Harvard stadium.

Army and Navy Elevens Rank Close to Big Teams at Present

The Army and Navy should be in the foreground of the second division. Villa Nova, Buchnell, Colgate, Williams, Amherst, Lehigh and Syracuse make up the bulk of the third division. Cornell's status is doubtful.

The championship of the South lies between Vanderbilt, Virginia and Sewanee, with Alabama, Arkansas and Georgia Tech. close seconds.

The strong teams of the Middle West come in the order named: Wisconsin, Chicago, Michigan and Minnesota. Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Purdue are outclassed. The big battle will be between Chicago and Wisconsin Nov. 21. Minnesota and Michigan, under Williams and Yost respectivelly, seem to have been piloted by methods not up to the new conditions. It is hard to draw a line on Michigan, she not being in the big nine, but from her past showing it appears as though both Wisconsin and Chicago could defeat her and Minnesota play her even.

Wisconsin, according to Umpire Kelly, has the very best material in the West. Messmer, Asthop, Steim, Boyle, Muckleston and Rogers are hard to beat. At Chicago, Iddings, Steffen, Crowley, our own St. Louis boy; Page and Shommer, while not quite so formidable in native strength, nevertheless have many clever qualifications that make the scales fairly balance. Injuries, etc., may sway it a notch in either direction, as well as a nicely executed pass or kick. Watch this contest.

St. Louis U. Eleven Still an Unknown Quantity Says Coach

In the Mississippi Valley Nebraska and Missouri seem strongest. The Jayhawkers are yet an unknown quantity, as they have not met the very best teams. Creighton, under Kenney and Schneider, while having a tie score and another 8 to 7 score, will in the end prove strong. Washburn and Oklahoma are not as strong as formerly. Ames is strong but Drake has not shown especial strength. Haskell has not recovered from the blow she received when Houser, Archiquette and Dubois sought new laurels at Carlisle.

Tarkio is the strongest among the minor constellation, such as Milliken, Shurtliff, Illinois College, Carleton College, the normal schools and Drury. Rolla can defeat any of these.

St. Louis University is an enigma.

In the Pacific Northwest the University of Oregon and Washington State College are the most powerful aggregations. Montana, Idaho and Washington State University are outclassed. The Oregon "Aggies" will bear watching.

In Southern California St. Vincent's College, Panama and Occidental will defeat Harvey Holmes University of Southern California. Nevada, Stanford and California Universities play English Rugby.

Colorado College will be champions of the Rocky Mountain section. Utah was eliminated by this school last Saturday.

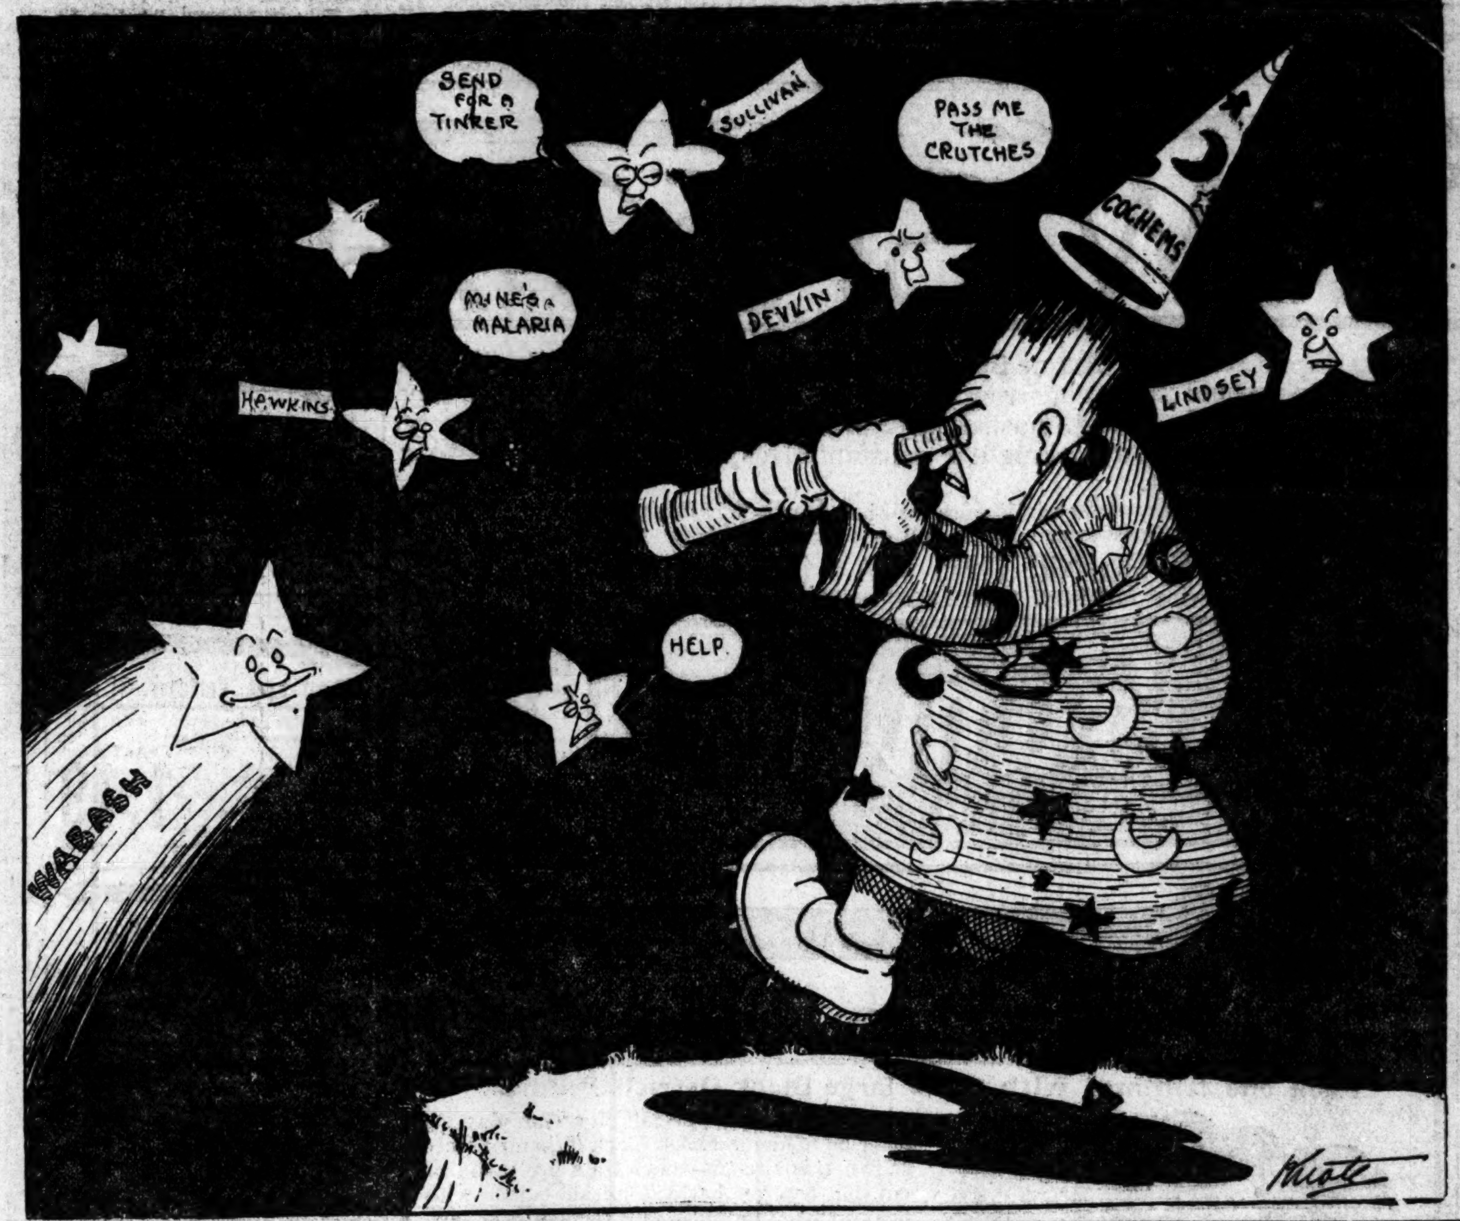
The North Dakota Aggies at Fargo will defeat the University of North Dakota, Hamline, St. Olafs, St. Thomas, Shattuck and the other minor colleges in the wheat belt.

Moore Outfights Moran.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21.—The wind-up at the Douglas A. C. last night brought together Frankie Moore and Jimmie Moran of New York. The former carried the fighting most of the time and crossed the wire a winner by a considerable margin. He outfought Moran in the earlier rounds and clinched and butted Moran in the final rounds. Frankie's work in the final session was very bad. He was hissed by the crowd for his butting. He did some fast fighting in the fourth and fifth rounds.

Reading His Answer in the Stars



BAKED ANKLES MAY HELP OUT COCHEMS' TEAM

Dr. D. C. Todd, faculty member of St. Louis University, a former well-known football player and coach himself, yesterday evening asked Eddie Cochems, coach of the St. Louis University eleven, not to work several players on his team as hard as he has been doing for fear that, in an effort to get the superfluous flesh off some of the big fellows, he might make the light men go "stale."

Frank Cornet, quarterback, was one of the men whom Cochems agreed with Todd it would do well to let up on for a few days. Cornet has been working like a Trojan. He is a light boy and if he kept up his present rate of work would soon be trained down to the amateur bantamweight limit.

Cornell, Merpham and several other of the players on the team are still suffering from badly swollen ankles. Mepham, who has been playing end, will today undergo a treatment known as "baking" to take the soreness out of his ankles. Mepham was considerably over weight when he started practice, and it was a great strain on his ankles because of all the running he was forced to do to get into condition. If Mepham comes around all right the "baking" process will be tried on other players.

KERMIT ROOSEVELT IS THIRD IN TWO-MILE HARVARD RACE

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 21.—Kermit Roosevelt of the Harvard Class of 1912, won third place in the two-mile race in the annual fall Freshmen track meet held in the Stadium Tuesday afternoon. Kermit ran a plucky race, and held his lead until he reached the back stretch on the last lap.

Both the winner, Groves, and Roosevelt, were passed by Boyd, who came up with a fine burst of speed on the back stretch. Groves and Roosevelt ran close behind the leader, and closed the gap. Both runners passed Boyd on the homestretch, but the strain was too great for young Roosevelt and Boyd passed him near the finish, beating Kermit for second place.

WRAY'S COLUMN.

COACH CAYOU'S football men are coming up to the highest expectations of the physicians. As fast as one cripple leaves the hospital there is always another there to take his place.

Fair Play will enter the cup races in England. According to our Olympic team, he would better have been entered in that famous 400 meter Stadium race.

With the possibility of himself becoming a magnate at Kansas City, one cannot expect the famous catcher of the Chicago Nationals to forever Kling to the Cubs.

In desperation at his inability to make good for even the Cardinals, Shortstop Reilly yesterday committed matrimony.

Coach Cayou is not figuring that Washington will have the Indian sign on Kansas next Saturday; but by establishing arcs on the campus for night practice he hopes to be able to throw additional light on the probable outcome of the game.

Packey McFarland will tonight whet his appetite for Tommy Murphy in a six-round warm-up with Leach Cross at New York. No, Cross is not the same man so well known to the prize ring of the past as Double Cross. He may prove a near relative on investigation, however.

IN the preliminary leads in the game between Latonia and the Kentucky Racing Commission, the latter seems to have lost the first trick. At least all rules say that he who revokes must pay the penalty, and it is understood that the commission revoked Latonia's license.

Evidently the reason behind Wabash's demand for $1 admission seats to Saturday's game is highly personal. The higher the price the fewer will be on hand to make unpleasant remarks after defeat. At least that's an undergraduate explanation.

Isn't the season of beating the Tigers about over for the Cubs? These post-season trouncings are not in good baseball taste.

Missouri's eleven has at last made its mark. It will be found upon seven Hawkeye huskies who were so imprudent as to interfere with the Tigers' repast, last Saturday.

If the Missouri eleven wins from Kansas this year it is hoped it will not go into a longer period of sackcloth and ashes than followed the successes of 1895. The Tigers, it seems, must always pay a heavy penalty for a single season's good fortune.

Nebraska is to play a post-season game with the Carlisle Indians on Dec. 2. Doubtless the Cornhuskers figure that the Indians will be hopelessly crippled after St. Louis gets through with them. Oh, yes. We have Eddie Coachems' word for this.

ONE by one the hopelessly crippled of Coachems' eleven are arriving from their hospital beds at the gridiron side. The outline for the week is as follows, for all hospital inmates:

Sunday—Hopelessly injured, no chance to get into the game for the remainder of the season.

Monday—High fever, temperature 104.

Tuesday—Able to take broth.

Wednesday—Out for signal work.

Thursday—Smashed up three scrubs in practice work.

Friday—Had to be restrained from injuring himself on the practice field, owing to extraordinary activity.

Saturday—Scored three touchdowns.

Sunday—In hospital again.

Repeat this program ad libitum for the rest of the season for best results.

PRINCETON TO USE VARSITY IN GAME TODAY

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 21.—The line-up for today's game with Fordham as announced last night looks as if the Princeton coaches meant business. The choice of men to begin the game is very nearly a first-grade eleven. Dowd and Welsh will play ends. Booth, who has played but little in previous games, is paired with Siegling in the tackle position. Waller and Cass have the center of the line, and Coxe, Cunningham and Read the back field.

COURT PROCEEDINGS WILL ASSURE LATONIA'S FUTURE

CINCINNATI, Oct. 21.—Notwithstanding the cloud of uncertainty that covered the future of the Latonia fall racing meeting, all preparations for the completion of the meeting were continued today, the managers of the track expressing confidence that the State Racing Commission would be unable to stop them at once. The commission holds another meeting at Lexington today to consider the matter further and take such action as may be considered necessary.

Meantime, the track management, basing their action on the law providing for the State Racing Commission, prepared to go into the courts to prevent any immediate adverse action by the commission while securing from the courts a decision of points at issue.

Kling May Manage Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 21.—If Johnny Kling, the well-known catcher of the Chicago Cubs, can gain control of the Kansas City baseball club he will quit the world's champions to manage the Kansas City team of the American Association. It is said that Kling is willing to take $25,000 worth of stock in the Kansas City club.

LIVE NEWS BRIEFS ABOUT ALL SORTS OF SPORT

Notes of the Gridiron.

COACH CROSBY of the McKinley team resembles Coach M. W. Walker of the Central High School in build and actions. Walker has been a big success at the Grand avenue school and Crosby is certainly making good for McKinley.

St. Louis University men who watched the practice of the eleven last night declared positively that the Wabash College team would be beaten and beaten badly in Saturday's game. Cochems certainly has given his eleven some nice plays. It is about time for the St. Louis U. coach to inaugurate secret practice, however, as he does not know who will stray on the field to get a line on his signals and formations.

Kansas does not look so formidable to Coach Cayou of the Washington eleven. He has his men in perfect trim. The eleven will be light. Considering the number of players barred by the faculty, the Indian coach will be entitled to great credit if his eleven even holds the score down reasonably.

Flaeger of Northwestern University and C. A. Porter, a former Cornell man will act as the officials for the game between Wabash and St. Louis U. Saturday. Joe Hunter, also of Northwestern will in all probability be head linesman.

Jesse Robinson, and Conklin, sub quarterbacks on the St. Louis U. team, are receiving quite a bit of attention from Cochems since Eddie Murphy quit the game.

Bowling Brevities.

THE Hyde Parks took the measure of the Nadjas, 2-1, in their City Tenpin League match on the De Soto alleys last night. Fred Langenberg was back at his regular position as lead-off man for the Hyde Parks, but the "Boss" was away off form, and only registered an average of 176, a figure that he will wager his bowling alleys that he can beat any day in the week.

The Cabanne League has quite a few bowlers who get the "lumber" in good style. Hall, Lock, Wilder, Newberry Jones and Lauer all averaged over 200 in the matches this week.

Teams of the St. Louis Tenpin League will shoot this evening on the Grand alleys, the Bankers being scheduled to meet the Jaegers and the Schneidts will oppose the Grands. The first match should be a good one, as the Jaegers when good are very good. The Bankers shot a fine game against the Times team last week and are about due for a slump below the 900 average mark at least once in a while.

What has become of the individual city championship tournament? It seems that in the rush to organize the Inter-state League that the most popular of the local competitions last year has been abandoned. Seven games is a hard route to travel every Saturday or Sunday afternoon for the entire bowling season, and it was no wonder that some of the best bowlers in the city declared that they could not compete this year.

Red Ball Championship Trophy.

JUDGING from the present talk, there is a possibility of a suitable red ball championship billiard emblem offered for competition in a tournament to be held some time this winter. It is the idea to have the emblem subject to challenge. Charley Peterson is the present red ball champion, but the silver cup that he won is not subject to challenge.

Thomas Hueston had to play championship pool to win out from Ed Hart in their match at the Rex last night, Hueston scoring 125 points to Hart's 65. Hart is the amateur champion of the city. Jake Bobmeyer plays Hueston this afternoon, and in the evening Tommy will have to put his nose to the grindstone and work, as Martin Maley, a professional billiardist, will oppose Hueston, and, barring accidents, the $50 promised to the player making the best showing against Hueston should go to Maley, "the tamer of champions."

Zell will oppose Agens in the three-cushion billiard tournament match at the Rex this evening. Last night Brown defeated Albright 30 to 18. Brown made one run of three.

"Paddy" Corgan, who from associating with billiard and pool experts got the notion that he could play pool, bumped up against the Hueston buzz saw in a practice game yesterday afternoon. When the sawdust had settled down it was found that Crogan had pocketed exactly the skiddoo number of balls, 23, while Hueston was rolling in his 125. "Paddy" is young and his friends hope he will do better next time.

TALK OF EVERS AS MANAGER OF THE CARDINALS

Name of Cubs Star Player Has Been Whispered as Successor to McCloskey.

By JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

UNDOUBTEDLY there is something to the rumor that John J. McCloskey will not be manager of the St. Louis Cardinals next season. Who will be secured to succeed John J. is still a matter of doubt and it is quite possible that after all the possible applicants for the job have been considered, Owner S. M. Robison will decide that John J. is better than any of them.

Up in Chicago during the world's series completed last week, the name of a prominent baseball player was whispered about among a few persons as the coming manager of the Cardinals and it took every one by surprise. Undoubtedly there has been nothing done toward securing this player for the job and it is even doubtful if this player knows that his name has been mentioned for the place. However, let it be said that he is too smart a baseball player to be kept under some one else all his life. He is at present a member of the Chicago World's Champions and is none other than Johnny Evers, the scrappy little second baseman conceded by all critics as the greatest second baseman in the game today.

There is no chance for John J. Evers to ever become manager of the Chicago team. Frank Chance is good for a number of years to come as a player and then will doubtless continue to manage the team for years to come after he is no longer in the game. Chance owns a big block of the stock in the club and he is a permanent fixture for Chicago.

Evers joined the Cubs about five years ago as a raw recruit. He has developed into the best infielder in the business. He is the smartest player on the Chicago team today, not excepting anybody, and he's too good a leader to keep in a minor position throughout his career on the diamond. Evers would welcome a managerial birth in a major league and he is one of about three National League players today who is fitted to take such a position.

But how St. Louis could be so fortunate to get the best second baseman in the world away from Chicago is something that none can understand. Evers is one of the most popular players that ever wore a Chicago uniform. He is a high salaried player and is perfectly satisfied with his lot. But you can't keep a good man down and Johnny Evers is made of the kind of stuff that make good managers. Chicago might give him up if it could be shown that he would have a better chance to make a great name for himself in St. Louis. By making him manager of the St. Louis club President Robison would have some hold on Owner Murphy of the Cubs in forcing the release of the little star.

Chicago Capital Connected With Scheme to Bring Evers Here

CONNECTED with the rumor of Evers, was the name of a wealthy Chicago man who is said to have ambitions to become a magnate and it was stated he desired to purchase the St. Louis club with the idea of securing Johnny Evers of the Chicago club to come down here as manager. It was even said President Murphy of the Chicago club had spoken encouragingly of the scheme.

There are but few players in the National League today who are fitted for such a job. Roger Bresnahan would without doubt be a grand leader for the St. Louis club and then too, the club needs a catcher more than a second baseman. Another player of the National League that would make a strong manager is Tommy Leach of the Pittsburg team. He is a third baseman and would undobutedly help out the crippled infield of the Cardinal team. Leach was named as a possible manager for the Cincinnati club last winter but the job was finally given to John Ganzel.

If Mr. Robison insists on a playing manager and expects to pick one from the National League, it seems he must take one of the three men, Bresnahan, Evers or Leach. There are a number of others who might be given a chance but none who compares with any of the three named.

Of course it would be a difficult matter to get Johnny Evers away from the Chicago club. But if President Robison of the Cardinals went to President Murphy of the Cubs and said he wanted Evers for manager and would pay him more money to act as manager than Murphy could pay him as a player, what could Mr. Murphy say? He couldn't keep his thumb on Evers and it would seem that he would have to let him go. Of course the Chicago club would expect a player or two in exchange or else a big sum in cash.

CARLISLE ELEVEN HAS LARGE HOSPITAL LIST

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CARLISLE, Pa., Oct. 21.—The hard luck of the Carlisle Indian football eleven has not been exaggerated by Coach Warner, as the school hospital records testify. Center Napoleon Burrel went to the hospital today, and in the opinion of the school physician only has a bare chance of playing against Pennsylvania Saturday.

Every possible effort is being made to prepare the Indians for the approaching Philadelphia game, which gives promise of being the hardest contest of the year. Every experienced man that is lost to the Indians counts heavily against Carlisle's chances of winning.

Little Boy may go to center and Jordan, a newcomer, to right tackle, at which position both worked in the scrimmage of 40 minutes against the second team Tuesday. The Carlisle backfield is in reasonably good condition. Halfbacks Thorpe and Winnie carried the ball well, but Thorpe drop-kicked in an indifferent way, which greatly discouraged Coach Warner.

The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Father Gilfillan. White chrisanthemums will decorate the chapel and altar. Miss Katherine Verner of Pittsburg will be maid of honor and Miss Alice Verner of Pittsburg, Miss Marjory Mason of Chicago and Miss Winnefred Corbett of Detroit, will be bridemaids. The wedding gown will be of white messalin satin and point lace and the bride's attendents will wear pale pink messalin and carry pink roses. Short bridesmaids' veils caught by pink roses will be worn. There will be a large reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cunningham, of McPherson avenue. Mr. Butts and his bride will depart the same evening for an Eastern honeymoon journey. Upon their return they will go to housekeeping in Park View place.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Glover Smith returned home Saturday from their honeymoon journey in the West and are housekeeping at 4902 Forest Park boulevard. Mrs. Smith was before her marriage, early in September, Miss Anna Force.

The wedding of Miss Marie Hannauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hannauer of 2205 Victor street, and Mr. Adolf Hezel was celebrated at high mass Wednesday morning at SS. Peter and Paul's Church. Mr. Hezel had Mr. Oscar Freese as best man and the bride had her sister, Miss Lydia Hannauer, as maid of honor. The wedding colors were carried out in rainbow effect, the bridemaids wearing pastel-colored gowns of pale blue, pink, primrose, Nile and lavender. They were Misses Hezel, Mathilda Strassberger, Louise Blinken and Eleanor Hannauer. The ushers and groomsmen were Messrs. R. J. Pfeffer, Henry Ochs, Wachter and Harry Richman. There was a wedding breakfast and reception after the ceremony at the bride's parents' home.

There will be an afternoon tea Thursday from 3:30 to 5:30 at the Missouri Athletic Club. There will be vocal and instrumental music.

TO HEAL A SORE.

Effective Way to Heal Rashes and Ulcers.

The simplest way to heal any sore is as follows: Wet a cloth with X-Zalia and place the cloth directly on the sore. If possible bandage it and keep the sore wet with this liquid, which can be had at any drug store. The worst of running sores are quickly healed in this way.

WOULD YOU WED ON $12 A WEEK? SOME SAY "YES"

Post-Dispatch Readers Disagree Over Boston Minister's Opinions.

WHAT IF WORK FAILS

No Use to Start Housekeeping on Poverty, One Writer Declares.

The opinions of the Rev. Herbert S. Johnson, pastor of the Warren Avenue Baptist Church of Boston do not meet with the unqualified approval of all readers of the Post-Dispatch.

The minister said he would withdraw a recent promise to marry without charge any couple who couldn't spare the clergyman's fee, and that, instead of his previous liberality, he would, in the future, decline to perform the marriage ceremony in any case where the income of the contracting parties was less than $12 weekly.

This topic is akin to that of "30-cents-a-day" which recently aroused such extended discussion in the Letters From the People column of the Post-Dispatch, and several communications commenting on Dr. Johnson's statements, have been received at this office. Among them were the following:

An Indefensible Position.

"The Boston preacher who says he won't marry a couple whose income is $12 a week or less has stultified himself. His position is indefensible, whether or no the sum named is sufficient to support a family. If a man and woman, skilled in thrift, feel certain that they can meet the demands of domestic economy on $12 a week or less, what right has any Boston clergyman to deny them the privilege of linking their fortunes, working together for the highest good of both and raising a family of children to toil or fight for the glory of this country?

"On the other hand, if $12 a week be insufficient, how can a man whose mission is to teach righteousness and humanity, hold his peace when uncounted thousands are forced to be content with such incomes? If $12 a week is not enough to keep a family and if men are compelled to work for that sum, it strikes me a minister with an active conscience would thunder from his pulpit against the horrible conditions that shut out his fellow beings from opportunity to attain the full stature of their manhood and womanhood.

"Either this preacher has fallen into sad error or he is shirking his duty by keeping silent when every beat of his heart should drive him to speak, and speak loudly, against prevalent injustice. FAIR PLAY."

When the Breadwinner's Job Is Lost.

"Rev. Mr. Johnson of Boston has made a wise decision when he says he will refuse to marry couples that haven't more than $12 a week. The man who earns such wages must be a laborer, dependent on the caprice of his employer. If the money market is tight or trade dull, the plant shuts down. The poor laborer is out of a job. He is turned adrift. He hasn't saved anything—how could he?

'Everything is black and terrible to him. He may have scraped along somehow while the work held out. But what does he do when he loses his job? What does he do after he walks the streets for days and days and can't get a chance to make a nickel? What does he do when he and his loved ones face starvation? He kisses his woman and babies good-by and throws himself into the river because he hasn't ten cents to buy carbolic acid.

"I wonder how many times in the last few months the Post-Dispatch has printed items with headings like this: "Out of Work—Kills Self." Twelve dollars a week is a mighty slender staff at the best and marriage is 'for better or for worse." What about the "worse" when the little job is gone?

ONE WHO HAS SUFFERED.

What Lincoln Had to Say.

"Evidently that Boston pastor never heard of the lawyer Lincoln knew. Somebody asked Lincoln what the lawyer was worth, and Lincoln said: "Well, he has a fine wife. She ought to be worth $50,000 to any man. Then he has five hearty children. They're easily worth $10,000 each. He has one suit of clothes that's still good, though he's been wearing it four years. He has a table and six books in his law office. And then—there's a knot hole in the wall of his office. Now, I've never looked into that knothole, so I couldn't swear it isn't full of money."

'It strikes me that an investment of $12 a week that pays a return in a wife worth $50,000 and five children at $10,000 each is better than buying a house and lot on the easiest terms possible.

"POLITICAL ECONOMIST."

"I see a Boston minister is going to draw the line at marrying folks that only have $12 a week. He's hit the nail on the head. There is an old saying that when poverty comes in at the door love goes out the window. What's the use of starting housekeeping with poverty sitting in the easy chair and crowding love out before the honeymoon ends?

"PHILLIP JACKMAN."

Harvard Philanthropist Dead.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 21.—Charles Eliot Norton, the well-known philanthropist and scholar and for many years a prominent member of the faculty of Harvard University, died early this morning at his home in this city.

Mrs. Pattison Points Art Lesson in Mill Creek Valley Smoke

Club Woman Tells How We May Learn to Appreciate Beauty.

THOUGHT ESSENTIAL

Trouble, She Says, Is That We Do Not Understand and Can't Appreciate.

MRS. EVERETT W. PATTISON.

MRS. EVERETT W. PATTISON, whose address on "Blue Art" was the most discussed feature of the two days' session of the St. Louis District of the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs, which ended Tuesday afternoon at the Temple Israel, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter Wednesday that she wished to offer suggestions to St. Louisans rather than to criticise them.

Mrs. Pattison is the chairman of the Art Committee of the National Federation of Women's Clubs. For this reason and also because of her acquaintance with the leaders of art movements in the East and abroad, her words have great weight with St. Louis clubwomen and art lovers.

In her address Mrs. Pattison humorously ridiculed a group of art lovers who had told her that they thought the impressionist paintings at the Art Museum were "horrid blue art." She then explained why it was that art was so often misunderstood.

"THERE are many cultured persons in St. Louis," said Mrs. Pattison to a Post-Dispatch reporter, but there are so very many who do not understand what taste is and consequently cannot appreciate art. And yet these latter desire to appreciate what is best. They go about in the wrong way.

"Many persons think that every sky is blue and every tree is green. They have not opened their eyes wide enough and have not noticed the blue that is in the atmosphere. So, of course, they cannot understand the paintings of the impressionists. If they made a point of keener observation of nature around them they would understand art when they visited the galleries.

Thought Is Solution.

"There is no reason why everybody cannot learn to appreciate art. It is simply a question of thinking and studying it out—I mean learning the reason why a thing is beautiful and what part of a thing is beautiful and what part not.

"What is most interesting to a person about a balloon ascension? Is it the number of cubic feet of gas the bag contains or the ultimate fate of the balloon? Isn't it rather the subtle curves of the bag as it becomes fuller and fuller, and then rises in almost overwhelming beauty and grace and hangs in the ether?

"The one mitigation in our smoke nuisance is the beauty of the forms and color of smoke and steam in the Mill Creek Valley. Going over Grand Avenue Bridge I've seen effects which equal Turner's 'Rain-Steam-Speed,' and that is undoubtedly among the most wonderful pictures of the world. We admit the beauty of early morning effects even when shuddering at the source.

Beauty in Ugly Things.

"With the Municipal Art Commission, which we women are pledged to work for, with art on the free list, through our assistance, our taste will be cultivated from infancy. And it is most important that children should learn to understand beauty in things which are considered ugly by persons who have not developed taste.

"How can taste in art be cultivated? First of all, let us become receptive. Then let us exercise most constant discrimination and selection.

"Selection is the most important of all. If you have to select for the furnishing of your house between two objects, neither of which please you, why try to find out which is the better of the two, disregarding the price. Frequently the less expensive is in the more perfect taste.

Lesson in Pin Cushions.

"One can begin at home, in bedrooms and kitchens. Look critically at your pin cushions. How often do you see beruffled, ribbon-bedecked pink or blue-lined cushions? Of course it may have been given you by some friend and for that reason you do not wish to throw it away. But if this is not the case certainly you should see, if you think at all, that a simple cushion is in much better taste.

"I have seen in many homes toilet articles almost too heavy to lift. Some are decorated with bunches of roses in silver, or a cupid. What a difference there is in the simple shapes and beautiful color of ivory and ebony utilities.

"Certainly American Beauties are inherently beautiful, but I have seen bunches of them placed in a pink and even in a yellow room. The poor beauties—I have seen them turned blue on account of their surroundings of pink or yellow walls or a horrid mess of sofa cushions.

"The other day I met a group of little fellows wandering through the Art Museum. I asked them if I could show them around. One of the little boys said, 'Oh, yes'm, we want to find the bird cage and is there any monkeys here?'

"Some day these boys, or rather their boys, will come to the museum for the exhibits in a fine receptive mood.

Sculpture Effective Outdoors.

"In Chicago the Municipal Art League recently held an exhibition of sculpture in the rose garden of Humboldt Park, along a meandering path. There were some 50 pieces of sculpture and very well arranged.

"The exhibition was a great success. Those passing through the park and unconsciously admiring the beauties of nature around them seemed to be better able to understand the sculpture in the open than in the museum. This was because the beauties of the park had put them in a receptive mood.

"They are also planning in Chicago to have mural paintings in the Juvenile Court rooms—all designed for the education of the next generation.

"Why shouldn't we in St. Louis have an out-of-door sculpture exhibition every year? Our climate is better adapted to this than Chicago's. And for goodness' sake, if Chicago is to cultivate the taste of its young delinquents by mural decorations in its juvenile courts, let us have better decorations. Thus we shall educate the next generation."

DREAMS DEPUTIES ARE AFTER HIM, JUMPS THROUGH WINDOW

Isbell Had Read Election Fraud Stories and Imagined He'd Been Indicted.

Imagining that he had been indicted and that a legion of deputy sheriffs and citizens were waiting outside to arrest him, William Isbell, 22 years old, jumped through the closed front window of his home, 1040 North Newstead avenue, at 3 a. m. Wednesday.

He was severely cut by broken glass, and was bruised by his fall on the sidewalk. As his room was on the first floor, he escaped fatal injuries.

Isbell was taken to the Mayfield Sanitarium after the accident by his brother, Clement Isbell. He is in danger of an attack of typhoid fever.

Isbell's relatives say he had been in no trouble which could have furnished any rational basis for the idea of indictment. He had been reading of election fraud investigations, and it is thought that, because of his illness of the past few days, this caused him to imagine himself in such trouble.

WOMAN BITTEN BY HYENA IN CAGE LOSES DAMAGE SUIT

Judge Dismisses Action Saying His Sympathy Is Entirely With the Animal.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—"My sympathies are altogether with the hyena," said Supreme Court Justice Marean when Anna Richardson, a Brooklyn woman, brought suit against Frank C. Bostock for $15,000 on the ground that one of his beasts had bitten her hand.

It developed that the woman was standing in front of the hyena's cage at Coney Island when the animal bit her.

"I think it's cruel to lock up wild beasts, and I don't blame them for biting those who go to look at them—you didn't have to go," said the Justice. "I therefore cannot allow any damages."

The hyena, now dead and stuffed, was on exhibition in court.

Glee Club Goes to Meet Cannon.

The Republican Glee Club went to Cape Girardeau Wednesday morning to meet Speaker Joseph G. Cannon. It will sing at a political meeting there and will return to St. Louis with Speaker Cannon at 9 p. m. Wednesday.

FATHER OF 7 IS IN JAIL BECAUSE SON QUIT SCHOOL

Declares He Did Best to Educate Children and Calls Arrest Unfair.

FAMILY NEEDS HIM

Pleads That He Sent Boy to Classes and Thought He Went.

Joseph Currie, father of seven children held prisoner in the Central Police District holdover on the charge of failing to send one of his sons to school, was distressed Wednesday by the fear that his absence from the quarry, where he works daily, would cost him the employment by which he supports his family.

The arrest of Currie in Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Falkenhainer's office Tuesday afternoon was the beginning of a campaign against parents whose children are not regularly in school. Currie was arraigned in the Court of Criminal Correction Wednesday, and, lacking a bondsman, was sent back to the holdover.

"It isn't easy to keep a family of nine on a stonecutter's wages," said Currie to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "Only one of the family is earning anything, and my 14-year-old son, Robert, decided that he would rather work than to go to school this year.

Too Busy to Watch Boy.

"The truant officer complained that my 11-year-old boy, Charlie, had not been in school, and that seems to be what I was locked up for. I told Mr. Falkenhainer I had been working early and late and had not had a chance to follow the boy up, but he told me he had issued a warrent for me, and ordered me locked up.

"Heaven knows I don't want to deprive my children of an education. I've done all I possibly could and it isn't their mother's fault, either, that our family hasn't had all the advantages of the children of the rich.

"All my children of school age have been given as good an education as they could get, and I wish they could go farther. But there are limits to what a man with a family as large and an income as small as mine can do.

Feels Arrest Is Unjust.

"It seems to me unjust that I should be locked up, after the efforts my wife and I have made in behalf of our children."

Mrs. Currie said Wednesday that she had been unable to get the Factory Inspector to issue a permit for Robert, aged 14, to stay out of school, because, as the boy was not born in St. Louis, there was no statistical birth record to which she could refer him.

THERE ARE 49 JAMES BROWNS BUT A BEQUEST FOR ONLY ONE

This Particular Brown Lived on Dodier Street in the Seventies and He's Wanted.

James Brown, come forward and get your money. Forty-eight other James Brownses, stand back. There is an inheritance waiting for one of the 49 James Brownses in the City Directory, but not for the others.

This particular James Brown lived at 2339 Dodier street in the 70s. He was a locomotive fireman then. Later he became a locomotive engineer. After removing from St. Louis relatives heard from him at intervals, but several years ago he ceased writing.

Later information came to them that by the death of an uncle in Washington, D. C., Brown was left an inheritance. In searching for him they have found many James Browns, but not the right one. He was seen several times last spring on an Easton avenue car and is supposed to be living in St. Louis now and to be one of the 49 James Browns in the directory, but his relatives do not know which one.

Anybody who knows the James Brown who lived on Dodier street in the 70s is requested to communicate with J. A. Brown of 3231 Vista avenue.

ST. LOUIS AERO CLUB INVITES BENNETT RACERS TO START HERE

Secretary Kearney Expects Acceptance Because There Isn't Room for Contest in England.

The next international balloon race for the James Gorden Bennett cup may start from St. Louis. Secretary Kearney of St. Louis Aero Club has cabled to L. D. Dozier, president of the St. Louis Aero Club, asking him to extend an invitation to the racers in behalf of St. Louis.

Mr. Kearney also cabled to the Aero Club of Great Britain, extending such an invitation.

He believes that the invitation will be accepted, because the winner, being an Irishman, it would be impossible to start the race at any point on sea-bound England or Ireland. The winner was John Dunville, who piloted the Banshee, a United Kingdom entry.

The legitimate PAID circulation of the Post-Dispatch in St. Louis and its suburbs is greater than that of ALL other English Dailies COMBINED.

THIS MOTOR "COPPER" COST SPEEDERS $5,000 IN LAST TEN MONTHS

TAKES LONG CHANCES

Often Runs Machine 60 Miles an Hour in Overtaking Offenders.

L. A. FERGUSON.

MEN ARRESTED BY FERGUSON, FAST POLICE MOTORCYCLIST

Harry Turner arrested eight times.

Bob Holcomb arrested six times.

Paul Caldwell arrested six times.

William Trombly arrested five times.

Albert Lavelle arrested five times.

Jimmy O'Neil arrested four times.

D. R. Calhoun arrested three times.

Frederick Van Blarcom arrested three times.

Edwin Lemp arrested three times.

John J. Doherty arrested three times.

THE one thing more irritating than a bad stretch of road to St. Louis motorists with a passion for speeding is the throbbing "br-r-r-r-r-r" of the mile-a-minute motorcycle of Policeman Leo Ferguson in their wake. This is because Ferguson has proved that he can stick behind and finally capture any car that has yet appeared in St. Louis and also because he has cost them in the last 10 months more than $5000 in fines.

Ferguson has so cowed even the boldest drivers that the Police Department has now three other motorcycle policemen, Pritchard, Humboldt and Mackey. The arrests made by these three have brought into the city treasury in fines in the last six months more than $7000.

Ferguson is the most dreaded of the squad. Motorists endeavoring to get away from him have turned corners at great speed, taken roads that they hoped would shake their pursuer out of his saddle and attempted many strategies to get away.

Takes Dangerous Chances.

BUT the young policeman—he is 29 years old—takes dangerous chances whenever they are required. He has been thrown from his machine, has collided with lamposts, but eventually he has captured every violator of the law whom he as started after.

Ferguson has been on the force a year and a half. He is a Kentuckian and for several years was a railroad fireman. It was in the engine cab that he got his first idea of speed.

He is of slender built, speaks with a slow, Southern drawl and makes his arrests in a courteous, half-apologetic manner. But the motorists have learned that they cannot get away by arguments and threats once he has stopped them.

"Tell that to the Captain," is all the satisfaction they get from him.

Ferguson Tells of Work.

"IT'S a pretty hard job to catch some of them," he said to a Post-Dispatch reporter, "but if you're careful and know how to handle your machine and aren't afraid of taking chances you can always get them. Every fast chase is a dangerous one, of course, but that makes it all the more exciting.

"There's a whole bunch of fast and skillful drivers in town. Some of them don't want to be caught, and I have to arrest them again and again before they learn that they are not going to get away.

"There's Harry Turner, president of Mississippi Valley Automobile Co. I have to give the palm to him for being the fastest and the cleverest driver in the city. I have arrested him eight times now and he has quieted down. Once I chased him ten miles out to the Country Club. But I got him all the same.

O'Neil a Speedy Driver.

"JIMMY O'NEIL is another of the rich young fellows that like to speed. He has a machine he bought in Italy and that can make over 60 miles an hour. He is a skillful driver, but he doesn't seem to be able to hold his car down to the speed limit.

"D. R. Calhoun likes to speed up occasionally and he can hold his own with any of the younger men. But he is more careful and doesn't speed except when the boulevards are deserted and out in the country.

"Then there's a whole bunch of chauffeurs who have the speed mania. Most of them are skillful but very reckless. Billy Trombly, chauffeur for Sam Thomson, is the leader of this bunch. I have arrested him five times and the last time he was fined $200. I guess he's a little tired of speeding now.

"Bob Holcomb, who used to drive for the former President of the Police Board, A. C. Stewart, I have arrested four times. He's a terror when he's in his machine.

Drivers Have Been Tamed.

"WHEN I went on the job almost every boulevard in town was a speedway. I found that machines were simply burning up the ground on Lindell, Delmar and Washington. King's highway was also very popular, and Clayton road from King's highway out was covered with machines late in the afternoon and night racing at a reckless speed.

"But I went after them and the drivers have tamed down wonderfully. No matter how much money a man has, he doesn't like to pay out $25 and $50 fines. Then the instances where drivers have been prosecuted for criminal carelessness when they've struck pedestrians has frightened them a lot.

Motorcycle Indispensible.

"THE motorcycle is the only machine to catch automobile speeders with. The police auto could do very little good work because it was easily seen and could not start up fast. On my motorcycle I can swing around a corner and get under full speed in a hundred feet."

Ferguson was married a month ago to Miss Augusta Bader. They are now living at 1421 O'Fallon street. He says that his wife has not urged him to give up his dangerous work, but that every day she tells him to be careful.

"And you bet I am," he concluded, "because something very unpleasant might happen when I am getting up close to the mile-a-minute mark if I didn't watch the road ahead and keep the steadiest sort of a grip on my handle bars."

FOREST FIRE PENS BEARS WITH TEACHER AND PUPILS

Fox, Wildcat, Rabbits and Other Wild Animals Accept a Truce in Common Danger and Take Refuge in Plowed Field.

ALPENA, Mich., Oct. 21 Among the most thrilling experiences of survivors of the Presque Isle County forest fires was that of Miss Grace Barber, a school teacher, 19 years old, whose school in Krakow township was in session when the flames swept down upon the building Thursday. A terrified farmer had rushed into the building to give the alarm just as the rear of the school house caught fire.

The young teacher marshalled her pupils in a double row, the largest at the head and ordered them to remain in close order and not to break the line She then directed the leaders to head for a plowed field nearby and the column started on a run, Miss Barber bringing up the rear to prevent straggling.

Burning embers fell thick, but the teacher kept the children crowded close together and every ember was extinguished the instant it fell upon any child's clothing. The fire burned steadily for some time as the blaze in the tops of the trees ate its way down.

Soon animals began to appear upon the edge of the field and during the night two bears made their appearance. A fox came slinking in as did also a wild cat, rabbits, partridges and other game.

The animals kept well away from the children, not even the bears offering hostile demonstrations. Miss Barber kept her charges in the field all Thursday night and in the morning sent them home in groups, piloting the smaller ones herself.

"BET-YOU-A-MILLION" GATES IMMORTALIZES PRIZE BULL DOG

Has Pet "Blondy" Done in Enduring Bronze and "Larger Than Life," Too.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—John W. Gates has immortalized his prize bulldog, Blondy, in enduring bronze. Mr. Gates is very proud and fond of Blondy, which, by the by, is strangely named.

After Mr. Gates learned that Mr. Morse's ice pool was not what it was cracked up to be, he went abroad, and Blondy went along. In Lucerne, Switzerland, Mr. Gates ordered to be cast in bronze, "the very image of Blondy, but larger than life." Again returning from Europe recently Mr. Gates brought the bulldog's heroic statue.

It stands now directly before the door of Mr. Gates' apartment in the Hotel Plaza. It is about three and one-half feet high.

PIPE LINE ON ISTHMUS IS A ROOSEVELT GIFT

Concession Granted Standard Subsidiary Despite Protest From Shonts.

CROMWELL ADVISED IT

E. H. Harriman's Attorney Ruling Spirit in Large Panama Canal Deals.

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—While William Nelson Cromwell, attorney for E. H. Harriman, was chief adviser to President Roosevelt and Secretary of War William H. Taft in all matters relating to the Panama Canal, President Roosevelt, against the wishes of Theodore P. Shonts, then chairman of the canal commission, signed on June 10, 1906, a concession, amounting to a monopoly, by which the Union Oil Co. built a pipe line across the canal zone on the isthmus from one ocean to the other.

The Union Oil Co. is a California corporation owned by the Standard Oil. In signing this concession to the Standard Oil Co.'s subsidiary President Roosevelt took the matter out of the hands of the Panama Canal Commission. The monopoly gained by the Standard Oil Co. is, in the opinion of those who opposed the concession, likely to be perpetual. In the first place the pipe line runs from the City of Panama on the Pacific side to Colon on the Atlantic side. These two cities are in the control of the Republic of Panama and the agents of the Standard Oil Co. obtained exclusive rights from the Republic to run a pipe line in those cities.

Standard Man in Syndicate.

There have been rumors that at least one member of the Standard Oil group of capitalists was in the American syndicate which is reported to have made a huge sum through the sale to the United States in 1904 for $40,000,000 of the property of the French Panama Canal Co. by William Nelson Cromwell.

It has been alleged that the members of this syndicate included Douglass Robinson, brother-in-law of President Roosevelt; Charles P. Taft, brother of William H. Taft and his financial backer in the presidential campaign, and George R. Sheldon, the Wall Street banker, whom Mr. Taft appointed treasurer of the Republican committee upon direction of Mr. Cromwell.

The real power behind Mr. Taft's presidential campaign is Mr. Cromwell, attorney for E. H. Harriman.

The granting of a pipe line concession across the isthmus by President Roosevelt to the subsidiary company of the Standard Oil Co. not only cuts out the earnings of the Panama Railroad, which is owned by the United States, but, it is declared will reduce the earnings of the canal when it is completed. Oil which would now be transported by the railroad and which would go through the canal when completed is sent through the monopoly pipe line.

Chairman Shonts in a letter to Secretary Taft opposing the granting of the monopoly concession made it clear that if the Standard Oil Co.'s subsidiary were given the pipe line rights they would be conclusive.

Shonts Objected to Grant.

Summarizing his objection he wrote: "To grant it to the Union people would be an exclusive concession, contrary to policy, when others are undoubtedly anxious to secure the same privilege.

"It might be added that as a railroad business proposition pure and simple, the granting of a pipe line concession might in effect take away business from the Panama Railroad and in future from the Panama Canal."

In this same letter Mr. Shonts enumerated some of the other companies who were anxious to compete for the oil business on the isthmus. The concerns he named were the Texas company, the Associated Oil Co. of California, the Gulf Refining Co. of Pittsburg, and the Higgins Oil and Fuel Co. of Texas.

Mr. Cromwell, it has been learned, has been making some money himself out of his connection with isthmian affairs. He owns about one-fourth of the capital stock of the Electric Lighting and Power Co. of Panama. This, like the Standard Oil's pipe line, is a monopoly. But it is controlled by the Republic and not by this Government.

It is asserted that Mr. Cromwell got his stock in the electric company at practically no cost to himself. The company has become very prosperous since the American occupation of the canal zone and pays handsome dividends to its stockholders.

REASONABLE FRANCHISE TAXATION.

Mayor Wells' expressed determination to enforce the payment of the mill-a-passenger-tax by the United Railways, or to obtain an equivalent is gratifying. With determination on the part of the municipality the United Railways must eventually pay up. The method of enforcing the payment is a legal question to be decided by the City Counselor.

The tax is fair and if the company had accepted it as a reasonable tax for its invaluable privilege of using the streets it would not now be facing the necessity of paying a huge sum in one installment. The reasonableness of this form of taxation lies in the fact that, like a percentage of the earnings, it is only paid upon fares actually received by the company. One-tenth of a cent for each fare is easy. It is far less than the privileges enjoyed by the company and capitalized into millions of stocks and bonds is worth.

The Mayor said significantly that the company would prefer paying the tax to 3-cent fares. Three-cent fares would be better for the people of the city—the reduced rate would mean more to individual citizens. The company will not hesitate between reduced fares and a 1-mill tax. If it persistently fights all reasonable taxes and regulations it is likely to have to bear both reduced rates and the tax.

The Post-Dispatch indicated Tuesday what the $1,132,000 now due the city would accomplish in the way of erecting needed buildings and purchasing parks. It would purchase the Fair Grounds and leave nearly $400,000 over for municipal buildings. This tax illustrates what can be done by insisting upon fair compensation for franchise privileges.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon will probably use angelic language if he is again installed as Czar of the House, with his legislative pal, "Sunny Jim," running the Senate.

SOMETHING NEW IN FINANCE.

Mrs. Anna Kyle, wife of ex-Senator Kyle of South Dakota has pushed the art and science of finance beyond the point reached by the great lords of money.

They turn out wind and water and sell the aqueous and aerial securities to a believing multitude. By these schemes they "made" large fortunes. But Mrs. Kyle capitalizes her inspiration. She has visions of electrical and mechanical novelties and is turning them into cash in a most unmystical fashion.

This is a distinct advance. We have wind, water, and now, visions. There is nothing left for the masters of high finance but to capitalize the mental product of all the lunatic asylums in the country. The amount of money to be "made" in this line is measured by the expansive breadth of lunatic visions, which is practically immeasurable. Mrs. Kyle points the way to a wonderful development of the resources of the country.

The Republican party in Illinois seems to be hard put to it for campaign collections, as indicated by the bank robbery at Hurst.

AN OPENING FOR HENRY JAMES.

They are looking for the party who perpetrated that Cleveland-Taft article. The New York grand jury has something for him.

This looks like a good opening for some striving young man with a literary ambition but no style. Let him go and confess to the authorship of the piece in question, and he will become a nine days' or a three weeks' wonder.

We trust that this will be a sufficient hint to Henry James. Henry has never enjoyed any real live popularity, like Upton Sinclair for example, while even in cultured Boston Thomas Lawson has him literally beaten to a whisper.

Henry's style is prolix and involved enough to render his confession of authorship in this case extremely plausible. The hoax reads enough like Henry's to be his very own. In fact a good many people will strongly suspect him when they come to reflect upon the obvious verisimilitude to which we direct attention.

Some of our most widely known authors got their start by confessing to a hoax. We do not refer, of course, to the literary reputations achieved by common or garden forgery, but to the more polite, if more venal, offenses. In early days, it will be remembered, Bunyan and Defoe obtained enduring fame while they were serving out jail sentences. By pleading guilty to a literary crime and going to jail Henry James might take his place among the six best-sellers.

But, whether or no, he would fulfill a poetic justice. Somebody ought to be put in jail for the execrable, the heinous, literary crime, the felonious involvements, turgidities, tortuosities and tangles of style and the nefarious and treacherous obscurities of meaning, perpetrated under another's name. Somebody ought to be punished for it, we say, and upon whom could justice fall more fittingly than upon James—James the Pen[illegible]? Why not punish him on general prin[illegible]

[illegible], the more we think of the startling [illegible] of the exhibits of style in the case the [illegible] convinced that it is incumbent upon [illegible] plead guilty or prove an alibi.

MR. COWHERD'S DANGER.

Mr. Cowherd ought to consider earnestly his responsibility as the first gubernatorial candidate of the Democratic party since the triumph of the reform element with its progressive policies over the old discredited party machine, with its corporation alliances.

If Mr. Cowherd fails to convince the people that the triumph of reform was a complete triumph and that the party now represents progressive reform policies; if he fails to make it clear that he himself stands for progressive, not reactionary, policies; if he fails to assure the people that he repudiates all of his party's dark record of corrupt bossism, boodleism, lobbyism and force and fraud in elections; if he fails to offer fair guarantees that the men who betrayed the people and wrecked the Democratic party organization will not be returned to power; if he fails to identify himself as the party's standard bearer with the forces of reform and progress; if he fails to range the party on the right side of the vital State issues, he will be held accountable for the consequences. If disaster comes to the party his will be the fault.

The Democratic opportunity in Missouri is manifest. The record of the Folk administration is the best asset the party has. It stands in the popular mind for law enforcement and progressive legislation in the interest of the people. It stands for the reform of the evils which had grown up under the old Stone-Cook-Seibert Democratic machine's long lease of power.

The issue is clear and only required grasping to assure an overwhelming Democratic victory in the State. That there is any doubt of the outcome of the election is due alone to the confusion of the people with regard to Mr. Cowherd's attitude as to the issue.

Mr. Hadley was quick to comprehend the situation and to seize the opportunity. His chief strength lies in his work as a part of the Folk reform administration, and his plea that he represents its progressive policies and will continue them. His hope of election lies in his effort to convince Democrats that he and not Mr. Cowherd will carry out sound Democratic policies in the State Government, and that Mr. Cowherd is allied with the reactionary elements of the Democratic party.

If Mr. Cowherd permits Mr. Hadley to seize the assets of his party, to change the confusion of the public mind into a conviction that Hadley is a better representative of the new Democracy than Cowherd, the result will be chargeable to Mr. Cowherd's own failure to meet his responsibility and grasp his opportunity. Mr. Cowherd is in danger.

It was James S. Sherman, the Republican nominee for Vice-President, who forced change from "common carrier" in the railroad rate bill to "railroad company," in order to save the pipeline monopoly of the Standard Oil Co.

NATURAL GAS A PROVED SUCCESS.

The Post-Dispatch has shown that natural gas is a thorough practical success by the statements of the Mayors of a dozen cities where it has been long in use.

The price for illuminant in these cities is 20, 25, 28, 30 and 35 cents. In some cases it is supplied as low as 10 cents for manufacturing purposes. It is considered superior to manufactured gas in each case, and generally satisfactory for illuminating or fuel purposes, although it cannot be used profitably in large manufacturing plants unless special low rates are offered.

In view of the complete experience and demonstration of its utility and economy, why should St. Louis forego the advantages of natural gas? Why should efforts to obtain a franchise be blocked in view of the fact that natural gas can be piped to St. Louis and the fact that the source whence it is proposed to pipe it is inexhaustible?

The franchise should be let promptly and let to the men offering the best rates and terms; disposed of simply according to competition among competent seekers in good faith.

For the House of Delegates to withhold and delay, or deny, a franchise in the circumstances and in the face of the known facts amounts to betrayal of the city.

Mrs. Everett W. Pattison intimates that St. Louis is shy on taste for art and sadly in need of culture. Let us admit this and also freely recognize the value of criticism and censure from the lecture viewpoint. In the long run, however, our esthetic progress would seem to depend more on the silent work and influence of the real artists.

RULER OR HIRED MAN.

Mr. Bryan's semi-serious reference to the President of the United States as the "hired man" gives great pain to would-be decorous souls, but it is in fact a correct description of the President as a cog in the machine of constitutional government.

Secretary of War Wright declares that such statements do but "tickle the groundlings, but make the judicious grieve." And he adds, with the petulance of a school girl when she says, "Now there," that the President is "the chief ruler of the people."

Mr. Wright was ruler of the Filipinos a few years ago, and it may be the President is chief ruler of that subject people, since they have no constitutional protections. But in this country the President is not a ruler of anybody—often not even of himself. The people in convention assembled laid down certain rules and regulations which should govern them in all their public relations. Then they appointed, employed, or, as Mr. Bryan puts it, hired a President, a Congress and a court to superintend the workings of these rules and regulations and to see that all citizens conformed thereto. They have no personal discretion in the matter whatever; their discretion is legal and official, which stamps them as servants, not masters or rulers.

The early presidents never thought or spoke of themselves as rulers or pretended to any authority not granted them in trust for a brief time. Strong men like Jackson chafed at the restraints of law and often tried to exercise personal discretion, but they never succeeded in breaking through the web of law which held them fast. President Buchanan characterized himself with scientific accuracy and correctness when he said he was "a public functionary."

Mr. Wright thinks it makes the judicious grieve to hear the President described as a "hired man." We should rather say that it makes the judicious grieve to see the Secretary of War take the matter so seriously. Mr. Bryan may be censurable for employing terms proper to the humblest relations of life to describe a public servant who embodies the whole public energy of the nation. Such an officer is invested with a borrowed dignity, even majesty, a reflection, so to say, of the dignity and majesty of the nation. It may be more seemly to employ corresponding terms to describe him. But be that as it may, the cold fact is that the President is our hired man, our chief hired man, and not our ruler. However the question of taste and of words may be decided, we must admit that Mr. Bryan tells the homely truth.

The New York Ice Trust carried its "good will" on the books at $30,000,000. This is too much by $29,999,999.70.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Wandering Husbands and Wives.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Referring to recent letter from M. C. P., must say I can fully sympathize with him, as I have a husband who is very fond of outside amusement and spends every night of the week seeking same. I love a quiet home life, and it seems strange indeed to me that a wife should choose the society of others when she has a husband so willing to remain at home with her.

Hats Off in Nickelodeons.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I notice in all nickelodeons placards: "Gentlemen, Please Remove Your Hats." The placards should read: "All Remove Hats," as the ladies' hats are more cumbersome than the gentlemen's are. Ladies should be compelled to remove their hats. BELLE.

The Folk-Stone Issue.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Allow me to commend your position relative to the Folk-Stone issue. Your reasons for opposing the latter are very strong, clear and, in my judgment, put the matter beyond all controversy, clinching your arguments, thus: "Folk is incomparably the man for United States Senator." Again, I commend your editorials on the gubernatorial contest: "Mr. Cowherd's Warning," "On Which Side, Mr. Cowherd?" and "Mr. Cowherd's Responsibility." Some lifelong Democrats cannot vote for one who refuses to "make clear to the people that he is not dominated by unworthy men or malign influences." Echo answers. "Where does Mr. Cowherd stand as to these vital issues raised by Democratic reform elements?" The men who fought Folk are practically all for Cowherd. Significant, very! RURIS MERCATOR.

Missouri Whiskers.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Those stupid Eastern papers are telling of a Scotchman whose beard is the "longest in the world." It is only ten feet. I should feel humiliated if the longest beard in Missouri were no longer than that. Pass on, Sandy. MISSOURI.

Murder Machines.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The fenders which are now on the cars are nothing else than murder machines. They are no good, and with a trifle expense the car company can have other fenders and no child would be killed after that because the new fender picks up the victim who does fall before the car and will be saved positively. If the car company would do a very good thing for humanity then it must take without delay the new fender, which spares the life of the victims, and I will cheerfully tell the car company how this fender must be made. JOHN OUDENDYKE.

The War of Schools.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In your magazine section of Oct. 18, Dr. F. W. Abenken goes on record by saying "That Osteopathy is nine-tenths imagination and perhaps one-tenth of good performance. I am not a professional man and therefore would like to ask the doctor if as much can be said in regard to allopathy? It appears to me like the "pot calling the kettle black." The forces of nature that brought us into this world are surely able to sustain us. We are 90 per cent sick through fear and wrong living. One thing that can be said of osteopathy and that is that they do not fill one full of poisonous drugs and chemicals to keep up an explosion in our system, therefore if they do no good, they certainly do no harm. Get Ready for the Bridge.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

You all know there is to be a McKinley bridge, and it is supposed to be completed February, 1910. Why cannot the real estate men of St. Louis build three-room, steam-heated flats or apartments near the McKinley line and be ready for us East Side people who wish to live in St. Louis? This is written in all sincerity. MRS. GEORGE HENRY.

EVANS IN THE ANANIAS CLUB.

Rear Admiral Evans in Hampton's Broadway Magazine.

As I passed over the gangway, I was met by the President and greeted by him in his usual hearty and courteous manner. For the first time I was authorized by the President to say to the officers and men of the fleet that after a stay of a few months in the Pacific the fleet would return to an Atlantic port via the Suez Canal.

This message was conveyed to them by signal the first night out, and announced to the officers at the ward room dinner. One of the newspaper men sent the message to his paper by wireless and it was published the following morning. Afterwards I saw that Mr. Loeb had promptly denied that the President ever authorized any such statement. Mr. Loeb is undoubtedly one of the best men who ever served as Secretary to a President, but I am sure I could keep him busy for a long time denying things if I published everything the President has said to me.

THE ROOSEVELT DEFENSE.

From the Springfield Republican.

It is simple common sense to say that a political party, responsible for government, should no more accept or seek financial favors from such a corporation as the Standard Oil Co. than a senator of the United States should. For the party bears immensely more responsibility to the people than any one senator. To maintain that subsequent good acts justify the acceptance of such favors is as absurd in the one case as in the other. We cannot condemn Mr. Foraker without condemning also the Republican party as represented by its managers in the campaign of 1904. This is the reason why one may cherish the hope that Mr. Parker's specific and detailed charge may be met with a much more definite and positive refutation than it has met hitherto.

sur: I see by the papurs that another naturel gas company is born evry minute, that yore street railway cumpany has got to pay the city $1,132,000 back tax, and that the people of St. Louis don't like paying when they entur any more than they liked paying when diskuvered.

In other wurds, mr Begs, owning a big city is what Generul Shermun sed war wuz. You take an old man's advice—it ain't worth it. Evry time the papur cums out its got something in it about sum new kind of devilment cooked up for you. Lawyurs, honest people—evry blamed man, wuman and child in town is laying awake nites trying to think up sumthing to keep you frum sleeping or drawing any divvydends.

I have nevur seen you, Mr. begs, but I know what you look like. You're grayer than Jack Frost, and I could wash a shirt on yore forehead. It is all a matter of editing—accrediting a curse
Or an oath to Uncle Joe, we're discovering—heigho!
It is all a matter of latitude—and attitude perverse—
If you bear the man no grudge,
What he said was only "Fudge!"
Or not liking him too well,
What our Uncle said was "Hell!"

Was he madder than a hatter?—It's a matter for dispute:
If your faith is Democratic, he was overly emphatic—
But with Joseph's party wed, what he said was only cute—
Fighting with him hand and hoof,
What he said was only "Poof!"
Or regarding him a sham,
What our Uncle said was "Damn!"

It's a matter of revering—not of hearing him—nay, nay!
He never cuts his capers in his faithful party papers—
But is always beatific—quite pacific—so they say:
It's the other kind that tell
When he stoops to saying "Hell!"
And his own are like a clam
When our Uncle uses "Damn!"

JACKSON.—Buffalo Bill's show, [illegible]ing, N. M., Oct. 23; El Paso, Tex., Oct. 24.

WILL.—There is no way to stop your growing. Think how short people will envy you.

M. J. L.—Parks sometimes give flowers to the city institutions; at no time to the public.

F.—For Halloween games see Answers Oct. 4, and Oct. 18. For Halloween menu Oct. 9.

W. A. S.—United States per capita, $35.35; United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland in 1904, $17.58.

INNOCENCE.—Neither kiss a boy nor sit in his lap. Only persons engaged are entitled to kisses.

ED P.—At Board of Education, 911 Locust, get free circular with full information in regard to night schools.

A. D.—Write or visit the lodging houses. We have no time for the collection of such information as you ask.

JACK.—Developing by practice the muscles of the shoulder and forearm will give you speed in throwing a ball.

P. R.—Gen. W. T. Sherman died in New York Feb. 14, 1891. His body was brought to St. Louis and interred in Calvary Cemetery, Feb. 20.

FLORENCE.—Oily skin: Wash it in hot water in which there is a little borax powder mixed. Put a teaspoon of the powder in a pint of hot water.

ALBERT.—If bidder was 8 and bid 3 and made 3 he went out. If he bid less than three and the other player, being 10, had either high, low, or Jack, he went out.

MAY.—Oily hair: Shampoo every fortnight with plain white soap (one of the floating soaps) and warm water. Add teaspoon of soda to rinsing water and rinse through two clear waters.

OSCAR.—It may be only natural. If it is anything more any respectable physician will probably advise you. Don't listen to talk of great danger, etc. Purity and industry are the prescription.

P. D.—Farm laborer in the South, paid by the month or year and fed and supported by the landowner, 35 to 40 cents a day during working season. Negroes own or operate 746,715 farms in the United States.

FIRST TIME.—Name of President on the ticket would mean nothing. You don't vote for President; you vote for the electors and they elect him. You would be laughed at if you were to write Bryan or Taft on your ticket.

ALTON.—To put photo on glass paper weights so as not to show dauby use gelatin-coated paper, squeegeed. This paper, when wet, will always stick to glass. Photos may be pasted on glass with ordinary photo paste, made thin.

K. Q. S.—After dancing, you need only accept his thanks with a bow and smile, adding, if you choose, "that was indeed a delightful waltz," or "I think our steps accord very well." As to his asking to accompany you home, simply answer yes, or that you have another engagement.

IRA.—Your nervousness seems to be a bad habit that might be overcome by persistent exercise of the will. Resolve to do everything slowly; pay no attention to any sort of noises; get eight hours' sleep; let nothing whatever trouble you. "Let the wide world wag as it will." Mental habits are very important.

R.—Usually under time payment chattel mortgages when any installment falls due and remains unpaid for a certain specified time mortgagor can enter premises and sell the furniture as provided therein. Law does not compel mortgagor to extend time of payment in event of sickness or misfortune of mortgagee. Conditions of mortgage must be complied with.

IGNORANT.—Elder blow wine: One quart blossoms picked from stems; steep in gallon water two hours. Add two gallons more water, one yeast cake, nine pounds white sugar. Put in jar and keep covered; stir four times a day nine days, then strain and add three pounds white raisins. Cork tight; let stand six weeks, then draw off, filter through a flannel and bottle.

BIBLE.—We thank you for your criticism. The statement was copied from an authority supposed to be correct. After searching a number of Bibles we find nowhere in Genesis this passage: "And Isaac brought forth the milk of the goat, cool with the snow of the mountain, and said to Abraham, 'Eat and drink for the sun is hot, that thou mayest be cool.'"

DEACON.—A balloon ascends from any point in America to a stationary point in atmosphere for 12 hours. The earth makes one complete revolution every 24 hours. In 12 hours it would revolve one-half around. The balloon descends at the expiration of the 12 hours and alights at the point of ascension when the earth has moved half way round. It alights at place of ascension because the air revolves with the earth.

EX "N." "S." SOLDIER.—Our great fleet left Hampton Roads, Va., Dec. 16, 1907. Now at Yokohoma, Japan. From Japan it will coast along China, back to Manila, where it will lay up for repairs and overhauling. when this has been done, it will start west around India, making several stops, through the Arabian Gulf, Red Sea, Suez Canal, Mediterranean Sea, Straits of Gibraltar, across the Atlantic and is due to arrive at Atlantic ports Feb. 22, 1909.

C. M. C.—A baby's outfit for the first three months: Three small shirts; three bands with straps over shoulders; four flannel strips for bands for the first four weeks; six or eight plain slips for day and four for night, not too long; six long white skirts; four flannel skirts; four sacques; two wrappers; cap and coat; mittens without thumbs for a winter baby; three pairs of bootees; toilet articles, etc. There must, of course, be a sufficient provision of napkins—five or six dozen. Quilted covers for the bed, and squares of flannel bound with ribbon to wrap the baby in, will prove useful; also a small down pillow and covers.

NORA.—Where only a few plants are infested with lice, the hot-water remedy is a convenient one. Cover the top of the pot with cloth to prevent the soil from coming out, and immerse the entire plant in water heated to 1[illegible] degrees. Let it stay in the hot bath two seconds; remove for a minute; then invert, and return to the hot water a second and a third time, as before. This seems like rough treatment, yet, if directions are followed explicitly, it will not injure the plant. Or they may be destroyed by tobacco smoke; should be applied as soon as they appear. As a preventive, greenhouses should be fumigated once or twice a week if found troublesome. Kerosene emulsion and whale oil soap are also quite effective.

Great Love Stories of History

Retold for the Post-Dispatch,

By Albert Payson Terhune.

NO. 44—NAPOLEON AND EUGENIE.

THE love story of Napoleon III and Eugenie de Montijo has been called by some Frenchmen "the romance of an adventurer and an adventuress." For though the latter term is too harsh to apply (in its worst sense) to Eugenie, yet Napoleon III merited the title of adventurer—and far worse.

AN EMPEROR IN NEW JERSEY.

When Napoleon the Great (Napoleon I) was crushed and the old Bourbon monarchy once more swayed France, there was a strong party that still clamored for the restoration of the Bonapartes. Napoleon's next of kin, in succession, was his nephew, Louis Napoleon, known later as Napoleon III, and nicknamed by his foes as "Napoleon the Little." He was a sensationalist, a mountebank, a charlatan, a man whose word could never be relied on. Time and time again, as a young man, he made ridiculously useless efforts to persuade France to accept him as its ruler. He was laughed at as a failure and twice was thrown into jail. Later he escaped to England, where he was at one time so poor that he was glad to accept a job as special policeman. He crossed to America, taught school in New Jersey and got into trouble, near Bordentown, N. J., for shooting a farmer's little pig which he mistook for a rabbit. At last he was allowed to return to France. Elected to the National Assembly, he wriggled and schemed his way to the Presidency of the French Republic. Then, violating his oath as President and causing his guards to commit wholesale slaughter, he had himself declared Emperor, in 1852, under the title of Napoleon III. His Empire was built upon a tissue of lies and was soaked in the blood of innocent people. It could not endure. Napoleon III, when he looked about for a wife, quickly learned that other European rulers had no faith in him or in his Empire's permanency. For he could find no princess who would consent to marry him. It was about this time that he fell completely under Eugenie's influence.

Eugenie was the daughter of an impoverished Spanish nobleman and a Scotchwoman. She grew to be one of the most beautiful of women. Tall, graceful, gold-red of hair, dark of eye and classic of feature, she looked every inch a queen, although she had not a drop of royal blood in her veins. She wandered about Europe with her elder sister and her mother, leading a hand-to-mouth existence, shunned as a doubtful "Bohemian" by the more exclusive society of the various capitals. The elder sister married the Duke of Alba, but Eugenie remained single long past the age when most Spanish women marry. It has been said that she and her mother were watching Louis Napoleon's rise and were planning to share whatever success he might attain. When Louis had become Emperor he met Eugenie much more often than before and speedily found himself as madly in love with her as his sluggish, crafty temperament would permit. But Eugenie held him at arm's length. She had no intention of becoming a morganatic wife like Mrs. Fitzherbert. She meant to make herself Empress.

One day she was leaning from a balcony as the Emperor rode past. Seeing her there and wishing to join her on the balcony he called out:

"How can I reach you?"

"Through the church, only, Sire," was the girl's laughing retort.

At another time he placed a crown of flowers on her head.

"I would prefer a heavier crown than this," she suggested.

At court she was snubbed right and left. At length she came to the Emperor, in tears, declaring she could endure his courtiers' insults no longer and that she was going to leave Paris forever. This move brought Napoleon to terms. He asked her to marry him. Eugenie, well trained, referred him to her mother for consent. This consent, naturally, was easy to obtain; and Napoleon informed his Ministry of his approaching marriage. In disgust his advisers resigned. But, by specious arguments, he won the nation over to his views and in January, 1853, made Eugenie his wife and Empress of the French. She was 27; he 44. Other royal families avoided the couple, with the exception of Queen Victoria, whose friendship Eugenie soon won. The young Empress lifted her court to unequalled heights of gayety and set the fashions for all Europe. She also gave largely to charity and visited the plague hospitals. Before long she began to dabble in politics and to influence Napoleon to diplomatic blunders that led little by little to his final downfall.

DOWNFALL OF THE EMPIRE.

A son—Napoleon Eugene Louis (the "Prince Imperial")—was born to the couple. France rejoiced. But some historian observed that no French King's son, in more than two centuries, had lived to mount his father's throne. "Napoleon the Little" continued utterly under his wife's influence. Once (according to Malmesbury) when she was dangerously ill, "for fifteen hours the Emperor cried and sobbed without ceasing." The "Empress's Party" in 1870 brought on the disastrous war with Prussia, which cost Napoleon III his crown. The Empress called this conflict "My war." When the downfall came she at first thought to appease the furious Parisians by riding through the streets in black. But among all her 300 magnificent gowns not one black dress could be found. An American dentist, Dr. Evans, helped her escape to England, after the collapse of the empire. There her son and husband joined her. Napoleon died soon afterward, and in 1879 the Prince Imperial was killed in Zululand.

The aged ex-Empress lives on, lonely, heartbroken, in England, sometimes stealing back to Paris to gaze on the scene where once she reigned supreme, and where she is now all but forgotten.

HOW TO WRITE A LETTER

Rules Which Should Be Observed in All Polite Correspondence.

TO be able to write a well-bred, cordial note, and at the same time indicate reserve rather than overenthusiasm, is a necessary part of the social education of every girl. While she is still a child such formal correspondence as may arise is taken care of for her by her mother or her governess. This is, indeed, as it should be until a girl is 14 or 15 years old, but by that time she should be able to answer herself any invitations to lunches or other little festivities. It is only by so doing that she will gain a knowledge of easy and graceful phraseology, without stiffness.

Whether the answer being sent is an acceptance or regret, the note should be strictly confined to that topic. This is in the case of a formal invitation. If it has been an informal one, included in a news letter, the same lack of form would prevail in responding. The note or letter should begin by accepting or declining, and then the writer may go off to news topics, quite after the manner of the communication she received.

Nothing of this is good form, however, when the missive is merely the invitation. To answer that and add several gossipy sentences is, socially speaking, incorrect.

Small note paper, having the crest and address stamped at the top, is the proper thing, and any formal note should begin with the pronoun "My" before the name. That is to say "My Dear Mabel" instead of "Dear Mabel." According to etiquette in this country, "my" is more formal, though it is well to remember that precisely the contrary rule prevails in England and there the pronoun denotes informality. In signing such a note the writer should always use her full name, even though the friend whom she is inviting may be among her intimates who use her first name alone. The full name indicates formality.

If the invitation received is written in the third person, the answer must also be in the third. Should the girl accepting wish to ask any questions she may either afterward write an informal note in regard to them or go to see her friend.

When the answer to be written is in the third person it is considered better form that the front page shall contain it all. The rule for the placing of words in such a communication is rigid, for none shall be divided. To accomplish this quite successfully it may be necessary to leave a wide and irregular margin at the right side of the page, especially as the two names used in the answer must each begin a line. There is no difficulty in doing this with the first, but to so arrange the acceptance or regret that the second name, that of the hostess, shall be in the proper place is so difficult for a girl who has not done it many times that she will find it safer to make a copy, using paper of the exact size, and when she has properly fixed the spacing make a duplicate which will be without error. This may seem a trifling matter, but in point of fact it is important. Birth, breeding and class are indicated in just such apparent trifles and a girl is judged accordingly.

A formally phrased note written in the first person may go over to the last page without causing criticism, but even this should, if possible, be kept on the first.

According to the best usage at present, when it is necessary to turn to another page, the fourth should be chosen. This is true equally of a note or a letter, the theory being that it makes reading easier. In case of a letter the second page is written on after the fourth, the paper being so turned as to bring the lower part to the top, the writing continuing in this fashion over the third page, which, in this case, becomes the last. In a note no more than the first and fourth pages will be required, and when the envelope is thin so as to make writing legible through it, the paper is turned backward, folding the writing within.

YOU, BOY!

A Part of Your Biography Revealed to the Post-Dispatch

BY IVAN WHIN.

YOU remember your first ambition. A big man, scarlet face, ham-like feet, blue clothes, brass buttons and a helmet of gray felt, appeared suddenly on the vacant lot where you were playing ball. He grabbed Batty, who wriggled from his hand; he waddled after Nosey. All the gang yelled "Cop!" and at that word of fear you fled for a hundred yards. Then you turned and shouted opprobrium, tingling with daring, rocking on the balls of your feet in readiness for further flight, wondering if the "cop" would shoot.

He roared threats and you ran, dodged in alleys and climbed fences. Later you sneaked into the rendezvous back of Lambert's wagon shop and found Pete and Limpy calmly munching apples. Big Jake Lukenheimer dropped from a pile of lumber and Walt came whistling from the shop. Nosey, Batty, Morgan and Flynn arrived eventually and you sat around and talked the interminable talk of boyhood.

And all the while you were thinking about that policeman. You thought about his bulk, about his uniform—ah, the glitter of the brass buttons on blue cloth!—about his locust club and the revolver in the holstered right hip pocket. You thought most about his authority.

When big Jake told you to slide away home you had to slide away, because no boy in the gang was big as Big Jake. When Walt caught you by the collar and batted your ears because you yelled "Cry baby!" at Mamie Ellis there was naught to do but bear it. A feller didn't dare to even kick Walt's shins, for he was strong as Jake and just chain lightning. But Jake and Walt ran from the policeman. Their authority derived from excess of size over the other fellers was but a trifle when compared to the power of life and death possessed by a "cop." Why, even Pat Mahoney, who broke up Buddensick's saloon, was afraid of the "cop" and ran from him as the gang had done.

You said in your heart that you would be a "cop" when you grew up. You told Nosey about it, leaning against a pile of felloes, and Nosey said he was going to be a "cop," too. Walt overheard and said neither you nor Nosey could be "cops," because you were too spindling.

"A cop has got to be strong and know how to box," he said.

Then he made you and Nosey stand up opposite each other and shake hands and put up your dukes.

He wouldn't let you turn one fist over the other like a windmill; but showed you how to guard with your left arm and lead with your right.

Do you remember that Nosey hit you on the neck and it hurt so bad that you wanted to quit, but Big Jake said, "Cry baby!" softly, imitating your voice when you yelled at Mamie Ellis and you got mad and smashed Nosey on the nose and he got mad and tried to butt you with his head and Walt got hold of you both and shook the mad out of you and made you shake hands? As you shook hands the blood from Nosey's nose fell all over your hand and the sight of it made you sick.

Then Mrs. Knox, who lived next door to the wagon shop, looked out of her back window and set up a yell:

"Stop that fightin, you bad boys. Jake Lukenheimer, you ought to be ashamed, a big boy like you letting those little boys fight. Tim Murnane, I'm going right over and tell your mother on you."

Then Lambert came out of the shop and laughed at her. "Let them alone, Mrs. Knox," he said. "They're not fighting. They're just playing. Boys' play ain't like girls' play. Let them hit each other a little and they'll like each other better." And he whispered: "Get around back of the lumber, boys, and I'll come in a minute and see fair play."

While the gang vanished Lambert cajoled Mrs. Knox and presently he came around the lumber pile and asked:

"What's it all about, boys? Just a boxing lesson? Well, see here, it don't do to get mad when you're boxing or even when you're fighting. Keep your temper always and let the other fellow get mad. The madder he gets the quicker you whip him. Let him do the rushing and you dodge till he leaves an opening and then"—he struck a pine plank that leaned against the pile so forcibly that it splintered and broke in two.

Then Lambert showed you how to stand lightly, with the left foot slightly advanced and made you guard while he slapped lightly at your face, and your breast. Then he did the same for Nosey and then he stood you and Nosey up together, commanding Nosey to guard while you tried to touch him ABOVE THE BELT.

Have you ever struck anybody below the belt since? If you have, did you not see the horrified eyes of Lambert looking scorn at you?

Then Lambert made all the boys stand in a line, graded down from Big Jake at one end to Batty at the other and made them bend over, touching their toes with the tips of their fingers without bending their knees. Jake and Walt couldn't do it at first and you felt mighty big, doing something they couldn't do. And Lambert made all the boys stand erect, with their hands at their sides and then made each boy, in order, take two steps from the line, extend his arms, and, wriggling his fingers, turn his body from the waist first to right and then to the left and step back to the line.

And lots of stunts he put you through, stunts that he said would make you quick and strong. You went back to the yard day after day and begged him to "turn" you—that was the word you used to describe calisthenics because Lambert said those exercises were taught in the Turner schools. He even taught you dancing steps, which you would have scorned as girl-play had he not said that a man's muscles were developed and cultivated in the graceful movements of the dance.

Your one desire then was muscle, which was to be a stepping stone to the realization of your ambition. You would have gladly washed dishes and sewed a fine seam if Lambert had said those employments were essential to the development of muscle.

You found time to make friends with Crane, who was the "cop" in your neighborhood, and Kraft, who was his relief. You learned all about the organization of the Police Department: Chief, Captains, Lieutenants, Sergeants, patrolmen and probationers; how it was necessary to have the indorsement of the IT in your ward and stand in with your Delegate. That when they said you were all right you had to stand a physical examination (whisper—naked!) and if the slightest defect were discovered you were thrown out. And you had to be 5 feet 8 inches high at least and weigh 130 pounds at least. If you passed "the physical"—how often you went over your four-foot-ten slim body in front of a mirror looking for defects—you had to "go on the mental," which meant reading and writing and arithmetic and knowledge of the police manual. Crane told Sergt. Phillips about you and the Sergeant patted your head and told you your ambition was a worthy one.

The "mental" daunted you. It meant lots of school and you thought one of the great joys of being a policeman was getting away from school. Nevertheless you borrowed Crane's Police Manual and memorized pages and Crane examined you on your knowledge of the city.

"Quick now, where is the Southern Hotel? Yes, all right, Broadway and Walnut; but what else? No? Ye don't know? Well, Elm and Fort' streets. Ye have to go all around it, jest like jography."

So geography was a study in which a policeman must be proficient.

"Quick, now," Crane would say, "where is the Waldorf-Astoria?"

And you would look blank for you had never heard of the Waldorf-Astoria or the Eiffel Tower or the Washington Monument and it was a great relief when he asked you about the Four Courts and Forest Park, even if you did make mistakes.

You studied reading, writing, arithmetic and geography assiduously and almost drove father wild with your insatiable thirst for exact information.

How proud you were when Father said to Mother: "What a fine, upstanding lad he is. Here, feel of that muscle. Why, boy, you're hard all over and springy as steel."

And Mother said: "Just look at that last report from school, too. All A's. Miss Beeson says he's the most industrious pupil in her room."

Long, long ago that was. You fell from grace, of course. All boys do, but your record was fairly good. Things did not turn out exactly as you hoped. And your ambition changed. There was a period when you wanted to be a preacher or missionary. There was another period when you had designs on the presidency. But the most glorious period was when you were in training to be a policeman.

It all came back to you yesterday as you stood in front of your store and saw the police parade.

You choked up when you saw Capt. Philips go by looking proud and handsome. You remembered how you adored him when he patted your head.

And then you shouted, for side by each marched Nosey and Batty. They made the force while you are only a seller of goods, but you were generous and cheered them while the moody, staring crowd stared at you in wonder. Nosey and Batty heard you; a smile flickered about their lips, but they did not turn their heads. They were severely conscious of their dignity and kept eyes front, shoulders back and baton at salute.

They stuck to their early ambition. They were men of one idea. It is men of one idea who rule the world. You are a feeble sort of a shifter. You deserted, changed, turned your coat. You may grow rich, but you will never be a policeman.

How to Wash Cut Glass

It is best to use a wooden tub for washing cut glass, but if one is not at hand, pad the metal dish sink with soiled glass linen towels or any soft pieces of cotton. Wash the glass in warm suds, made by dissolving a teaspoonful of Gold Dust washing powder in a pan of warm water; use a soft brush to clean the surface rinse in water of the same temperature. After the glass has been carefully dried on glass linen, use a camel's hair brush to polish the cut surface. To clean the inside of water bottles, insert a very thin glass linen towel and force to all parts of the bottle with a wire holder that can be purchased at any five cent counter.

FALL FASHIONS.

Latest Ideas in Style Collected Especially for the Post-Dispatch by a Fashion Authority.

SOME of the new black lace robes have wide border effects at the bottom, in Oriental colorings and patterns. Among the white lace robes are tunic effects.

There is a very distinct Empire note in evening coats and capes, and, in consequence, they show the lines of the figure far more clearly than last season.

It is the latest idea to have a skirt of plaid with coat of plain material, or vice versa, or to have stripes combined with the plain instead of the plaid.

There is a distinct renaissance in silverware, and magnificent Colonial and old English table services are displayed by many of the great jewelry houses.

Some of the imported voile skirts have row after row of taffeta bands bordering the front and upright twin strappings of taffeta with braid ornamentation.

The width of the pleating around the bottom of the collar is now graduated, being greater at the back than in the shoulders, and sometimes attaining considerable dimensions in front.

Men's Formal Dress.

L'Homme Qui Sait, in Men's Wear.

IT has frequently been noted that we Americans are gradually becoming less and less formal in our dress. It seems to be one of the Signs of the Times. Frock coats are being worn less and less, except at the most formal of receptions. At the ordinary afternoon tea they are becoming quite rare. Nowadays one feels uncomfortably "endimanche" in a frock coat. With evening dress it is even worse. The average man is extraordinarily loath to don his formal evening attire in these days. The great majority of our men do not dress for dinner at all, except to change their linens, and it is always astonishing to find how many men there are who complacently appear at the theater or in the cafes in sack suits, those best-loved garments of the modern American.

There are, however, a great number of men who realize the impropriety of this, and while they are not willing to put on formal evening dress for the theater—so many of them for some unknown reason have never learned to be quite "comfortable" in a swallow-tail coat—yet they are willing to make a concession as far as "dressing" is concerned, so they put on a dinner jacket. It is safe to say that most men, now-a-days, like to wear a dinner jacket. They are extremely "becoming" to almost everyone and they are quite as comfortable as the sack coat and before everything else we like to be comfortable, we Americans.

At the moment there is a tremendous vogue for this neat form of "half-dress." Whether it is that the time of year—these between season days—is responsible for this great influx of "Tuxedoed" men at our theaters and in the restaurants after the play, remains to be seen. In mid-winter, perhaps, our men may become more formal, but, judging from the present trend, this seems very unlikely. There are so few of us, after all, who have either the time or the inclination to "dress" except on rare and absolutely formal occasion. The dinner jacket has evidently found a niche in the rush and hurry of our modern life and it will take more than the raised eyebrows and snubs of the Cognoscenti to dislodge it. Indeed, the dinner coat in the present stage of its evolution from a smoking jacket seems to be fast becoming an established fact in American dress. The fact that it is absolutely "incorrect" to wear one except on strictly "stag" occasions seems to make little difference any more. The dinner jacket has become a somewhat elaborate garment with a style of its own, and is no longer worn as an adjunct to the dress coat and to replace it temporarily in the house. It has become a thing apart and an indispensable part of the average man's wardrobe.

Population of Japan.

JAPAN'S present population is about 50,000,000. The exact figures for 1907 are not yet available, but the estimates just published are based on the average growth of the last 30 years, and may be taken as fairly accurate. To-day the estimate is that there are 49,267,744 native-born Japanese in the territory ruled over by the Mikado. Europe has 990, Australasia and the islands of the Pacific 70,000, and the United States 90,000.

In Memoriam.

In remembrance of George Bohn, entered into rest Sept. 21, 1907.

Sad and sudden was the call
For our friend George, liked by all.
We little thought that on that day
Our dear friend would be called away,
Where there is no pain or sorrow,
In one sent to eternal rest.

He is sadly missed by HIS FRIENDS.

"NOW IS THE TIME"

Last Sunday we advertised that we received several carloads of pianos, personally selected by Messrs. F. Beyer & Son, and that still more pianos were on the road. This week we received so many more that our warerooms are now practically overcrowded with pianos more beautiful than ever, and all guaranteed flawless. We secured them at very close cash prices, so that our patrons will get high-grade pianos at astonishingly low prices. Terms made to suit you. Come and let us prove our assertions to you. You'll not regret it. F. BEYER & SON, 17th and Locust. (83c)

REAL ESTATE AGENTS' REPORTS OF THEIR SALES

Three Flats for Norfolk Avenue.

Three single flats, to cost $12,500, are to be erected at once on the north side of Norfolk avenue, between Newstead and Taylor avenues. The site, 75x125 feet, was purchased yesterday by Gertrude Jansson from Hermie Schwarzkopf for $2000. Mrs. Schwarzkopf also bought yesterday the double flat at 1210-12 Jones street, lot 36x100, from Adolph Bosso, for $8500. The flats contain three rooms each and the building is two stories high, built of brick, modern in equipment. Louis C. Mollenhauer of the A. R. Schollmeyer Real Estate Co. and Simon Leder carried through the deals.

Buys Tract for Factory Sites.

The Mercantile Trust Co., in conjunction with N. S. Woods, sold yesterday a tract of land in the northwestern section of the city for $26,000, the purchaser being the Natural Bridge Road Realty Co. The property lies on both sides of the private road, between Goodfellow avenue and the right of way of the St. Louis Terminal Railway Co. The western tract fronts 672 feet on the north side of Natural Bridge road, 815 on the east line of Goodfellow avenue, 906 on the private road, and the rear is 829 feet. The other tract, also facing on Natural Bridge road, east of the private road, is irregularly shaped and contains 11¼ acres. The property was sold for Samuel Cupples, Samuel M. Kennard and Murray Carleton, trustees of the Barnes Hospital Association. Mr. Woods, who represented the purchaser, has not announced for what purpose the land was bought, but as the Terminal Railway right of way runs along the east end of it and the district is being exploited as a manufacturing center, it is believed that several factories will ultimately rise on the site.

Arsenal Street House Sold.

The Aiple & Hemmelmann Real Estate Co. reports this sale: 2205 Arsenal street, a two-story and mansard brick dwelling, arranged in two flats, with lot 27x121 feet, for John Feterlein to Maria Pree, for $3500.

Cottage Avenue Home Sold.

The George J. Wanstrath Real Estate Co. reports the sale yesterday of a one and one-half story brick cottage of five rooms, for George Emerson to Charles Siedentop, for $2300 cash. Purchased for a home.

Ridge Avenue Home Sold.

The C. M. McDonald Real Estate Co. yesterday closed the sale of the two and one-half story brick residence known as 5064 Ridge avenue, lot 32x130 to an alley, for Miss Mattie C. Johnson to Mrs. Elizabeth Droege. Mrs. Droege bought for a home.

Sold Lindell Place Lot.

James M. Franciscus & Co. report the sale of another lot fronting 35 feet on the north line of Ashland avenue, between Vandeventer and Warne avenues, for the Lindell Fair Grounds Realty and Investment Co. to Mrs. Mary Borgelt, who will improve same at once.

Irma Avenue Flat Sold.

The Chester A. Dougherty Real Estate Co. reports the sale of 1045 Irma avenue, a two-story brick flat building having three rooms and bath on each floor, on lot 25x110 feet, from Mary Theresa Taylor to a client.

Post-Dispatch's Complete Daily Record of Markets and Finance

STOCK MARKET AGAIN HIGHER AT THE CLOSE

General Weakness Prevailed in Final Hour; Sou. Pac. Very Active.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21, 10 a. m.—Advances were general in the stock market this morning. They were entirely fractional, however, in no instance reaching as much as a point. Among the industrials Lead and Smelting gained ⅜ each, Amalgamated ⅝, and the others from ⅛ to ⅜ point.

With few exceptions, gains in the rails division were confined to small fractions. These exceptions were Missouri Pacific, New York Central, Reading, Rock Island preferred, and the Harriman Pacifics, which advanced a large fraction each. Atchison was about the only stock to show a loss, being ⅛ below the close on its initial sale.

The market showed few changes at the end of the first half hour, but they were all in the direction of higher levels. The Hill stocks, St. Paul and Union Pacific, were at parity. Southern Pacific and Reading gained ½ each, and Rock Island preferred moved up ⅜ point. Amalgamated and Smelting were very active at unchanged prices.

The Harrimans, Northern Pacific and Reading, were the most active issues among the rails.

American securities in London were firm.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(12:30 p. m.)—Consolidated Gas and Northern Pacific were the only prominent stocks that registered declines during the forenoon, but their losses amounted to only a small fraction. Lead, the Steels, New York Central and Rock Island were unchanged. All the others recorded substantial gains, ranging from ¼ to 1½ points. The copper stocks averaged gains of about ⅜ and Pacific Mail advanced 1 point. St. Paul was sensationally strong, moving up over 3 points beyond its opening figures.

Great Northern, Illinois Central and Union Pacific advanced 1 point each, Reading gained 1¼, and Union Pacific 1½ points. Other rail issues moved up fractionally.

Trading was much livelier than usual, the total amount of shares sold to noon reaching 504,510.

WORTH $1 TO BE A WIDOW, IN THIS CASE AT ANY RATE

Relicts of Members of Unterstuetzungyerein to Attend Ball Free.

It is worth a dollar to be the widow of a member of the Unterstuetzungsverein of Alton. The widows will be a dollar ahead because they can attend the annual ball of the society without money and without price. All others who attend will be a dollar behind.

There are 200 of the widows and invitations have been sent to all of them. In addition to free tickets they will have special free entertainment provided for them.

The Unteretcetera of Alton was founded in the 30s. One of the pleasing customs is to keep green the memory of deceased members by having their widows present at the annual balls.

East St. Louis News

County Judge Hay of Belleville will conduct an inquiry into the sanity of Thomas McGrath at St. Mary's Hospital today, assisted by a medical commission. McGrath has been receiving treatment at the hospital for some time. Tuesday he walked away from the hospital unnoticed. He voluntarily returned to the institution Tuesday evening.

O. O. Larrence, secretary of the East St. Louis Branch Y. M. C. A., and Public Librarian J. Lyon Woodruff, delegates from East St. Louis, will leave this afternoon for Springfield to attend the annual State convention of the Young Men's Christian Association the rest of this week. They will make an effort to get the 1909 State convention for East St. Louis, and are backed by invitations extended by the Council, Commercial Club, Retail Merchants' Association and Sunday School Union.

A notification by the Official Board of the Henrietta Hospital Association to Miss Gertrude Kline, superintendent, that her salary would be reduced $10 per month, resulted in the resignation of Miss Kline Tuesday, to take effect Dec. 1. Mrs. E. N. Cushman of East St. Louis was appointed to a managerial position by the Board, which relieved Miss Cushman of some of her duties, resulting in the reduction in salary. Miss Kline had been receiving $75 per month and board.

Henry Wheatoff has filed a suit in the City Court against the St. Louis & Southwestern Railway for $1000 damages. He was struck by a passenger train at Twenty-first street and Piggott avenue July 8.

Frank H. Walls, 36, and Katherine Lynch, 24, of East St. Louis, got a marriage license in East St. Louis Tuesday.

William Norris has filed a suit in the City Court against the C., B. & Q. Railroad for $500 damages for injuries to a car load of horses consigned to the National Stockyards. The horses were shipped from Hamburg, Io., Jan. 20, 1908, and were injured in transit.

The body of Mrs. Martha Uhl, 43 years old, wife of Eugene Uhl, who died Tuesday afternoon of pneumonia at her home, Nineteenth street and Exchange avenue, will be taken to Indianapolis for burial.

Mrs. Annie Wies, 44 years old, wife of Edward Wies, manager of the Wies Bakery Co., died Tuesday evening at her home, 1701 St. Louis avenue. She is survived by her husband and daughter, Edna. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Murdock French has sued the St. Louis Transfer Co. for $5000 damages in the City Court. While working as a trucker for the Illinois Central Railroad, Sept. 25, a box fell and broke his left leg.

Prof. Samuel Cook of the East St. Louis High School entertained a party of his pupils Tuesday on a trip up the river in his new launch, the Nomad. In the party were H. Hodson, L. Sullivan, H. Guenther, C. Derioth, E. Eversall, F. McGlynn, C. Kenney and F. Smith and Prof. H. J. Alvis. The launch was built during the summer vacation by Profs. Cook and Alvis.

The people in this city who want the best housefurnishings on easy terms all go to Rhodes-Burford's. They know why.

Residences to Cost $130,000.

The deeds were recorded yesterday of the transfer of 280 feet on the southwest corner of Westminster place and Rosedale avenue, 120 feet on the north side of Kingsbury between Des Peres and Rosedale, and 80 feet on the south side of Kingsbury between Des Peres and Rosedale. The sale was made from the November Investment Co. to the A. A. Fischer Realty Co. for $24,940.

The Fischer Co. will erect on the property 13 residences to cost on an average $10,000 each. They will contain from eight to twelve rooms and be in keeping with the other improvements in Washington Heights. Work on these will be begun next month.

FUNERAL OF MRS. ELIOT HELD

Widow of Former Washington U. Chancellor at Rest.

The funeral of Mrs. Abby Adams Eliot, widow of the Rev. William Greenleaf Eliot, who died Tuesday at her home, 5440 Maple avenue, was conducted Wednesday afternoon. The burial was private.

Mrs. Eliot was 92 years old and had lived in St. Louis more than 70 years. Her husband was at one time chancellor of Washington University and president of the Board of Trustees. He died in 1887. Mrs. Eliot is survived by four sons and one daughter.

ISSUES OF THE UNITED RYS. CO FIRM ON 'CHANGE

The 4s Make a Better Showing Than on Tuesday.

Issues of the United Railways Co. held steady at Wednesday's session of the St. Louis Stock Exchange. The 4s were a shade firmer than on the preceding day. Although business was light, there was a good undertone to the market.

FINANCIAL ITEMS

Some of the largest international banking houses say that while we are at the gold export point, it is difficult to declare positively that gold will or will not go out this week, or even in the next week or two. There might be a disposition if gold were going to be shipped, to defer until after election such exports. If gold is exported in the near future, it will be sent out as a commodity, due to a desire on the part of foreign interests to get the precious metal even at a premium, to make assurance doubly sure in view of the foreign political complication.

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—Trading was quite active up to noon but after that the market quieted down and was dull the rest of the day. Prices which had been a little higher in the early trading fell off on the appearance of some good sized selling orders and, by early afternoon, some rather important losses had been recorded with the whole list sympathetically affected.

Old Dominion, which had been active and strong at first, lost nearly a point. Osceola declined a full point, while Granby sold down 2 points to 98. The exceptions to the rule were Calumet & Hecla and Atlantic, the former being up 5 and the latter 1. There was a movement started in Utah Apex just before noon which carried the price up a small fraction, but in the late trading the shares were dull, although the advance was well maintained. The general list remained quiet with but few important price changes. The most conspicuous issue was Boston & Maine, a break of 2 points to 120 attracting considerable attention. There was also a decline of 1½ in Fitchburg preferrred and of 1 in Boston & Albany. The balance of the lists was practically unchanged.

St. Louis Money Market.

In some instances there has probably been an increase in loans during the past week. For the most part, however, the St. Louis financial institutions, and particularly the large national banks, with possibly one exception, are carrying abnormally great cash balances. The transfers of currency to the interior have been surely nominal during the present week, while the demand for funds has also been extremely light.

Rates have remained at 4½ to 5 per cent for all periods up to 90 days. Commercial paper is 4½ to 4¾ per cent, and demand loans have been made at the first named quotation quite freely.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 21.

CATTLE—Few cattle on sale; market about steady with yesterday. Good butcher cattle in demand, with others draggy.

No.		Av.	Price.
12	steers	900	$4 20
8	steers	955	3 95
11	native cows	840	2 65
3	native cows	763	2 90
12	native heifers	986	2 90
5	native heifers	606	3 25

Cows and calves, $27 to $55; calves, $7.50.

HOGS—The hog market opened a little stronger this morning, but there were no choice kinds on sale. The close was 5c to 10c higher than yesterday's best time.

The medium grade and weight kinds sold at $5.25 to $5.55, which were bought by both butchers and packers. A few good hogs were held over, owing to commission men looking for a higher market. Pigs and lights, when good, met with an active market, but the common kinds are slow sale and not wanted at any price.

The range in the prices is still wide, owing to the scarcity of good hogs, which are in strong demand, and the heavy supply of the medium-weight and half-fat kinds.

WHEAT HIGHER IN LISTLESS MARKET

Foreign Damage Reports Chief Feature Restraining Selling, Which Is Main Support.

In a rather listless and featureless market, local wheat prices Wednesday were kept at levels somewhat higher than the previous closing, a scattered covering demand being sufficient, in view of the lack of pressure, to maintain moderate gains. Trading was light and almost entirely professional and the session in general lacked interest. The tone late in the day was strong and final prices were ⅜c to ⅞c higher for the day.

The early market was quite firm. Liverpool cables came ¼d to ⅜d higher at the start, which was considered a fair response and a good inquiry among shorts, as well as some replacing of long lines, were caused by confirmation of frost damage in Argentine and serious crop injury reports from Central Europe.

Heavy long profit taking followed the initial spurt and prices after brief opening firmness were depressed to the level of Tuesday's close on the beneficial rains in the winter belt, only to again range upward fractionally. Receipts in the Northwest were comparatively light as viewed by the recent very large movement, today's arrivals at the three large spring wheat markets being 1054, against 918 last year. The cash demand in the Northwest was again keen, with premiums quite strong and fair activity was claimed in the flour trade.

The export demand for wheat remains almost stagnant. Fairly liberal sales, mostly from Winnipeg, were noted late yesterday, but this morning there were few indications of a trading level being established. The local price movement, notwithstanding the indifferent trade, was nervous in a small range, with prices during the forenoon retaining small advances.

December wheat opened 1-16c higher at 98⅜c, sold at 98⅜c, advanced to 99c, fluctuated between 98⅞c and 99c, declined to 98⅝c, and advanced to 99@99⅛c. May wheat opened ⅜c higher at $1.02⅜, sagged to $1.02¼@1.02¼, advanced to $1.02⅝, sagged to $1.02⅜, and advanced to $1.02⅝. July wheat sold ½c higher at 95c.

Primary receipts of wheat were 1,250,304 bu, with shipments of 405,902 bu, and local receipts were 58,208 bu, with shipments of 26,010 bu.

There was a fair commission house trade in corn, and after ruling easy early in the day prices developed a rather steady tone. The circulation of crob fears as a result of threatened frost continues the principal supporting factor, but bulls in corn are becoming discouraged over the dullness of the trade in the cash article, and the virtual lack of exports. However, there was a better tone in cash corn today, and late advices were to the effect that farmers are beginning to refuse to sell at the lowered values. Cables on corn closed ¼d higher. Local futures closed steady, unchanged to ¼c lower for the day. Seaboard clearances of corn for the day were 550 bu.

Primary receipts of corn were 281,025 bu, with shipments of 122,533 bu, and local receipts were 6765 bu, with shipments of 8840 bu.

May oats sold unchanged at 48¼c, this being the extent of the day's transactions in the futures of that grain. Cash oats ruled weak and lower. Seaboard clearances of oats were none.

Primary receipts of oats were 634,083 bu, with shipments of 648,119 bu, and local receipts were 46,400 bu, with shipments of 21,110 bu.

FLOUR—Receipts, 11,320 bbls. Shipments, 12,660 bbls. Quote soft red winter—Patents, $4.65@4.90; straights, $4.45@4.55, and extra fancy, $4.20@4.30 in wood; fancy, $3.50@3.75 in jute; low grades, $3@3.25 in jute. Hard winter in jute sacks—patents, $4.30@4.60; straight, $4.15@4.25; clears and first bakers, $3.50@4.60, straight, $4.15@4.25; clears and first bakers, $3.50@3.85; low grades and second bakers, $3@3.30; spring patents, $4.90@$5 in jute.

HAY—Receipts, 975 tons local and 270 tons through. Shipments, 415 tons. Market steady on good hay, quiet on low and medium grades. Quote timothy, choice, $13@13.50; No. 1, $12@12.50; No. 2, $10@11.50; No. 3, $6.50@9; no grade, $3 to $5. Clover—Choice, $11.50@12; No. 1, $9@10; No. 2, $8@8.50; No. 3, $6@7. Clover, mixed—Choice, $11@12; No. 1, $9@10; No. 2, $7@8.50. Prairie hay—Choice, $10@11; No. 1, $9.50@10.50; No. 2, $7.50@8.50.

Berlin wheat closed 1¼c lower. Budapest wheat ⅝c higher on unfavorable weather in Hungary, and Antwerp wheat unchanged.

Chicago cash sales Tuesday were 25,000 bu wheat, 275,000 bu corn and 195,000 bu oats. Export sales in all positions were 320,000 bu wheat and 70,000 bu corn.

The cash market at Minneapolis was again strong, with No. 1 Northern 2¼c to 2½c over December and No. 2 Northern ½c over. Minneapolis stocks increased 1,000,000 bu for four days. Minneapolis cars were 427 against 346 last year, Duluth 196 against 209 last year and Winnipeg 429 against 353 last year.

Foreign damage reports were numerous, there being besides the Argentine complaints and those from Hungary, an official report showing that frosty weather in Prussia is damaging wheat already seeded. This, together with reported moderate export sales and the strong cash situation, caused considerable short covering and prices were bid up to further gains. The close was practically at the high point for the day. December wheat advanced to 99⅜@¼c and closed at 99⅜c. May wheat advanced to $1.03, closing at $1.02⅞ and July wheat was bid up to 95¼c. Cash wheat ruled firm under a good demand. Seaboard clearances of wheat and flour for the day were 328,000 bu.

LATEST LIVESTOCK NEWS.

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Ill., Oct. 21.—Estimated receipts today compare with a week and year ago as follows:

	Today.	Week ago.	Year ago.
Cattle	5,000	6,100	4,500
Hogs	6,000	11,300	5,400
Sheep	2,500	4,000	2,100
Horses and mules	300	210	275

NATIVE CATTLE—Around 3000 head arrived in the native division, but the quality was not as good as the past few days. The proportion of steers was fair, but most of the offerings were common and medium kinds, selling under $4.50. A load of yearlings sold up to $6.25, and a few other lots from $4.90 to $5.50. Trading was slow and draggy, but prices were about steady.

The same conditions governed the sale of butcher stock as prevailed in the beef steer department. A few good heifers sold at $5.50, bulls at $4, cows at $4.25 and calves at $7.

There was a pretty good supply of stockers and feeders, with a load of feeding steers selling at $3.90. There was a good demand for the medium-weight steers with quality, and they sold readily to countrymen, but the plain, rough lots went mostly to packer buyers at weak prices.

SOUTHERN CATTLE—There was nothing quite as toppy as the $4.65 cattle yesterday, included in the 2000 head received today, but the moderate supply sold rather actively, generally at steady prices, although some strong spots were shown.

Good Oklahoma steers sold at $4.15, with most of the medium and pretty good kinds selling from $3.45@3.85, cows and heifers at $2.25@3.25, mixed lots at $2@2.80, calves at $2@4.50, Arkansas steers at $3.50, mixed lots at $2.40@2.90 and calves at $1.75.

HOGS—The receipts were moderate and the quality rather poor, as good heavy hogs were again scarce. The market opened strong and 5@10c higher than yesterday morning the top of the market reaching $5.82½ for 258-pound hogs, while the bulk of the desirable grades sold at $5.30@5.65.

The first three hours the market was slow, but later there was more activity and prices were a shade better towards the close. Butchers and shippers bought good hogs at $5.60@5.82½, while the packers bought good mixed hogs at $5.40@5.65 and fair grades at $5@5.35. Pigs and lights were 10c lower, even the good ones showing the decline, while the poorer grades were almost unsaleable at any price. The market closed with the good hogs well cleand up, but a good many common pigs were held over.

SHEEP—The sheep supply was small and good fat lambs were hard to find, but there was a lot of common little trashy lambs and Western ewes on the market. The market was a little better than yesterday, the best lambs selling at $5@5.50, and choice ones would have sold up to $5.65 or possibly a little higher. A fair grade of lambs, a good many of which came from Southwest territory, sold at $4.50@4.90. Mutton sheep sold at $4.10@4.35; stockers, $2.50@3.50; common culls, $1@2.25, and bucks, $2.25@3.

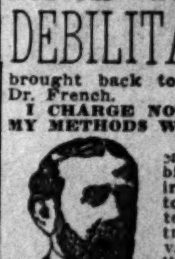
DEBILITATED MEN
brought back to their "old self"—Dr. French.
I CHARGE NOTHING TO PROVE MY METHODS WILL CURE YOU.



B. F. French, M. D.

Whatever the cause of Nervous Debility, its effects are irritation and injury to the nervous system, the urinary tract, the organs, varicose weakness—it is the loss of life's vitality that makes nervous, sluggish, despondent men, whether old or young, who lack strength.

If despairing men who have tried everything—medical company and institute specialists, "sick men medicine" and similar fakes—could talk to the many who are so thankful to me for making them proud of their existence, they would certainly see me at once, and get the benefit of so much that medical science affords them through a skilled scientific specialist.

$5 to $10 Is All I Charge for Curing Some Cases.

I GUARANTEE TREATMENT TO COST YOU NOTHING unless you are absolutely cured and satisfied, and I give you a written certificate to return every dollar you pay me.

FREE CONSULTATION, EXAMINATION.

Call or write for information before taking treatment, as you will find my charges lower and treatment quicker and better than elsewhere.

DEBS' MANAGER ARRANGING FOR HIS SPEECHES HERE

"Red Special" Will Arrive Friday and Band Will Make Music.

C. H. Parker, manager of Eugene Debs' "Red Special" train, and Seymour Stedman of Chicago are in St. Louis to arrange for the meetings at which the Socialist candidate for President will speak here Friday night.

The principal gathering will be at the First Regiment Armory, Grand and Manchester avenues, at 8 p. m. The "Red Special," with the candidate on board, will arrive at 5:55 p. m. The Red Special band, after playing at Union Station, will proceed to the Armory on a tally-ho.

Mr. Debs and his managers will go to the meeting place in automobiles. It is expected that several speeches will be made to overflow crowds.

FIRE WAKES YOUTH IN TIME TO SAVE FAMILY

His Mother Nearly Suffocated When Blaze Starts in Russell Avenue Grocery.

The family of Frank A. Sicking, sleeping in the apartments above Sicking's grocery and saloon, 1022 Russell avenue, had a narrow escape when fire started in the saloon at 1 a. m. Wednesday.

William Sicking, 19 years old, was first awakened by smoke in his room. He ran to the other rooms, waking his parents and brother and sister. They seized a few articles of clothing and ran down the back stairs. Mrs. Sicking was nearly suffocated.

The fire started in the corner of the store where the coal oil can was kept, but there was no explosion. The damage to the building was $100 and to the stock $150.

When You Buy Oysters Don't Pay for Water

Why should you get a pint of water with every quart of Oysters. Water is cheap—bloats and bleaches the oyster—spoils its natural flavor.

You have never known how good oysters can be unless you have had

"Sealshipt"

Oysters

They are shucked into air-tight steel cans and shipped direct from the beds—packed with ice around the container, not in contact with the oysters. You get all solid meats. And how fresh, wholesome, appetizing and deliciously different they are!

Ask for "Sealshipt Sense," a booklet containing new and attractive ways of preparing oysters.

If your dealer doesn't sell "Sealshipt," here are some who do:

Delmar Markets (611 N. Vandeventer av., 5343 Delmar av.); R. Schaerer, 4242 Olive st.; H. Otter Gro. Co., 4400 Laclede av.; Arcade Meat Market (Wm. Kupferer, prop.); Duvic & Crawford, 306 N. Gwinner, Boyle and Maryland avs.; Gill Bros. Gro. Co., 4647 Easton av.; Chas. G. Deibel, 799 Bayard av.; Hackman Bros., 3901 Russell av.; James Gallagher, Minerva and Academy avs.

Address inquiries to Charles Roese, 719 North Third st., St. Louis representative. Central 6538.

The genuine "Sealshipt" Oysters are always sold from a White Porcelain Display Case bearing the "Sealshipt" trade mark in blue. This is for your protection—look for it. The "Sealshipt" Carrier System is patented. Infringements will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

MISTAKES MADE BY WAITRESSES DUE TO DANCING

Girls Who Yell "Draw One" Enjoyed Their Annual Ball Tuesday Night.

GOT LITTLE SLUMBER

Blonde Tells Customer About Function While Attending to His Wants.

Did your waitress at the quick lunch bring you "one turned over" instead of "three on toast" today? If she did you shouldn't have glared at her like Speaker Cannon does when he sees a reporter. Because it was all because of the annual ball of the waitresses held Tuesday night and Wednesday morning at the West St. Louis Turner Hall, Beaumont and Morgan streets.

Five hundred waitresses and their escorts were there. They started dancing at 8 p. m. and kept it up until after 2 a. m. So all the downtown cafes, where they serve you lunch as if they were anxious to get rid of you, had slow service Wednesday noon.

"Oh, you wanted a sardine sandwich," said Sadie, the blue-eyed blonde at a Pine street lunch room as she brought a plate of milk toast. "I certainly am all in. Went to the ball last night.

Ball Was Real Thing.

"What, you didn't hear of it? Why, we had it advertised. Say, it was swell. You ought to have been there.

"What, some more butter? My, you have an appetite. But you ought to have seen us last night get away with the feed. Say, it was the real thing, all right.

"All of us girls in the club invited the other waitresses we knew—the right sort, the real swell girls. And then every girl got her fellow. Oh, yes, there was men there. A girl couldn't get in without one.

"I never danced so much in all my life. I like dancing, don't you? Yes, it does make you hot, but then it's good for the complexion. That's what Nellie says. Anyway, we all danced, all right, all right. Jim—no, I won't tell you his last name—he got tired near midnight and he was that sore when another gentleman friend of mine butted in.

Girls Tired of Eating.

"We had a simply gorgeous supper at midnight. Everything you wanted to eat. The men, they all ate twice as much as us girls. You see, we see so much of eating during the day, we get sort of tired of it.

"Then, there was fancy dancing for prizes. Jennie Madison, don't you know her? She's a queen, all right. Well, she and Art Cramer won the prize. A medal, yes, a gold one. Some of the girls was so jealous.

"After supper we danced again until I thought I would just drop. I didn't want to go home at all, but Jim, you know, works in a mill, and he has to be there at seven.

Wants Mistake Forgotten.

"Apple pie a la mode? You're on. Say, don't tell the manager about my bringing that sandwich. She don't like balls. But she ain't wise. There was some class to this one.

"And, say, you ought to have seen the committee. They was all dressed in white satin and they certainly made a hit. May Paskel, she was chairman, she looked fine and then there was Nacy Tolland and Mamie Jeffry and Della Brady. But I won't tell you what they looked like. The other girls might get sore."

SINGERS DROWN NOISE OF BURGLARS WHO GOT NOTHING

Hardware Dealer Foils Attempted Robbery by Barricading Entrance From Basement.

Roisterers, singing at 3 a. m. Wednesday, in front of the hardware store of F. H. Springmeyer, 2544 St. Louis avenue, kept the proprietor, who lives above the store, from hearing the noise made by burglars who filed off the lock of the basement door.

Whether the merrymakers were in collusion with the burglars, Springmeyer cannot be sure, but he thinks they were. The last time burglars tried to get into his place he heard them and chased them out.

All that saved his stock of revolvers and cutlery in Wednesday's raid was the inability of the burglars to get from the basement to the first floor. They hammered in vain on the doorway, which was barricaded by a log, in addition to locks and bolts, and finally abandoned the attempt.

In the basement the intruders had some bad falls over a loose collection of hoes and rakes, to judge from the position in which the garden implements were found. They also fell over a wheelbarrow or two.

C. E. DAVIS IS ARRAIGNED ON CHARGE OF KILLING RUSTIN

Released on $10,000 Bail Furnished by Brothers After Pleading Not Guilty.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 21.—Charles E. Davis was arraigned here to day in the District Court before Judge Sears, charged with murder in the first degree in connection with the sensational death of Dr. Fred K. Rustin last month. Davis, who appeared in court accompanied only by his attorney, pleaded not guilty and was released on bail of $10,000, which was furnished by his brothers. The trial will take place in November.

GUEST ROCKED THE BABY AND ELOPED WITH SAVINGS

Chicago Acquaintance Dropped in "to Spend a Week, Then "Dropped Out" Again

It cost Mrs. Sophia Kaiser $65 to have her baby rocked to sleep, and the job wasn't half done at that.

She and her husband, George, were delighted when a man whom they had known in Chicago went to their home, 1029 High street, to "spend a week."

He had been there four days when Mrs. Kaiser's savings eloped with him Tuesday afternoon.

"I'd like to go out to the store," said Mrs. Kaiser, "but I must put the baby to sleep first."

"Oh, I'll rock the little thing," said the guest.

When Mrs. Kaiser returned half an hour later the baby was still crying.

The guest was gone and so was her $65, which she had hidden in a preserving kettle.

Two Lectures on Physical Training.

The Physical Education Society of St. Louis and vicinity will hold its first meeting of the season at the Central Y. M. C. A. building, Grand and Franklin avenues, Saturday night. A. E. Kindervater, the president, will read a paper. Prof. Drake will lecture on "National Health and Science."

METHODIST FOREIGN MISSION COMMITTEE TO MEET HERE

Sessions Nov. 5 to 10 Will Be Followed by Organization of the Laymen's Movement.

The General Committee of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church will hold its annual meeting in St. Louis Nov. 5 to 10. The business sessions will be held in the Lindell Avenue Church, Newstead and Lindell.

Thursday evening, Nov. 5, Bishop Robert McIntyre of St. Paul will deliver his lecture on "Buttoned-up People" at the Lindell Avenue Church. Friday evening a reception will be tendered the visitors at Union Church, Garrison and Lucas avenues. Addresses will be made by Dr. Baxter P. Fullerton, moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, and Dr. S. H. Wainwright, Presiding Elder of the St. Louis District of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Dr. A. B. Leonard of New York City, secretary of the board, will make the response.

Saturday evening the Methodist Club of St. Louis will give a dinner at the Mercantile Club building. Murray Carleton will be toastmaster. Sunday at 3 p. m. mass meetings will be held at the Odeon and the Union Memorial Church, Twenty-eighth and Pine streets.

Following the adjournment of the committee, the laymen's missionary movement will organize and hold a two-days' session Nov. 10 and 11.

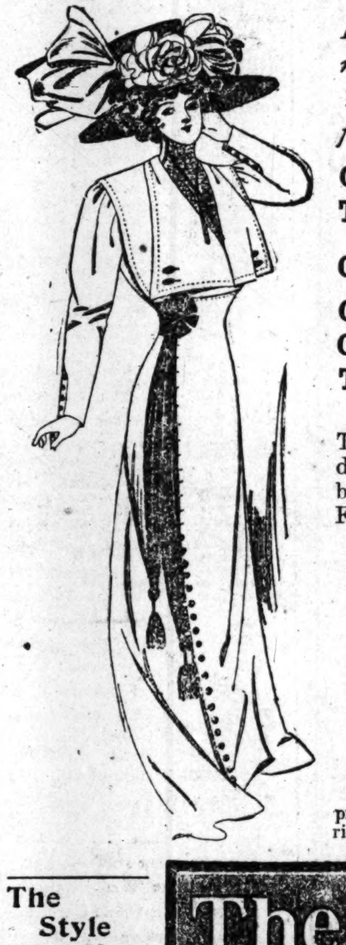
BURGLARS VISIT CAUSED WEDDING TO BE DEFERRED

Stole Not Only the License, but Money Saved for Wedding Trip.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 21.—Floyd M. Dunwoody, a clerk in a local wholesale establishment, and Miss Edyth M. Myers were married here today, after an enforced postponement of the wedding day of nearly a month.

Friends of Dunwoody and Miss Myers had been advised that they would be married Sept. 23, and the day before the bridegroom-elect got the license. That night a burglar entered his room and took, not only the marriage license, but $23 which Dunwoody had saved up for a wedding trip. He told his bride-to-be of his loss, and they decided to defer the nuptials until he saved more money.

Yesterday Dunwoody again presented himself at the County Recorder's office and a second license was issued to him. He expected that he would be required to pay for a duplicate, and was overjoyed when the Recorder told him there would be no further charge, since the first license had not been used.



An Extraordinary Sale of Stunning Costumes and Robes For the Horse Show

We make this remarkable offer tomorrow because it is an opportune time to emphasize to the Women of St. Louis that The Model's supremacy as a "Style Shop" applies just as forcibly in the distribution of the world's most fashionable costume productions as in other lines of ready-to-wear appareling. We realize these reductions are extreme, but we know also that they will accomplish our purpose.
